PORTSMOUTH and UNIVERSITY

[These notes were received last week a bit too late for insertion. We cannot guarantee the insertion of matter received later than three o'clock on Thursday—Editor.]

A brother of Nate Peters, from Hoquiam, is a visitor at the Park.

Sam Noka, from Illinois, is visiting his brother, Henry Noka, of the Park.

The Hackett family is comfortably installed in the new house on Dawson street, near Portsmouth avenue.

Mrs. S. Brown and family, from the city, have taken a suite at Club Hall for the remainder of the summer. Miss Brown is an accomplished musician.

Mrs. Bonner and Mrs. Mitchell, from Indian Territory, visiting the fair, are temporarily stopping at Club Hall. Their praise of the Park is long and loud.

Clay Foreman, from Illinois, is stopping with Mr. Casteel for the summer. Mr. Foreman came to see the fair—also his two sons who are in business in Portland.

Harry J. Parkison, wife and son, from San Francisco, are sojourning at Club Hall. Mr. Parkison is guardian of the Woodward estate. He enjoys the Park much and expects to settle here soon.

Friends of Miss Viola Peddicord are delighted to see that she has secured a position in the St. Johns school this winter. Miss Peddicord has a host of friends in the Park, where she intends to reside.

F. M. Cox, who owns a couple of lots on Harvard street west of Club Hall, is intending to build in the near future. Mr. Cox was the lucky purchaser of a homestead claim which had been held for three years and sold to him for a small sum. It is said to be worth a fortune.

Miss Zoa R. Hayden, of Illinois, and Edward Sigman, of Hoquiam, Washington, were united in marriage on Wednesday morning of this week. Miss Hayden is a niece of Mrs. Dickson and was stopping at the Park for some time past. Mr. Sigman was formerly a millwright at the Peninsula mill, but is at present employed at Hoquiam, where he has taken his bride.

Mr. Sibray, the real estate man, is hustling these days, and the key note of his success is that if he can't meet the demands of the prospective buyer, he sends the party to some other real estate man, thus doing all he can to hold them in the Park. A little joke on him will not be taken amiss in this connection. One day two ladies called in his office and haggled with him about a house or a suite of rooms. The day was sultry and the temper of the ladies went with the thermometer. During the high mark of confab the "foot-foot" of the city-bound car was heard. The two made a hasty exit, and boarded a car, leaving a satchel and some other belongings. Now, whether Mr. Sibray should have gallantly run after the car or not is not for us to judge. Next day a telephone call came inquiring about the lost goods. Of course one of them would have to come out for them. Now here was a chance. The older one of the two ladies came and Mr. Sibray had in the mean time found just what they wanted. He was successful this time and before evening trunks were safely installed in a comfortable suite of furnished apartments in the Park.

We Hope You Will Call.

It will be our pleasure to show to friends and strangers who are visiting Portland every hospitality and courtesy at the big music establishment.

While you are in Portland seeing the fair we hope you will drop in at 531 Washington street and inspect the many fine pianos and organs, pianolas, orchestrelles, pipe organs and electric self playing pianos that are to be found in the "quarter block of fine pianos."

Nowhere in the United States is so varied and comprehensive a stock of instruments to be found as here. We are located in the heart of Portland, where it will be convenient to drop in for a few moments of rest, to use the phone—long distance or local, to write letters or to get information.

Remember we will be pleased to have you make Eilers Piano House your meeting place, your starting point and your stopping point. The latch string's out here, and the establishment of Eilers Piano House is at the service of Exposition visitors and of our patrons from far and near.

Piano recitals daily by means of the pianola, also orchestrelle and pianola piano music.

Eilers Piano House, largest dealers in the United States, 531 Washington, corner Park (Eighth) street.

Second thoughts have built a lasting and profitable savings account for many a man. A hole in the ground, or a green and gold stock certificate for worthless shares in some over-promoted company, is poor consolation to those whose capital has been saved dollar by dollar.

