Took Smaller Tract.

The Oregonian says "Several lots have been secured for paint works near the golf links at Sellwood, and work is to commence at once on the buildings. The interested parties undertook to get a footing in St. Johns, but failed to interest the people."

"Several lots" wouldn't suffice in St. Johns for the works. Here the promoters requested two acres of $2,000 land. And they were in such a hurry that they had to have an answer within four days! That was three months ago—and the same promoters seem to have done nothing yet.

First to Pay.

Last week the city recorder sent out notices to all Jersey street property owners stating the cost of improving said street, and asking for prompt returns. The first check received by the recorder was from E. F. Day, Heppner, Oregon, who owns lot 4 in block 41. Mr. Day's check was for $200.81—and his being so quick to respond gives him much credit.

Cochran Backed Out.

Thomas Cochran doesn't need the money—or, perhaps, he wants the land more. He was recently offered $3000 cash for a 50x94 lot at the rear of his Central Hotel block, and the man stood with $500 in his hand to make first payment—but Cochran did some hard thinking for a few hours. Then he refused to let go the land.

Found.
