Electric Light and Power

A talk with us will convince you that ELECTRIC LIGHT is the only light you can afford to use in your home, or put in the house you are building. Your property will rent more readily, will pay a higher income, and attract a better class of tenants. IF IT IS EQUIPPED WITH ELECTRIC LIGHT.

The use of ELECTRIC POWER means: Great saving in machinery and initial cost of plant, high ECONOMY in cost of operation, and an INTENSIFIED PRODUCTION possible only where ELECTRICITY is used.

Advantages in the cost of producing power enables us to make terms exceptionally favorable to manufacturers, and to furnish unequalled service at lowest rates.

The usual ten-minute service was in effect on the St. Johns line last Sunday, and hundreds of people from Portland and other suburbs were out inspecting the improvements of our go-ahead city.

F. W. Stine, owner of what is known as the Hazelwood corner on Jersey street, left for his home at Charlotte, Mich., the first of the week. He expects to return by May 1, when the work of building his new block will be inaugurated.

Second Engineer Draper of the Dakota, James J. Hill's big ocean liner, was a St. Johns visitor the first of the week. After looking the city over Mr. Dr. said: "I have been a rolling stone for a long time. I intend to make one more trip and then settle down, and St. Johns looks pretty good to me."

By midsummer the thriving town of Linnton across the river from St. Johns will become the fuel oil center of Oregon. Arrangements are being made whereby 100,000 gallons of oil per week will be delivered by steamers that will be run direct from the California oil fields. In a short time two steamers now being built especially for this line of carrying will make regular trips. And before fall a half a dozen large vessels will be put on the run carrying only fuel oil.

Tanks for storing the oil are now being constructed and more will be added as the demand is made for them.

A large rattlesnake in a box attracted the curious on Jersey street last Sunday. The reptile was the property of J. Hathaway, who was enroute to the city park in Portland, where he turned the snake over to the park officials as an attraction for sightseers. The snake had eleven rattles on its tail, and continually sounded its warning as it lay coiled up, running its forked tongue out, ready to strike. It was exceedingly active. In regard to it Mr. Hathaway said: "I captured it in eastern Oregon July 28 last year. It has had nothing to eat since. A short time ago I put a live frog in the box but the snake refused to touch it. I think a live mouse or a bird would tempt it to break its fast. With the exception of a strip on the top of its head it has finished shedding its skin."

GOOD AS GOVERNMENT BOND

Each and every Prize Certificate issued to the successful contestants in Eilers Piano Publicity Contest worth just that much in actual cash when buying a new Piano, Pianola Piano or Orchestrelle. If you have a Credit Certificate for $55, or $60, or $70, or even $100, it is worth its full face value at Eilers Piano House toward payment of a new piano. Remember, positively no advance in prices to take care of Credit Certificate. Get the price of your neighbor's piano and convince yourself that this is a fact. If it is not we will give you a piano absolutely free. Bring in your Credit Certificate during the big demonstration sale. New pianos that have heretofore retailed for $275, now $175, at $5 a month. Regular $375 styles now $255, at $5 a month; and the elaborate-cased fine $475 styles now $322, at $7 a month. The fanciest regular $485 styles; now $335 at $8 per month. The strictly highest grade and costly $650 styles, now $485 at $12 a month.

SALE OF SLIGHTLY USED PIANOS

Last week we sold over 100 brand new, high-grade costly Pianos, Pianola Pianos and Orchestrelles on which we accepted as part payment many second-hand instruments which in numerous instances are practically as good as new.

Laboring men are scarce in this locality. In several places about town placards read "Laborers wanted. Wages $2.75 per day."

One of the best recommends St. Johns has is that there are no idle men in the city. There is work for all at good wages, but the bank jobs and hot air positions are all filled.

Messrs. Wicker & Blackburn were in the city Monday last—the first time they have been here for several weeks. Mr. Wicker expressed himself as seriously contemplating a return to St. Johns in the near future.

Lovers of dancing may find entertainment this evening at the dance given by the fire department at M. W. A. hall. Good music and an enjoyable time guaranteed to everybody.

The irrepressible P. J. Peterson has blossomed out with a Hambletonian trotter, rubber trimmed harness and pneumatic-tired buggy, and proposes to have a season of recreation.

