ELBERT HUBBARD'S

IMMORTAL MASTERPIECE

"Little Journeys"

WHAT SOME CRITICS SAY

Elbert Hubbard's "Little Journeys" have given delight to tens of thousands. I shall always count myself his debtor for the wisdom and sense of his philosophy.

FRANKLIN K. LANE.

The greatest legacy Elbert Hubbard left to the world is his "Little Journeys to the Homes of the Great."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB.

Centuries may elapse before such a mind may appear again. His loss is a world wide calamity.

LUTHER BURBANK.

Elbert Hubbard's "Little Journeys" mark an epoch in literature.

BEN LINDSEY.

Elbert Hubbard's "Little Journeys"—The masterpiece of a master mind.

DR. FRANK CRANE.

There certainly was a thinker let loose when Elbert Hubbard was born. I certainly feel I am greatly indebted to him. It has been an inspiration to me for many years.

DR. ORISON SWETT MARDEN.

Elbert Hubbard stands today as America's ablest writer and "Little Journeys" his best work.

W. HOWE.

HOWE'S MONTHLY.

Elbert Hubbard is the greatest writer—vocabulary and range of ideas considered, that the world has ever seen, ancient or modern.

ROBERT BARR.

Hubbard was a mountain spirit, free, strong and utterly untrammelled in this very complicated world of ours. We can ill afford to lose his voice.

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.

I regard Elbert Hubbard's "Little Journeys" to the Homes of the Great as great masterpieces.

WILLIAM A. (BILLY) SUNDAY.

"Little Journeys" are a boon and a blessing to the busy man.

HENRY FORD.

I have read "Little Journeys" for fifteen years and—I still read "Little Journeys."

JULIUS ROSENWALD.

(President, Sears, Roebuck & Co.) "Little Journeys—I would not take $1,000 for the set if I could not get another."

STODDARD JESS.

—the chiefest loss of all was the drowning of the brilliant intellect of Elbert Hubbard. Neither the Atlantic Ocean, the Pacific nor all time can drown the work of this great mind.—"Loud and Peaceful he thy sleep, Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep."

REV. PHIL. C. BAIRD.

FRANK ROGERS

PRINEVILLE HOTEL, PHONE 91

Donald Graham left for Portland Thursday. He will spend the remainder of the month there visiting with friends.

Mrs. R. L. Schee returned Tuesday evening after two weeks visit in Tacoma, Colfax and other Washington cities.

George Wachter, brother of Mrs. G. A. Holmes, is visiting in town for a short time. He arrived the first of the week from Chicago.

Mrs. Lottie Richmond and son, sister of Mrs. Ben Groff, returned to Reedsport, Oregon, Monday evening after visiting for the past week.

Mrs. Anna Adams has moved out to her brothers ranch, Wm. Marks, where she will be the greater part of the time during the summer.

Lela Laughlin and Madge Rowell left Tuesday morning for Paulina where Miss Rowell will be a guest at the Laughlin home for a few days.

I. M. Mills and son, Ogden, of Beaver Creek arrived in town Tuesday. They returned Wednesday with Violet Mills who arrived from school in Portland Tuesday evening.

While Mother Thompson is spending her vacation, the Oregon Grill is being repainted inside and out and things around that part of town are beginning to take on a bright appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Asa W. Battles returned Sunday evening. They found the roads in good condition and the trip was made in a little over twelve hours.

W. F. Brown of Portland was a business visitor in Prineville Saturday. He had a number of pleasant remarks to make about the showing of the Crook County Irrigators while in Portland.

The evangelistic meetings are growing in interest and power. Mr. Marshall presents the great truths of the Bible without fear or favor. Every sermon is as entertaining as a chautauqua lecture with the added force of being backed by the most fundamental foundation. Prineville is fortunate to have an evangelist of this type. Those who are not availing themselves of the privilege of hearing him are the losers.

M. R. GALLAHER,

Miss Lola Morgan has left for her home at Independence. Before returning she will first visit with her brother at Kamas, Washington.

Mrs. L. M. Hodges and Stella Hodges returned Tuesday evening after visiting for a few weeks in Portland and Eugene.

LOOK INTO THE ROYCROFTERS

One of the late lamented Elbert Hubbard's closest friends is Mr. Frank Rogers, an interesting figure now stopping at the Prineville Hotel for a short visit.

Mr. Rogers is here, offering Elbert Hubbard's immortal work, "Little Journeys to the Homes of the Great" being a history of 182 of the world's greatest men and women, at a very reasonable price and for a limited period only. These beautifully bound Roycroft books are now within the reach of all, on exceptionally easy terms. A telephone call will bring Mr. Rogers to your door and whether you buy the books or not an intellectual treat awaits you. His description of Elbert Hubbard's last words to the Roycrofters is something that will cling to your memory for some time to come.

FRANK N. O'CONNOR DIES IN PORTLAND

Frank N. O'Connor, a former resident of this city, also an attorney in Madras at one time, who has been located in Portland for the past several years, died at his home there Sunday afternoon, June 12, at 6:00 P. M. His death resulted from pneumonia.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Iora O'Connor and a young son, Francis, who have the entire sympathy of the community. I. W. Ward of this city went to Portland upon receiving notice of his death.

WHAT THE EDITOR GOT

We seem to have completed one cycle of our newspaper existence. The old stories that were published when we first entered the game twenty years ago are again being reprinted as original. Here's one about the editors share of the money floating about that did good service many years ago:

A child was born in the neighborhood; the editor gave the loud lunged youngster and happy parents a send-off and gets $0.00. It is christened and the minister gets $5 and the editor gets $0.00. The editor blushes and tells a dozen lies about the beautiful and accomplished bride and the minister gets $10 and a piece of cake and the editor gets $0.00. In the course of time she dies; the doctor gets from $15 to $100, the minister gets perhaps another $5, the undertaker gets from $75 to $200, the editor prints an obituary two columns long and a card of thanks and gets $0.00. No wonder so many country editors get rich. Have you paid your subscription.—Corvallis Gazette-Times.
