Guy Beebe caught sixty-six Wednesday.

The bell of the bell-cow is no longer heard off in the stilly night.

Work on the grading of Burlington street does not seem to push along as rapidly as contemplated.

Rev. A. L. Beller will occupy the pulpit at the Evangelical church next Sunday evening at eight o'clock.

Before Judge Hanks yesterday the case against Harry Osburn, as mentioned elsewhere in this issue, was dismissed.

The St. Johns Pharmacy has a change of ad this week, and is strongly urging the disinfection project which was commenced last week by this paper. Good.

Correspondents are urged to write upon one side of the paper only; also urged to write, or even print, all proper names which may occur in the manuscript.

The St. Johns Sash and Door Company is building a warehouse at the rear of the lots recently purchased by A. D. MacDonald. The warehouse will be 30x115 with ten-foot posts.

The new floor mill proposition is an assured fact. Minneapolis parties will back Joseph Gill, of that city, in a flouring mill of 2,000 barrel capacity, and the site has already been secured.

That chamber set at the St. Johns Bazaar is a dandy and only 5c a chance.

George G. Gould, of Potter & Gould, who underwent an operation at St. Vincent's Hospital two weeks ago for appendicitis, is home again. He is very much improved and expects to soon be back in the store.

Regular services will be held at the Congregational tabernacle Sunday morning and evening. In the morning at eleven o'clock Rev. Uphaw will speak on "The Test of a Life"; in the evening at eight o'clock the subject will be "Refuges of Lies." The subject for Wednesday evening prayer meeting will be "The Dispensation of Grace." All are cordially invited to these services. Take your Bibles.

LINNTON LACONICS.

First-class coffees and teas at Alcorn's.

Mrs. W. C. Gay has returned from a trip to the east.

Mrs. Hamilton's guests from Portland went home today.

A great deal of camping is going on in Linnton at present.

Mrs. Gillmore died very suddenly Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Devail have company from Portland.

The two cool spots in Linnton—Alcorn's store and the ravine.

Ice cream served Saturday night at the dance. Come one, come all.

J. C. Noyes, of Duluth, is now in Chicago seeing about the machinery for the new box factory.

W. J. Carr and sister, of Detroit, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Wilson, of this place.

Lots of ripe fruit here now: apples, plums and some pears. The boys found this out before the owners. Not so much left now.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stencil celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary Saturday evening. May they have occasion to celebrate many more.

Will Alcorn and wife spent Sunday at Seaside. The place has become very popular as there are about five thousand people visiting there now.

Mrs. Bell is seriously ill with fever. Monday noon it was necessary to remove her to a Portland hospital. She is beginning to show signs of recovery.

Edgar C. Wilson, of Wausau, Wisconsin, who has been visiting here, left for the east Tuesday last. Frederick Scott and Frank Keister expect to leave Friday, the fourth.

W. C. Gay, who has been suffering with pleurisy, has returned from the hospital. While not in his usual good form, Linnton hopes to see his speedy recovery.

Don't forget the dance Saturday at the new store. Price of admission 50c (four bits) per couple. A nice smooth floor and good music. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The Clark & Wilson Lumber Company is erecting a large planing mill—the old one being too small to meet the great demand for dressed lumber and other planing mill products.

Saturday evening all the young folks of Linnton enjoyed the games, so dear to childhood, around a bonfire with an accompaniment of marshmallows, in honor of David Wilson's eleventh birthday anniversary.

There will be a dance at the hall above the new store Saturday, August 5. A good crowd is expected as it will be the last dance in that place. Mr. Sheik, the proprietor, intends to start fitting up rooms immediately for his wife and two children.

For a long time Linnton people have been endeavoring to secure regular church services. Sunday school has been established and is well attended. At present they have church service every other Sunday. There will be church Sunday, August 13.

Down town rates at Sheik's new store. Remember that!

Surveyors sent out by Northern Pacific railroad have been setting up queer little stakes with numbers on them in our fields and back yards. It is reported that that company intends to build a bridge starting from the Washington banks of the Columbia and ending near Linnton. This will make one of the largest bridges in the world.

Sinclair and Edward Wilson, assisted by their friends from Michigan, gave a "Marshmallow Roast" in honor of Harry Irick's return to Linnton. All the young people between fourteen and twenty were invited and gathered round the mammoth bonfire with their long poles. After the marshmallows had been visited thoroughly all were invited to partake of ice cream, the price of each dish to be a fine speech to Harry. From the many compliments tendered him Harry must be very popular. Singing ended the evening's entertainment.

A Possible Chance.

Since the birth of her babe a couple of months since Mrs. I. N. Suttler has been seriously ill, as has also been the babe. For more than a week both have been lying at the door of death, with almost no hope of recovery. As we go to press both are resting a bit more comfortably.

Keep Your Eye On St. Johns.

PORTSMOUTH and UNIVERSITY

E. S. Johnson is building a home on Ivanhoe street.

Mr. Fairchild is building a fine residence on his lot on Vanderbilt street.

