The dance of the Council of Malta at M. W. A. hall Tuesday evening was a very enjoyable affair and well attended.

The W. O. W. lodge of this city is rapidly gaining in membership. Not a meeting is held without a number of applications to be considered.

John W. Wymore has sold his old steam wood-saw and purchased a brand new rig. He will be steaming up the streets in style before the end of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Hanson were pleasantly surprised on the 4th inst. by a visit by Mrs. A. H. Taylor and nephew James Walker of Seattle. A most enjoyable week was spent. The nephew is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Hanson.

S. McClave & Co. have sold their furniture business at 203 Jersey street to H. F. Clark, and wish to thank their customers for their liberal patronage and courtesy, and hope they may continue to trade with Mr. Clark.

Tuesday, the 15th inst., was the last day in which to register for the June election. The tardy ones improved the opportunity to get their names on the registration list. A land office business was done. Any voter, unless registered, will have to swear his vote in on the day of election.

Beverly Sowers, of Tacoma, and Miss Fannie Seerist, of Vancouver, were married at Vancouver on Tuesday. As Miss Seerist was a former intimate friend of Mrs. R. Wilcox, of St. Johns, the couple spent Wednesday with Mrs. Wilcox and left the same afternoon for Tacoma.

The Daily Abstract and Daily Recorder, Portland's two real estate papers, have made arrangements to consolidate and issue one paper under the title of the Daily Abstract-Recorder. The change will take effect June 1. It is a wise move, and will be appreciated by the advertisers of both papers.

Rev. Anna Howard Shaw, the equal suffrage advocate of national fame, lectured in Bickner's hall last Saturday evening. In spite of the inclement weather the hall was comfortably filled. The gifted woman handled the subject of equal suffrage in her usual masterly style, and her auditors were well paid for braving the elements.

On account of the shoaling of the bar at the mouth of the Columbia river it is quite probable that the government's big ocean dredge lying in the Willamette at the government moorings opposite St. Johns will soon be placed in commission. The big vessel has been anchored in the river for over a year, and has come to be looked upon as one of the landmarks in this locality.

Kasson Smith has opened a first-class general store on the boulevard, corner of Westanna street, opposite the Acme Lumber Co.'s mill. Mr. Smith is a worthy gentleman and a happy addition to the neighborhood. Getting in on the ground floor, Mr. Smith will bid for the patronage of the bridge men as well as the new residents—and some of the older ones. He has a stock of exceptionally fine cigars and tobacco on hand.

"Africa in Song and Story" will be rendered by J. H. Balmer's Kaffir Boy Choir, assisted by Miss Elsie Clark, the talented young Anglo-African, tomorrow (Saturday) evening at the new Congregational church in St. Johns. Tickets 35 cents, children 25 cents, may be obtained at Bonham & Currier's and Potter & Gould's without extra charge. This is a strictly high-class entertainment and will be enjoyed by old and young alike.

One of the new tanks now building by the water company was completed and tested the first of the week. Although it was filled with 700 tons of water the foundations and tank stood the test to the satisfaction of the builders and contractors. Work on the east tank is in progress and will be hurried to completion. With two huge tanks of water now available, and three to draw upon, in a very short time St. Johns will soon have all it needs for all purposes.

If there is a man in St. Johns who is willing to distribute advertising matter throughout the resident and business districts he can find occasional employment by applying at The Review office. Nearly every week there are several jobs in this line.

By the improvements at the car barns at Piedmont the street railway company has unbundled confidence in the permanent and substantial growth of the peninsula. Tracks are being laid and excavations made, which, when completed, will give double the room now used for storing the trolley cars.

Last Friday being the thirteenth birthday anniversary of Nelson Noren, his grandmother, Mrs. Frank Peterson, with whom he lives on Park avenue, gave him a birthday supper, which was much enjoyed by a dozen or more girls and boys. The supper was followed by a few hours spent in playing games.

J. D. Hardy has grit enough for a half dozen men. One day last week in felling a tree the trunk flew back and struck him in the breast and knocked him almost senseless. Recovering from the jar he continued work. His side continued to pain him for several days, and on consulting a physician he found that he had a badly fractured rib.

One need not be born with a veil or the gift of prophecy to foresee that lots between Fisk street in University Park and Macrum avenue in Northern hill on Dawson street which extends through the centre of that rapidly growing district between the rivers in Portland, and now selling for $15 per front foot, will within twenty years from today, sell for one thousand dollars per front foot.

