

JOURNAL STAFF WRITER SEES CHRISTMAS COMING

Pelican hotel in Klamath. He was selling stock, both live and oil! That is a busy town, Klamath Falls. It is the place where they have dam rows, road rows, court house rows, murder trials, scandal trials, hotel fires, garage fires, 'n everything. I had interesting visits at Ashland, Medford, Grants Pass, Roseburg and Eugene. I think I discovered five families of relatives on this trip.

Whom should I see at Eugent but Prince Glaze. He had his Ford loaded down with garden produce and looked like he had actually been working.

"Say," he says confidential-like, "I've discovered the way to make truck farming pay, and that is to save money. Whenever I come to town and see a tempting morsel in the window, I close my eyes, and go straight home and eat a carrot."

I have seen several Prineville people, Frank Foster, Ann and Hazel Sullivan came into the "L" cafeteria where I was dining in solitude the other evening. What Frank had to say about the cattle market, right before ladies, too, would not look polite in print. I went into a store to buy a "hanke" and O. C. Hyde handed it out just like he used to at home. "We're all going to get frod in this store, after the first of the year," he said. Hey there buy a few more Christmas Seals!

Did you folks notice a sort of wind-in-a-hurry kind of storm a week or so ago? Say, but it did stir up a rumpus down here! Talk about the sights you could see on any street corner! I saw more wrecked umbrellas, hats and dispositions than could be stored in Mier & Franks. I saw an umbrella and a ladies hat run a race up the Electric building—and the hat won by a feather.

I am sure that some place in these columns the Journal is wishing you a Merry Christmas, and if the editor doesn't see it, I am going to wish all my friends the same and lots of it—otherwise I may have to buy Christmas cards. Just send your presents to 1010 Selling Building.

McKAY ROAD NOW ON LIST OF MARKET ROADS

As a result of a meeting attended by those interested on McKay and the county court at lower McKay school house Saturday, it was decided to put the McKay road on the list of market roads for the county, and grade the entire road from this city to the Upper McKay school house next year, and gravel that part from the north end of the Pitcher lane to this city.

The east and west lane at the Pitcher ranch is also to be graveled by this market road fund.

PROMINENT EDUCATORS HERE FOR THE ANNUAL INSTITUTE.

Nearly every teacher in Crook county has been in Prineville for the last three days for the purpose of attending Crook County's annual Teachers' Institute. This years' program has been especially good, and the instructors who are in Prineville for the sessions are the best in state educational circles.

Those on the program for lectures and talks are J. A. Churchill, State Superintendent of Oregon, F. Berchtold, of the English Department of O. A. C., Earl Kilpatrick, Director of the Extension Division of the U. of O., Ida Mae Smith of Monmouth Normal, and H. M. Grant of the Oregon Social Hygiene Society.

LEGION WILL GIVE A CHRISTMAS BALL.

The American Legion will give a dance Xmas Eve at the Club hall and it is sure to be a complete success, as have been all other dances which the boys have sponsored. A large crowd is expected to attend, and a number of features are promised.

Relief.

"Helen came back from the seashore without a husband." "And was her father angry?" "Not at all. He was afraid she was going to bring home a husband for him to support."—Boston Transcript.

Wolsey's Grave.

Somewhere amidst the ruins of Leinster abbey, which the cart of Dysart has presented to Leicester, lies the dust of the great Cardinal Wolsey, but the site of his grave, like that of Moses, is unknown.

Speaking of Names.
We learn that a young woman of Detroit rejoices in or delectates the name of Eura Case, but speaking of singular monikers it would be pretty hard to beat that of a negro youngster in Alabama, Roguspatoff (Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.) Johnson.—Boston Transcript.