Miss Rose Hatfield is not considered out of danger yet, and is still at St. Vincent's hospital.

Miss Peterson, from Wisconsin, is a guest of Mrs. Walsted for a few days. She, also, likes the Park.

Vincent Allen, nephew of Henry Izard, of Portsmouth, has returned from his hunting trip. He met with no success.

Ruth Latverette, who has been guest of Miss Fanny Hemstock, returned to her home in McMinnville on Friday last.

Miss Eva Gifford has been indisposed at her home in Point View, St. Johns. She is employed at the Meier & Frank store.

Mrs. Lamson and daughter, Letta, are visiting Mrs. Belle Nash, of University Park. They are from Dundee, near Oregon City.

William Matthews, of University Park, is going around with a bandaged hand as a result of a bad cut and blood poisoning has developed.

Mrs. Frank Randall and her two sisters, Misses Bernice and Fanny Hemstock, took in the base ball game last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Lee and Miss Ethel Hoyt, both daughters of Mrs. Hoyt, of University Park, left last Tuesday for Seaside and will occupy a cottage.

Mr. Wright, who has paid his mother, Mrs. M. Wright, of University, quite an extended visit, left for his home in Drain, Oregon, last Friday.

Mrs. David Morgan, of University Park, and her three children left last Friday for the beach at Seaside, and will remain until school opens in September.

Mrs. Edgar Hoyt's little son has been slightly indisposed, but is all right again. Mrs. Hoyt took him to the fair last Thursday. Rather a young sight-seeing baby.

Mrs. Ferris, of Dwight street, by the advice of her physician, has postponed her trip to White Salmon indefinitely, as Miss Jennie's health will not permit her to stand the fatigues of the journey.

Miss Peterson, of Marshfield, Southern Oregon, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Smith, of St. Johns on a two-weeks' vacation. Mrs. Smith is the wife of Motorman Smith on the St. Johns car line.

A very pretty wedding took place last week on Fisk street, when Miss Rivers, a popular lady of University Park, was united in marriage with W. Danforth, also of the Park. May great happiness attend them.

Miss Marguerite Fitzgerald and Miss Martha Broughton spent Monday with Mrs. Brennan and took a stroll about the Park, with which they are pleased. They are young teachers of the Butte school in Montana.

Mr. Bunting and his family are visiting his sister, Mrs. Stearns, and is taking in the fair. He is also greatly impressed with the beauties of the Park. He has rooms with Mrs. Ferris, at 1670 Dwight street, University Park.

Mrs. Brous, who lives on Haven street, University Park, is recovering from a severe and painful accident caused by a spent sky rocket striking her on her knee during the Fourth of July celebration in University Park. Her clothing caught fire and she had a miraculous escape from more serious injury.

Mrs. Elizabeth Perry, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Brous, of University Park, is a pioneer of Columbia county, having lived there since 1848. She came to Yamhill county in 1845 and Mrs. Perry can safely say she was the first white woman living where Dayton now stands. She is delighted with the Park and despite her 78 years she has been a constant visitor at the fair and joined in the festivities held there last Saturday in honor of Columbia county. She met old friends of her youth and is proud to say she was the oldest woman of Columbia county. She was introduced to Governor Chamberlain and other officials of the fair. She returns to her home in Houston shortly.

Mrs. Brous, of Havensstreet, University Park, treated her Sunday school class of thirteen pupils of the Congregational church to a picnic in Columbia Park last Thursday. She was assisted in entertaining the young people by Mrs. Wilson and Miss Kerr. They had a merry, happy time and there was an abundance of good things to eat. This is the initial picnic held in Columbia Park, and was suggested by Mrs. Brous, their teacher. Those present were: Anna Jabot, Evelyn Jabot, Marguerite Kerr, Florence Kerr, Lela Brous, Hazel McCord, Rean, Hazel and Margaret Macmurel, Ethel Brice, Borgan Christensen and Beryl M. Olson. Teachers—Mrs. Brous, Mrs. Kerr and Mrs. Wilson.

Airship Came.

Just before seven o'clock last evening the airship Angelus, carrying Leonard Beachy, hovered over this city, with its engine disabled. Prior to this the monster manoeuvred in fine shape in plain view of a couple of thousand spectators. Willing hands towed the machine, still aloft, to the new dock where the launch Fox towed her to Portland. Another ascension will be made tomorrow afternoon.

A Pleasant Surprise.

Mrs. C. H. Thayer was pleasantly surprised last Thursday evening at the home of George Hall, when the members of the Evangelical choir came in for a short time to bid her goodbye, as she is going to Hamilton, Montana, for a two-months' visit with relatives and friends.

A very pleasant evening was spent playing flinch and pit. Cake and lemonade were served, and the guests departed wishing Mrs. Thayer a very pleasant vacation. Mrs. Thayer has been the organist at the church for a long time.

Our Local Grist

Sunday was torrid enough to be termed a "warm baby."

Good morning! Have you seen the air this morning?

Mrs. A. V. Learned is spending a month at Sea View, Washington.