The anticipated action in regard to the license of E. O. Magoon by the council did not take place at the regular meeting Tuesday night. While The Review does not speak by card it understands that the council is willing to grant what he prays for, but not in the location he has selected. It would be well that another locality be chosen in order that the business, social and official machinery of St. Johns may run without friction.

A dead man brought to life will tell of his awful experience and manner of escape in Bickner's Hall, Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Free to all.

With numerous teams hauling lumber, building material, furniture, etc., through the streets, St. Johns has the appearance of a place where there is something doing all along the line.

Mrs. L. Hamilton wishes to announce to her friends that she has opened dress making parlors at 808 Dawson street, Portsmouth station. Tailor-made suits a specialty. Prices reasonable.

F. M. Lashbaugh owns six horses, which may be classed among the finest equines on the peninsula. They are all heavy draft animals—and beauties. In fact, they looked so good to their owner that he had them photographed in a group.

Godsey & Clark, general blacksmiths, corner Charleston and Ivanhoe streets, advertise in this issue that they are ready for business. Horseshoeing will be made a specialty. They have a shop 40x30 feet and are ready for all work in their line.

In company with several gentlemen Clem R. Hendry, head chemist of the steel trust, made a visit to St. Johns last Wednesday. The party spent some time in the city along the river front and visited the districts to the north and east. The object of the visit is unknown, but is supposed to be connected with future plans of the company. Mr. Hendry is from New York city.

The 1,700 acres of land owned by the Swift Packing Co. east of the city will be the site of a large packing plant to be in readiness for business when the north bank road is completed. The firm has recently purchased the celebrated Hunt stock farm near Walla Walla and a 2,000 acre tract near Troutdale, to be used to feed and fatten cattle for its big plant on the peninsula.

Although the city fathers spent ten big round dollars one week ago cleaning up the rubbish on Jersey street that thoroughfare has another accumulation of shavings, paper, hay and other litter that is not at all pleasing to the eye. Several kicks a day in reference to it are registered at The Review office, and we are not headquarters for the street cleaning department.

The Moxen-Valentine Co is the name of a new real estate firm that bids for a share of the realty patronage. The individuals composing the firm need no introduction by The Review. Willis Moxen is one of the best-known men in St. Johns. Mr. Valentine is the popular mayor of the city. They will sell real estate, write fire insurance and negotiate loans. Both are enterprising, energetic citizens, with whom it will be a pleasure to deal at all times.

The Klumath Falls Express comes to us with a description of one of the largest sawmills in the state just completed at the southern point by C. S. and R. S. Moore. The mill was built by L. A. Crane, well and favorably known in St. Johns, and who left here about a year ago. The contract price of the mill was $25,000, and it is fitted up with modern machinery throughout. The many friends of Mr. Crane will be pleased to hear of his success in his new home.

A surprise party was given Wednesday evening at the home of D. Perkins in honor of Dr. Mary McLachlan. The rooms were handsomely decorated with ferns and cut flowers. The invited guests were Dr. McLachlan, Mr. and Mrs. E. Day, Mr. and Mrs. E. Trummer, the Misses Lulu and Marion Magoon, Miss Amy Rowland, Miss Lena Long, Messrs. Essen, Glen, Dobie and Bickford. All declared on leaving that a very enjoyable evening had been spent.

By reference to the advertisement in this issue it will be seen that the Democrats will hold their opening campaign meeting in Bickner's hall tomorrow (Saturday) evening at 8 o'clock. The principal speaker will be Hon. R. A. Miller, attorney general. Short addresses will be delivered by Tom Word, Judge Van Zante, E. A. Gissell and E. H. Calahan. There will be music by the St. Johns orchestra. Seats have been provided for a large crowd, and everybody is invited to come and hear the arguments of the speakers.

Not as Rich as Rockefeller.

If you had all the wealth of Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate, you could not buy a better medicine for bowel complaints than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The most eminent physician can not prescribe a better preparation for colic and diarrhoea, both for children and adults. The uniform success of this remedy has shown it to be superior to all others. It never fails, and when reduced with water and sweetened, is pleasant to take. Every family should be supplied with it. Sold by Jackson's Pharmacy.
