Getting Ready.

Work is now progressing upon the approaches to the new ferry at the foot of Pittsburg street. J. E. Brink, the active pusher of the enterprise, is "here with the goods" and will rush business as rapidly as is consistent with good work. As has been stated the real ferry boat will not be built until it has been ascertained about how large a traffic will be given the ferry; but in the meantime a commodious barge will be pressed into service.

The St. Johns Ferry Company need not worry about the size of the boat it will build; and may make the ferry as large as possible without being unwieldy. It will not be many months ere it will have about all the business one boat can carry out.

No Opium in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

There is not the least danger in giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to small children as it contains no opium or other harmful drug. It has an established reputation of more than thirty years as the most successful medicine in use for colds, croup and whooping cough. It always cures and is pleasant to take. Children like it. Sold by Jackson's Pharmacy.

Has A Contract.

J. H. Black has secured the contract for dismantling the building used at the St. Louis and Portland fairs by the National Cash Register Company, and loading the same on the cars to be brought to St. Johns.

It will be re-erected on the site owned by the Congregationalists and used by that denomination as a church. It will be placed on the corner lot—the inside lot being reserved for a parsonage.

The Phone Coward.

THE REVIEW has had reason to find fault with many things in its own immediate vicinity, and, like a man hunting trouble, it has found it not only at home but in the surrounding neighborhood. We have pointed out some glaring faults with the Park, and congratulated ourselves that we have stirred up considerable ill feeling.

On complaint of some telephone subscribers we investigated and found a deplorable abuse of that most serviceable institution. A certain party was complained about, his telephone number secured, and we found him to be the chief cause of numerous complaints—especially from women who have been made to listen to a torrent of abuse from this despicable coward, who, standing in safety at home, would amuse himself by annoying women happening to be on the line when he took down.

Last week a scoundrel of this stripe took down while a woman was talking over the phone line to her husband. The husband was in the city but could hear plainly the scandalous remarks meant for his wife. Both were forced to hang up.

Another instance is where a respectable married woman was called up and asked to make a "date." When the husband heard of the occurrence he was, of course, exasperated, but on reflecting a few minutes he became calm. He will wait his chance, arrange a "date" and some enterprising young "man" will be taught a lesson of a lifetime.

As this issue of THE REVIEW goes to press we are pleased to learn from one of its subscribers that a complaint lodged some time ago at the telephone office has brought desired results. A party who monopolized the line a half hour at a time most every evening has been summarily shut off by "central" but the abuse has not yet been eradicated and the columns of THE REVIEW will be open for any one of the telephone subscribers who wish to voice their sentiments about this most unbearable evil.

Successful Masquerade.

What is said to be the finest masquerade ever given in St. Johns was that of the Carnation Club at Bickner Hall Wednesday night. In spite of the rain and the mud the hall was crowded to overflowing with merry masqueraders and devotees of dancing. The music was excellent—and the crowd so good-natured that it was nearly five o'clock Thursday morning when "lights out" was sounded.

The Carnation Club is to be congratulated on the outcome of the affair—and the excellent manner in which it was conducted.

Can You Afford

To carry the risk of total loss on your buildings when a small amount will insure you against loss? It does not pay to do it. See the Peninsula Bank about rates.

Died.

Mrs. Hattie, wife of J. W. Stockton, died on Monday, November 27, at a Portland hospital from the effects of an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Stockton and family came here from Greeley, Colorado, in August of this year. Mrs. Stockton's sister arrived in time to be present during the operation. Mr. Stockton and family started with the body on Thursday for Greeley, Colorado, where the interment took place.

MADE A RAID.

Sheriff Word Gets A Tip—Others Get The Same.

Saturday night Sheriff Word with several deputies came to St. Johns to see if he could find anything in the way of illegal liquor-selling. He had been informed that the billiard hall of Johnson & Knight was doing a large business in liquor selling, and he at once proceeded to investigate.

Nothing was found of an incriminating nature—so the "surprise" social adjourned sine die. There have been so many rumors that the firm was selling liquor that one of the frequenters of the hall, C. D. Edwards, gave information which led to the raid.

Can't Tell In Print.

Speaking of a certain class of subscribers, the St. Johns REVIEW asks, "Did it ever occur to you that the man who grows angry when he is asked to pay up in advance for his subscription is the sort of a man who insists on not giving up his nickel car fare until he gets to the end of his ride?"

We would ask what you think of a man who has received a paper into his home and read it for a year or more; has received notice of change of ownership, and told that if he did not want the paper to say so, or he would be counted a subscriber—to yet continue to receive the paper without objection, and after a lapse of sixty days to then refuse the paper without being honest enough to pay for the time he actually received and read the same?—Gresham Record.

Record Increases.
