THINK OF THIS.

A Business Man Registers Some Real Sensible Advice.

It seems to be the plan of some men to live off the work and efforts of others. For instance, in some communities one will find men engaged in selling property who never think of spending a penny in advertising or helping the city, but who watch the door of the man who does advertise. As soon as a customer comes he at once locates himself near by and as soon as the customer leaves the office he pounces upon him, and, by artful tales and stories tries to sell to him. Prospective purchasers should be careful, for if a man cannot get business in the proper way without using the advertising and influence of someone else he is not responsible and should not be patronized. Every community has its solid business men, and they are the ones who should be patronized.

AN OBSERVER.

Not Samaritan Treatment.

When the lad Olsen was so badly hurt by having his leg crushed by a street car last week he was at once taken to the St. Johns hospital. There he was placed upon a clean mattress and clean clothing placed about him. It was in that condition that he was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital.

When the cot, mattress and bedding were returned to Dr. Hessel, of the local hospital, it was found that the bedding had not been cleaned in any way—nor was it even folded. Almost any hospital would have at least attempted to wash the blood-stains from the mattress—but even this had not been done; and the bed clothes were washed together in a dirty mass. No word of thanks, even, was extended to the St. Johns hospital.

The "Good Samaritan" must be the "Priests and Levites" in disguise.

Gone to Washington.

N. J. Bailey, who has a host of warm acquaintances in St. Johns, has gone to Sedro-wooley, Washington, to fill a position in a basket factory. Mr. Bailey is an expert in his line and will assume the general management of the works. The best wishes of the people here go with him.

Home at a Bargain

Miss Bessie Matson, of Montague, Michigan, was guest last week of her old school-friend, W. S. Calkins, of Burlington street.

W. M. Gatton has moved his family down from Carson, Washington, and is now a resident of St. Johns. He lives in the Stewart precinct.

The Eastern Outfitting Company comes out this week with a handsome change of ad. It will pay our readers to investigate this proposition.

The business card of Carpenter & Dolbow will be found in our columns this week. The firm is making a splendid record for fine work.

A daughter was born on Saturday, July 15, to Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Hoffman. And so we grow. Mrs. Hoffman is at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Hicks.

Three of the six big steel tanks, each of 65,000 gallons capacity, are completed at the Steel ship-building yards. The O. R. & N. will use them for water tanks.

The best singing that has ever been rendered in St. Johns can be heard by attending the morning services at the Methodist church. Don't fail to hear it.

Fine granite and nickel ware 15c up. At The Bazar.

Mrs. Horace Clark and Misses Myrta and Edith Clark, from New York, are visiting their sister, Mrs. John Bentzen in University Park. Miss Myrta Clark is a teacher in New York City.

The town of Gervais has by ordinance abolished thistles. That makes us wonder if Mr. Theophilus Thistle, the thistle sifter, has a sieve of unsifted thistles, how long will it take Mr. Theophilus Thistle, the thistle sifter, to kill all the thistles growing about St. Johns? Who can say this rapidly and accurately?

Bread, 5c per loaf; 6 loaves for 25c; or 25 bread tickets for $1.00 at the Saint Johns Bakery.

The Baptists held an open air meeting Tuesday night at St. Johns Heights. Rev. Bledsoe delivered an interesting address and Mr. Hart sang and played his guitar. Rev. Hynes, who has been conducting evangelistic meetings in the middle west for the past eight weeks, also was present. He will speak tonight (Friday) at an open-air meeting close to the schoolhouse. Special music will be rendered.

Nice line of pocket knives 25c. At The Bazar.

In another column may be seen the ad of Brooks & Sons, who call attention to their line of nursery goods. The firm is making a strong bid for patronage in this district and is reliable in all ways, and those who patronize them may be sure of fair treatment. We are told by those who know that a grove of English walnut trees will place the owner on easy street more quickly than a grove of any other sort, and believe it will be well to investigate this ad.

C. D. Rager and William Gibbs, of Portsmouth, have about completed a fine new cottage for Mrs. Thurston, of Portsmouth. The house has three rooms, a bathroom and large hall down stairs, and two rooms on the second floor. It is finished in natural wood color. G. W. Overstreet is the plumber. The contractors would be pleased to have those interested view the house and comment. It will be ready for occupancy by the first of next week. The house is close to St. Johns Heights station.
