Our Local Grist

Schools are now out.

There should now be plenty of kids to run errands—and bring in the wood for mother.

Miss Elmira Morgan, of Mayville, Oregon, spent Sunday with her aunt, Mrs. L. E. York.

Miss Clara Beller, who has been with THE REVIEW, left on Monday for her new position at Ilwaco.

Born, in Saint Johns, Saturday, June 24, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Scott Lindley. And so we grow.

On Tuesday Mrs. Richard Shepherd entertained Miss Marian Quigley, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, and Miss Dorenbeck, of Portland.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church met with Mrs. J. H. Mills Wednesday afternoon. A ten-cent tea was served.

Mrs. Wicker, of Kalama, Washington, spent Sunday with her husband, E. F. Wicker, of the firm of Wicker & Blackburn.

N. H. Sulter, carpenter and contractor, has purchased a horse and lumber wagon and proposes to do his own hauling after this date.

W. S. Kyler, who lives in the boat house by the ferry, has been sick with pneumonia for several days. His condition is not serious as yet.

J. W. Logan and family were down from Portland to spend Sunday with Mrs. Nora McCann. Mrs. Logan is a daughter of Mrs. McCann.

One of the teachers re-engaged for the coming year in this city has secured another job. This will make one additional new teacher to be secured.

G. W. Newbury, of Portland, was visiting Mrs. Edward Cole on Sunday. Mr. Newbury is an electrician and is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Cole.

A tracer sent out for the new pressed-brick machine has chased it to this side of Chicago—at last reports. Still, Chicago is quite a spell from Saint Johns.

S. C. Cook, of Kalama, Washington, who owns some realty in Saint Johns, was in this city the latter part of the week. He contemplates moving here very soon.

Miss Flossie Ogden recently won a pretty little enamelled chatelaine watch in an advertising contest. This is a good ad for the excellence of the Saint Johns children.

The people along the water front are glad that the Torpedo boat Destroyer is gone—as it made such big waves that it endangered the rafts along the river and tore things up generally.

County Assessor and Mrs. Downing, of Coville county, Washington, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Blackburn last week. While here Mr. Downing invested in two lots in north Saint Johns.

Mrs. F. Peterson, of Park avenue, on Friday entertained her friend, Mrs. Lindquist, of Portland. Also Elder George Jenkins, of the Mormon church, accompanied by three sisters from Provo, Utah.

Mrs. John Brag, of Downs, Kansas, is guest of her brother—C. L. Clark and family. With Mrs. Brag came her two daughters. Mr. Clark escorted his family to Portland Monday evening to attend a New England Society meeting.

Last week some one stole the boat belonging to Peter Burdene. Mr. Burdene's brother, John, is watchman at the government moorings. Mr. Caples, also, had his boat stolen the same week. Such things are getting to be a nuisance.

Professor J. Teuscher, junior, who has had charge of the schools in Saint Johns the past year, left for his Portland home on Friday afternoon. He will now commence the practice of law—at which he is no novice, he having been admitted to the bar several years ago.

Mrs. Samantha Clearwater, a prominent woman of Hillsboro, is visiting J. W. Caples, of Saint Johns. She is very much surprised and pleased to see how Saint Johns has grown and improved in a short time. Mrs. Clearwater is thinking of investing in property here.

What might have been a serious matter last Friday resulted mostly in wind. An out-of-towner came here to collect a bill from one of our merchants—and the business man didn't seem to be anxious to settle. There were loud words—a bit of gun-play—but, aside from both men being badly scared, there wasn't much to it.

Many of our readers have useful articles of furniture, stoves, musical instruments, live stock, etc., they would dispose of if they could find a buyer. And there are always a lot of people looking for bargains, but do not know where they are to be had. The way to sell anything is to let the bargain seeker know you have something to sell. That cook stove, folding bed, bicycle, or lot of chickens you have to sell would find a ready purchaser and net you a tidy sum if the fact were known. A small ad at a small price in THE REVIEW will dispose of your surplus stock. There are all kinds of people looking for any old kind of a bargain. Suppose you try a small ad in THE REVIEW.

