

OUTLOOK FOR SHEEP MEN OF CENTRAL OREGON NEVER SO PROMISING AS FOR THIS SEASON.

CIRCUIT COURT HAS A SHORT SESSION

The March term of Circuit court for Crook county took just one week, starting Monday and ending on Saturday.

Very few criminal cases came up for trial, the only one of importance, that of the state vs. J. P. Cross being decided in favor of the defendant. The defendant was charged with the larceny of a horse. In this case, the jury was out 24 hours before a verdict of not guilty was rendered.

STATE FARM WORK STARTED

Work has been in progress for the last week on the state farm, which was recently purchased from Mr and Mrs. L. D. Claypool, situated about two miles north of Prineville.

H. D. Scudder, superintendent of the Oregon State Land Settlement Commission, will be in Prineville early next week, to perfect plans for buildings and other work on this farm. It is expected to have the farm in thorough working order this season, and its development is being watched with great interest by numerous local people.

The Standard Oil Company has a new sign on top of their place of business. The lower part of the sign is three feet nine inches wide by 60 feet long, and the top sign is two feet six inches wide by 18 feet long. The lettering on this sign is "Prineville Standard Oil Co." The buildings of the company have recently been repainted and white-washed throughout, making one of the cleanest and neatest spots in the city.

SHUMIA MEETING AN IRISH ONE

The Shumia Club spent an Irish afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jay Upton last Tuesday.

Mrs. R. W. Rea gave sketches of Irish musicians and a number of Irish musical selections. Mrs. E. E. Evans told Irish folk lore, and Mrs. Guy Lafollette read a paper on "The Best Seller—The Bible." The roll was called, and each member answered with an Irish story.

The Happy Man.

That man is always happy who is in the presence of something which he cannot know to the full, which he is always going on to know. This is the necessary condition of a finite creature with divinely rooted and divinely directed intelligence; thus, therefore, its happy state—but observe, a state, not of triumph of joy in what it knows, but of joy rather in the continual discovery of new ignorance, continual self-abasement, continual astonishment.—Ruskin.

"Macaroni Verse."

This is a kind of humorous verse in which, with Latin as a base, words of other languages are introduced, using Latin inflections and constructions. The term was selected since it implies a mixture of languages—comparable with the mixture of ingredients found in a dish of macaroni. The name is sometimes applied to verses which are merely a mixture of Latin and the unadulterated vernacular of the writer. This type of verse has long been known in Italy.

Before the Speech.

Some orators start with a rush, others begin quite slowly. A speaker we know has the habit of striding meditatively across the stage once or twice before he begins his address. On one occasion we heard a lively young fellow in front of us whisper to his girl with reference to the peripatetic gentleman on the platform: "That, I suppose, is his preamble."—Boston Transcript.

Trivial Accident Brings Disaster.

The gypsy moth has caused a great deal of trouble in this country, and much money and energy have been spent in the effort to exterminate it. The trouble started when a French naturalist named Trouvelot, residing in the town of Malden, Mass., left a paper box containing gypsy moth eggs on a window ledge and it blew off. That was in the early eighties, and he was making experiments with various kinds of caterpillars as silk spinners.

Every Great Book.

Every great book is an action, and every great action is a book. All who would study with advantage in any art whatsoever, ought to betake themselves to the reading of some sure and certain books oftentimes over; for to read many books produceth confusion, rather than learning. Like as those who dwell everywhere are not anywhere at home.—Martin Luther.

"Soaked" Family Doctor.

After a Kentucky judge had fined his family doctor $50 and costs for speeding and had sentenced him to jail for three days, he went on to say: "You and I are friends. I am your lawyer and you are my doctor, but I am here to administer justice as I see fit. And you will serve that sentence in spite of our friendship or what any of our friends may do." Just wait until it comes Doc's turn to sit in judgment on that judge!

Precocious Youth.

The teacher asked: "Why do leaves turn red in autumn?" A small boy said: "Because they are blushing to think how green they were in summer!"

See-Hunting Profitable Business.

In the swamps of Florida the hunting of "bee trees" is a profitable business. Record of wild honey deposits of more than 900 pounds in hollow trees has been noted. The trees are located by hunters who follow the flight of the bees. It requires keen eyesight and a compass.

Early Savings Banks.

The first savings bank in America was opened in Boston 164 years ago, December 13, 1816. In the same year an institution called the Philadelphia Savings Fund society was established. The third institution of this kind in America was founded in New York in 1819. The first regular savings bank was established in Hamburg in 1778 and the second at Bern, Switzerland, in 1787. The oldest savings bank in the world is in Zurich, Switzerland, and is now in its one hundred and seventeenth year. The first regular savings bank in Great Britain was opened in Edinburgh 107 years ago.