Did you see that chamber set at the St. Johns Bazar?

The Baptists will hold their usual services next Sunday in the Adventist church.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Henderson Wednesday, June 2. And so we grow.

Muck & Deerie are advertising a big sale on coffees and sugar for Saturday of this week.

Mrs. George Hall and little son, LaVerne, have been on the sick list for the past week.

J. A. Parker, of Forest Grove, is visiting his father and brother and will remain about a week.

The local brick yard has received a good-sized order for brick to go to Clatskanie, Washington.

William Donelan, of Glenwood, Iowa, was in St. Johns last week, guest of R. A. Shepard, of Shepard & Tufts.

If there is anything on earth slower than "finishing up" a good residence it must be "finishing up" another one.

Silverfield, corner Fourth and Morrison streets, appears in our columns this week with some fine bargains in underwear.

The condition of the atmosphere around Cone's dock last Sunday was what might be called an indigo hue.

Miss Nettie P. Thompson and Miss Etta Allen, both of Silverton, Oregon, were guests last week of Mrs. Nora McCann.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Cook were guests at a marriage in Hillsboro, Oregon, last week Wednesday—and came home happy.

Muck & Deerie are advertising 4c coffee next Saturday for only 25c; but they will sell but four pounds to any one customer.

Mrs. George Everett and daughter, Helen, of New Haven, Connecticut, were the guests of Mrs. L. A. McKeon last Wednesday.

Henry Raleigh was visiting his cousin, George Hall, last Monday. Mr. Raleigh is a delegate from the Tacoma Artisans to the local circle.

C. K. Seeber, of Loveland, Colorado, arrived in St. Johns last Saturday night. Mr. Seeber is one of the finest job printers in the state.

Work of disinfecting outhouses is going merrily on and people are doing much good in this direction. Everyone should buy some here.

A gentle shower from five to seven Wednesday morning invigorated vegetation and helped settle the little dust. It was a strictly local affair.

A. J. Harde and daughter, Jennie, of Tacoma, are visiting the fair and came out to St. Johns to visit friends. Mr. Harde is a barber of Tacoma.

Miss Clara Beller, at one time of THE REVIEW force, came up from Ilwaco on Sunday and is visiting in this city. Her sister, Mabel, left yesterday for her eastern home.

Modern Woodmen of America are to give a dance this evening that will cease at midnight. Good time promised to all who come—and the tickets hold a man up for only 35c.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Cline and two children, from Stella, Washington, were visiting Mrs. E. A. Palmer, of Point View precinct, on Sunday. Mrs. Cline is Mrs. Palmer's daughter.

Mrs. H. H. Petre and Mrs. George McCann, of Cottage Grove, E. J. Seelars, of Akron, Iowa, and Arthur Overn, of Billings, Montana, are visiting at the residence of A. S. Douglass.

The senior member of this firm is off for a fishing trip the latter part of this week along with a few more descendants of Ananias. Unless the fish are imminently they'd better look a little out.

Several of the new trailers were run out here the first of the week to see how they took in the curves of the road. It is understood that trailers will run through to Alder street at once.

Oliver Nowell, brother of Mrs. Nancy Caples, left St. Johns on Sunday, after a three weeks' visit at the Caples home. He went to his Chicago home by the way of San Francisco and Los Angeles.

F. H. Johnston, business manager of the Saginaw (Michigan) Courier Herald, was in this city on Tuesday. He, with his family, contemplates a change of location and he is looking over the coast country to that end.

If the boys and girls who bathe in the reservoir every warm day would consent to first wash at home before trying the reservoir the flavor of the water would be improved. Several persons are kicking over this trifling matter.

A. P. Allen, editor of the Volga (South Dakota) Tribune, accompanied by his family, was in the city this week—and all of them were guests of the family of P. J. Peterson. This is their first trip to the coast.

Only 5c a chance for the chamber set consisting of one wash bowl and pitcher, one chamber and one combinet, to be raffled off at the St. Johns Bazar.

If the water company would arrange some signal about thirty minutes prior to shutting off the water it would save a heap of profanity. As it now is the only alarm given is when the hot-water tank cracks and goes to the devil.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett are late acquisitions to St. Johns. The couple were married in Hillsboro last Wednesday—the bride being Miss Maude, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Hamilton. The wedding was largely attended.

A deal is on foot whereby the Cone Lumber Company will dispose of all its holdings here. The price set upon the plant has been accepted by the prospective buyer, and all that remains to be done is the settlement of a few minor details.

Tuesday afternoon while Charles Snitter was driving the delivery wagon for the Boston Bakery past the woolen mills, his horse became frightened and ran the wagon over a bank at the side of the road and upset it. The driver was not injured, but the harness and the wagon were somewhat broken.

There will be an open-air meeting this (Friday) evening close to the Cedar Park station at which Rev. John Bentzen will preside. He will speak on "The Hypocrite; What He is and Where to Find Him." There will be a chorus from the White Temple and Fred Mosier, cornetist, will play "The Holy City" and other selections. All are invited.