A Few Thorns.

The Equitable seeks a receiver, And I would suggest—wouldn't you— That they smite with due might And make the thing right— And for receiver appoint THE REVIEW?

Many an "old hoss" is captivated by the "pony ballet" at the Venice show on the Trail.

"Young Germans Causing Kaiser Much Worry." What are the critters doing? Teething?

At last the bones of John Paul Jones are resting where John has no kick coming. And "Jones, he pays the freight."

Some physicians when in doubt hold their diagnosis just after holding the post-mortem. Evidently they are anxious to be accurate.

At Santiam a Miss Miles is sick with measles. Occasionally a town may have quite a long spell of sickness—but seldom has Miles of it.

Now that we have tasteless food there is no good reason why the government's efforts to produce spineless cactus should not be a success.

The man who has been dynamiting the Kansas saloons is receiving the solid approval of all those who have tasted the Kansas prohibition brand of red-licker.

Eleven kids were in juvenile court last Saturday in Portland on charge of stealing watermelons. In view of their meloncolic condition the judge let 'em go.

Now that Edison has once more solved the problem of the light and lasting storage battery it is to be hoped that once more the stinking brand of autos will be ensmall.

Woodmen of the World are to go up the Columbia next Sunday. It is anticipated that there will be a large crowd and the Choppers expect to have a wow-wow of a time.

Baker county may be a hustler—but its people are sure dead easy. One of the greenies from there met a confidence man in Portland Saturday, loaned him $50, and then expected the money back. It came—nit.

When the Na(tional) Bis(cuit) Co(mpany) first invented the Nabisco wafer it foisted upon an indulgent public the best imitation food ever produced. They taste like a flexible chunk of fir sawdust padded with a piece of porous plaster.

Louis Schott was last week arrested at Tillamook and the charge was that he shot Frank Knott when Knott was not doing a thing to Schott. Schott claims that the shot he shot did not harm Knott—in fact the shot that shot Knott was not shot by Schott; farther than that the accused man swears that when Knott was shot Schott was not in the town. Knott declares that the shot that Schott shot at Knott shot Knott—the shot entering his body in divers quantities; and physicians could not extract all the shot that Schott shot into Knott. It will be a corker for the juries. If Knott was shot and Schott was not and Schott shot not the shot that shot Knott, who shot Knott? And was not Schott half-shot when he shot?

You may talk about the man behind: The man behind the "star"; The man behind the throttle; Or the man behind the bar; The man behind the brickyard; The man behind the hat; But worst of all's the theater— Where the man's behind the hat.

He may be behind the orchestra, But that is not a ban; He may be behind a pillar, Or behind some other man; Be behind in getting tickets, But he will not care for that— If the seat he's paid for isn't.

Just behind a woman's hat. The man behind the hat in church Is difficult to chase; For the man behind the pulpit Cannot hold him with his gaze. He'll doze at frequent intervals And dream he's at the bat; Yet he awakens softly— Does this man behind the hat.

At the theater it is different! And he swears it isn't odd When, to see behind the footlights, He has given up his hat.

In vain he cranes his neck aloft— Bends this way and bends that; He can't tell what the hero's like When he's behind the hat.

THORN.

Died Sunday Night.

Mrs. S. E. Rainwater died of heart disease last Sunday night at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. S. E. Lauehead.

Mrs. Rainwater was a native of Tennessee, where she was born December 5, 1833. She moved from there to Missouri, then crossed the plains to Oregon in 1852, and has since lived in this state.

She leaves five sons and three daughters: J. R. Rainwater, of Albany; D. R. Rainwater, of Forest Grove; W. J. Rainwater, of Albany; C. M. Rainwater, of Seattle; A. E. Rainwater, Seattle; Mrs. Annie Stahl and Mrs. Bessie Muller, who are in Alaska at present; and Mrs. Emma Lauehead, of St. Johns. The remains were shipped to Albany Tuesday for burial.
