CITY NEWS

Ed. L. Stockton is expected here soon from the East to locate.

J. S. Carlson's fine new residence is being rapidly pushed to completion.

Ed. L. Stockton has accepted a position in W. H. King's real estate office.

Mr. G. J. Hughes, who has been under the weather for some time, is improving slowly.

Mrs. A. J. Gunderson has gone to Cathlamet, Wash., for two weeks visit with her father, P. Ruge.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Swanson of Puget Island, Wash., were visitors at the A. J. Gunderson home last week.

Dr. W. W. Hicks is going to build a business block, 50x50, two stories high. Work to begin at once.

The Title Guarantee & Trust Company is to plat seven acres of their North St. Johns property into city lots.

Peterson & Smith contemplate establishing a wool yard in connection with their feed store, at an early date.

H. Simonson, of Bellingham, Wash., and A. Henderson of Dixie, Wash., visited their niece Mrs. Martin Nelson this week.

The health officer reports the city entirely free from any contagious or other serious ailments. Healthiest city on the Coast.

Messrs. J. H. Van Houten and D. C. Rogers, are occupying the office building next to the city hall, until they can get larger quarters.

Judge E. F. Wicker and son Dewey, of Kalama, Wash., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Blackburn Friday and Saturday of last week.

In the absence of a waiting room, Bickner Bros. have furnished accommodations in their big store for persons waiting for the street cars.

Rev. E. E. McVicker's discourse on "True Citizenship," last Sunday night was a masterly effort and those who did not hear it certainly missed a treat.

Hartman, Thompson & Powers have built a snug office just North of Bickner Bros.' store, which Mr. Chapel, the local manager, is now occupying.

An important addition to the business community is the location here of J. B. Bollinger, a practical electrician. He will carry a full line of electrical supplies.

Mrs. Rich of the St. Johns Hotel has leased the two upper floors of the Cochran building and will fit up the same as a first-class hotel to be known as the Hotel Rich.

J. S. Roberts, of Shrewsbury, was visiting his daughter, Mrs. P. J. Botin of St. Johns Park the first of the week. Mr. Roberts reports a good year's work and good prices for his hops.

The business meeting of the Keystone League of the Evangelical Church, held its regular business meeting at the parsonage Friday night and an enjoyable time is reported.

The real estate firm of Chipman & King has been dissolved. Mr. Chipman is associated with the St. Johns Land Co., and will be the local manager. Mr. King will continue business at the old stand.

Marshal Organ says the cows, and even the calves, bade him good speed, in cow and calf language, of course, as he wended his way home from the council meeting Monday night. The cow certainly has a red-hot Organ in the marshal.

Bickner Bros.' hall, over their store, is one of the most spacious of its kind in the vicinity, outside of Portland. It has a large stage, is well lighted and ventilated, making a very desirable place for entertainments and social gatherings.

Chris. Bilus sold the corner next to the millinery store to M. I. Holbrook, the first of the week, for $1100. This is a clear gain of $610 in four months. It is understood Mr. Holbrook will cover the entire lot with a business block at once.

Riley, the 5 year old and only child of Mr. and Mrs. Miles, of St. Johns Heights, died last Friday of cholera infantum and was buried Sunday, at Lone Fir. The bereaved have the sympathy of the community. Little Riley was a lovable child.

Superintendent Scott of the St. Johns Water Company, completed

2800 feet of two-inch main along the east side of the boulevard, tapping the Hub Land Co. tract. A carload of new pipe is expected daily, and will be laid as rapidly as possible when it arrives.

In raising the flag over the school house, Tuesday morning, the janitor made a slip and floated "Old Glory" upside down. The mistake was soon discovered, especially by many of the old soldiers. The flag was soon righted, and the incident passed as a simple error, which it was.

Mr. Antone Olson, who has been spending the past month in the mountains of Whatcom County, Wash., for the benefit of his health, was brought home much worse a few days ago. He is now under the care of a physician, and it is hoped by the many friends of himself and family that he will soon recover.

W. W. Whitney, of Lone, Ore., spent a couple of days in St. Johns this week. Mr. Whitney owns property here, and not having been in the city here, and not having been in the red at the progress made since his last visit. So deeply impressed with future prospects, he has withdrawn his property from the market.

The result of the vote on the proposition to issue $10,000 additional school bonds, for the purpose of building an addition to the present schoolhouse, was not unexpected. But the fact remains that the present premises are not adequate to accommodate our growing school population, and something will have to be done soon. A mass meeting to consider this matter would be in order.