A Few Thorns.

"No thunder comes in Oregon!"
That is the song they've sung us;
And lightning's absence quickly bread
A bravery among us.
When lo! There came an awful crash
That gave us all the shivers!
It left us sick, with throbbing hearts,
And likewise lights our livers!
Tell us no more that thunder shuns
The fair banks of Willamette;
When roaring jars break in on sleep
And make us all yell "Gracious!"

If you wear glasses to the fair either carry a stuffed club—or leave your purse at home.

Norway is trying to draw a king. Perhaps a jack would come nearer to filling a royal flush.

Since that clap of thunder Saturday morning let's not say "It never thunders in Oregon!"

Many a judge who doesn't look it is old enough to know better than to kiss the bride when he joins a couple.

The reason so many Portland girls wear large shoes is probably because wide tires do less harm to the roads.

The Gold Hill News recently had a turnip laid on its office desk. The editor should move his plant where the hens couldn't get at it.

Those critters peddling eyeglasses at the fair guarantee to cure congestion of the eye as well as all diseases of the eye at the same time.

The Equitable Life Insurance company has received a full half million dollars' worth of advertising free of cost. However, it was not judicious advertising—and the result was bad.

If the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church believes it could have picked out a worse night for a "benefit" than last Saturday night proved to be—well, you'll have to show us, that's all.

Talk about flowers! We pass roses nearly every day on our road to work that are from 16 to 19 inches in circumference! That is a fact. We also pass "daisies" frequently that wear a 22 course—who are, we mean, fully 24 inches in circumference! Flowers! Well, we should revere them!

Back in Colorado a professor has discovered the way to increase a person's height. It is a machine that extends the cartilages while the victim reclines—and has been successful the past year in increasing stature from 3 to 5 inches. This is simply a new scheme for pulling a fellow's leg.

Same old racket,
Same old noise,
Same old sorrows,
Same old joys,
Same old ice cream,
Same lemonade,
Same old cool spot,
Down in the shade,
Same old dust, and
Same old sweat;
Same old scramble
Somewhere to get,
Same little Willie
Sadly forlorn,
Same thumb missing
Same eye gone,
Same old father,
Showing 'em how;
Same giant cracker,
In heaven now!
Same bun cannon,
Same old sorrow,
John squinted in it:
Funeral tomorrow,
Same soft couple
Out on the trail;
Sauntering along 'bout
As fast as snail,
Same toy pistol,
Same big cap;
Same call for doctor
After the snap,
Same fond mother
Shedding her tears;
Same fond father
Loaded with beads,
Same home-coming
Going south by north;
Same old "Glorious
July The Fourth!"

THORN.

Had Fine Exercises.

The children's day exercises at the Evangelical church last Sunday morning were of a high order and deserving of much praise. Not only did the exercises themselves do credit to the children and to some of the pupils of a larger growth, but much credit is due their instructors, the whole entertainment showing marks of a careful, thorough and long-continued drilling.

The church was decorated with flowers of many kinds and with ferns, artistically arranged. The children, without exception, were arrayed in white, the simplicity of which, combined with vari-colored ribbons and flowers, made a charming sight.

Among the features of the day, some of especial interest, were the exercises by different classes of girls; that perhaps of Mrs. McVicker being the most interesting. These girls recited, then executed a very pretty wreath drill, and afterwards sang sweetly. The primary class did well, as also did a three-year-old laddie. The young women's chorus was most excellent—as were solos by Miss Kitten Douglass and Mr. Perkins.

A pleasing feature was the presentation, by Mrs. Reushaw, of books to three boys of her class—two for best attendance and one for the first of the year. A class of boys sang. There were many good recitations and songs and, altogether, there was not a break in the long, interesting program.
