LEGAL NOTICES

SUMMONS
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE STATE OF OREGON FOR CROOK COUNTY
Lillian Hogue, Plaintiff, vs
Fred A. Hogue, Defendant.
To Fred A. Hogue, the above named defendant:
IN THE NAME OF THE STATE OF OREGON, you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled court and cause on or before six weeks after the first publication of this summons, that is on or before the 25th day of February, 1921. And if you fail to so appear, or so answer, for want thereof the plaintiff will apply to the court for a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony between herself and you.
This summons is published by the order of HON. N. G. WALLACE, Judge of the County Court of Crook County, Oregon, said order having been made and entered on December 21st, 1920, by said county judge in the absence of Hon. T. E. J. Duffy, Judge of the Circuit Court above named.
Date of first publication, December 23, 1920.
Date of last publication, January 27, 1921.
JAY H. UPTON,
Attorney for the Plaintiff,
Address: Prineville, Oregon.

Rule of the Road.
There is some conflict of opinion about the rule of the road. In the matter of the walking public, the rule in England has always been "keep to the right." In France it has always been "keep to the left," and those who have spent the best part of the last five years on the continent have got into the way of keeping to the left. In driving this is reversed, and some difficulty was experienced by those who had been brought up upon the old adage, "When you go left you go right, and when you go right you go wrong," in driving.—Christian Science Monitor.

Your Eyebrows.
An eyebrow usually contains about three hundred hairs, and each eyelid is provided with about two hundred and ten lashes. The reason why an eyelash in the eye is so irritating is that, like other hairs, its surface is covered with minute scales.

Scared to Death.
Fear kills more than the knife. An autopsy revealed that David Grey of London, Eng., who died of anxiety because a doctor told him he had heart disease, had a healthier heart than most men and might have lived for 50 years.

What's in a Name?
At one time the people believed that the descendants of Judas Iscariot were living in Corfu, although those accused stoutly denied such ancestry. In Brazil an offspring of Judas is carried by the school boys to a ship where sailors hang it from the yard arm. In the Greek church at Smyrna once a year there is a ceremony at which a person is paid a great sum to impersonate Judas. Such is the feeling of the people that he who accepts this odious part is fabled to retain the name through life.—Boston Post.

Really Nothing New.
In Java is the great temple of Borobudor, temple of the many Buddhas, which was unearthened some years ago, and is known to have been built in the fifth century, and right near it is the lesser temple of Mendoot. Further north, in the Caroline islands, are the ruins of an ancient city whose streets were waterways just as those of Venice are today. So when visits are made to these virgin islands and one feels almost like a discoverer of new lands it is well to remember that there is nothing new, even under the tropical sun.—Exchange.

Digger and Filler.
A new trench-digging machine excavates in front of it and fills in behind as it proceeds along its tracks.
Penalty of Conceit.
Lots of failures can be traced to the belief that other people are not quite so smart as we are.—New Haven Register.

Food for Horses.
It has been demonstrated that seaweed, after the salt has been extracted by a specific process, forms excellent food for horses and that the animals evidently enjoy it.

Oldest Botanical Work.
The oldest botanical work in the world is in the palace or temple of Karnia Kat. Thebes in Egypt. It is sculptured on the walls and represents foreign plants brought to Egypt by the sovereign Thothmes III. after a campaign in Arabia. It shows the plant, flowers bud and fruit.

Instinct of Sheep Dog.
The Australian sheep dogs are the smallest in use in the world, but are quick and lively. One dog can do the work of half a dozen men; in many instances a dog is superior to 50 human beings, where there are vast flocks of sheep to watch.