Over 200 people were patrons of the grill room of the new St. Johns Hotel last Sunday. That is going some for a youngster, and speaks well for the service at Manager Nye's holstery.

The morning services in the new Congregational church last Sunday morning were well attended. The interior was handsomely decorated with ferns, evergreens and cut flowers and presented a very handsome appearance.

Cashier Wood of the Peninsula Bank last Saturday afternoon and evening cashed checks for the workmen of St. Johns aggregating more than $20,000. This item gives an idea of the money the toilers of our city put into circulation each week.

The hose carts and hook and ladder truck with their accountments were cleaned and overhauled last Friday, and are now ready for an emergency call. The fire laddies take great pride in keeping their paraphernalia in good working order, and should have the encouragement of every citizen of the city.

Last week The Review delayed printing its issue for an hour to announce that E. C. Harbert was lost, strayed or stolen. Before the papers reached Postmaster Clark the missing man walked into The Review office with the remark: "There is a report that I am lost or left the country. I came home last night about 11 o'clock and couldn't wake my folks. Then I went back to Portland and stayed all night." We were pleased to see the gentlemen in good health and among the living, but we lost a column of reading that would have carried the head "Met With Foul Play."

"It is not raining rain to me, It's raining daffodils, In every single drop I see Wild flowers on the hills; The clouds of gray infect the day And o'erwhelm the happy, It is not raining rain to me, It's raining roses down, It is not raining rain to me, But fields of clover bloom Where and buckeyeering face May find its board and room; Here's health unto the happy, A fig to him who frets, It is not raining rain to me, It's raining violets."

The first rally of the campaign was held in St. Johns Tuesday evening. Judge Webster and others addressed an attentive audience in M. W. A. hall on topics political.

One need not be born with a veil or the gift of prophecy to foresee that lots between Fisk street in University Park and Macrum avenue in Northern hill on Dawson street which extends through the center of that rapidly growing district between the rivers in Portland, and now selling for $15 per front foot, will, within twenty years from today, sell for one thousand dollars per front foot.

S. Scheller, who is taking an active part in the formation of a brass band in St. Johns, says it is now up to the business men and others to put the organization on a firm footing. The members have nearly all the instruments needed, but need financial assistance. A well organized and well drilled band is a good advertisement for any community, and we hope to see one in St. Johns.

Note the new ad of the St. Johns Grocery Co. Some bargains there.

Tope & England have been busy during the week brightening the interior of the Central hotel with a coat of paint. The house is being thoroughly renovated by Landford Condon.

Henry Knight, George Chaffee and Guy Shields were out Monday evening seining for salmon in the Willamette between St. Johns and Linnton. Their efforts was rewarded by eleven fine salmon, two of them weighing 40 pounds each.

Are you reading the diary of James Johns now running in The Review? It is copied from the original now in possession of the Oregon Historical Society by Hon. Geo. H. Hines. It is a brief description of the incidents observed by the old pioneer while crossing the plains over 60 years ago.

Nearly every week The Review receives letters from people at distant points asking whether a certain line of business or a small manufacturing business would pay here. A properly organized commercial club would be a source of information to these inquiries, and maybe, of great benefit to the city and its people.

Voters will find the primary ballot a large and unwieldy sheet, but compiled in a manner that will enable all to vote intelligently by taking a little time for proper marking. Thirty-eight candidates are to be chosen from the 115 names that are on the ballot.

Mrs. F. C. Mighells of St. Johns, Oregon, was one of the fortunate winners of a prize credit certificate in the mammoth publicity word contest recently conducted by Eilers Piano House, the popular piano and organ dealers of Portland. She applied toward the purchase of a fine Clardson piano.

An apparatus for ascertaining the character of the different strata below the river bed has been at work at a point near the dry dock. The work is being done in connection with the proposed railroad bridge, and will determine the location of the several piers that will be built in the river. Soundings have been made in the same neighborhood for some time.

Few of his acquaintances know that John Haggerty is a philosopher. It was thoroughly demonstrated last Monday when John, coming down Jersey street at a four mile an hour gait suddenly halted in front of The Review man, and began: "Say, I've been thinking that if all the priests and preachers and the women, especially the females who are prominent in the several women's clubs, would get together and tackle the meat trust, and leave the whiskey question to settle itself, what an awful reaction they would make."
