To Bore a Conical Hole Through Wood.

When you have a conical hole to bore, such as for a handle hole in a wooden maul or other similar piece, leave the cutter of an expensive auger bit a trifle loose and begin boring at the side where the smaller end of the hole is wanted. The inner edge of the cutter lip being angular, the cutter will gradually draw itself out from the body of the bit, making the hole larger as the bit goes into the wood.—Popular Science Monthly.
