A large force of men are engaged in sinking the caissons in the Columbia river for the bridge of the north bank railroad. The caissons are sunk some 80 feet in the water. Air is then pumped down into them to supply the workmen engaged in laying concrete, etc. The men labor at the bottom of the river within the big steel frames where there is a pressure of air of 45 pounds to the inch. They work three hours per day in shifts of an hour and a half each, and are paid $5 for the three hours' work. Only those of rugged health can stand the immense pressure of air, which frequently causes paralysis of the lower limbs. Almost daily they emerge from their steel workhouse bleeding from the nose, mouth and ears.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Appropriate Services Held Under Auspices of the G. A. R.

Memorial Day was fittingly observed by Compton Post and the citizens of St. Johns. The program published last week was carried out in detail. The exercises took place on the city hall tract, where a platform for the speakers and the monument marking "The Unknown Grave" had been erected.

The parade was a feature of the program. With the band in the lead the school boys, Red Men, K. of P., I. O. O. F. and city officials made up the procession that escorted Compton Post.

The exercises were opened by prayer by Rev. Warren. Rev. Young delivered the oration of the day. His address was an eloquent one and listened to attentively by his audience.

A LETTER

From the Members of the City Council of St. Johns.

Editor Review:—The pretended union of precincts 66 and 67 for a vote at the coming June election on what is commonly known as the local option liquor law of '04 is an instructive example of the absolute unfairness of that law. At the late city election in St. Johns, April 2nd, many of us desired to eliminate the "wet and dry" question, but our prohibition friends forced the issue and were beaten nearly two to one. It was a fair trial of strength and it was supposed that the beaten ones would take their defeat gracefully. But within a month a petition was presented to the county clerk signed by sixty-one St. Johns voters, all of whose names appear on the poll books of the St. Johns city election, declaring a union of precinct 67 (St. Johns) and precinct 66, which is not in St. Johns at all, but which is a part of the city of Portland, to try it all over again. It reminds one of the fable of the union of the wolf and the rabbit, with the wolf alone in evidence after they had harmonized. Not a single name from precinct 66 is attached to that petition, and so it seems that the unionizing act was perfected by the strenuous exertions of our defeated prohibition friends of St. Johns alone. Had the high license people of St. Johns been defeated at the late city election and then resorted to such methods to try to turn defeat into victory, the air would have been full of such expressions as "trickery" and "dirty politics."

Now as to the merits of the matter we would say: St. Johns is almost surrounded by saloons. Before a license ordinance was passed the city was full of "blind pigs" and "bootlegs," all of which is well known to both the wet and dry element. Ten cents would buy a round trip ticket in several different directions where liquor could be had in abundance. The result was that St. Johns was simply a dump-

The funeral will take place tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2 o'clock from the M. E. church, and the interment will be made in Columbia cemetery. NEW ST. JOHNS HOTEL
 J. B. NYE, Manager.

The above cut is that of the New St. Johns Hotel, one of the handsomest and most elaborately furnished in the northwest. The hotel is under the management of J. B. Nye, one of the best known and most popular landlords west of the Mississippi river, and whose acquaintance with the traveling public reaches from coast to coast. The grill room of the hotel under the stewardship of Paul Mueller, a caterer of extensive experience, has already attained a reputation for its cuisine that attracts the epicures of Portland and other points. The Sunday menus and those furnished private parties are the subject of great praise by all who have been fortunate enough to patronize Manager Nye's well equipped holstery.

The material used in Linne's bread is the best and can't be better.

On Friday Misses Jennie and Annie Steichen went to the ranch of Fred Brown, near Salem, ostensibly to pick strawberries, but in reality for a camping trip. On Saturday Mat Steichen followed and there they joined Nick Steichen. All these young people are sisters and brothers of Mrs. Fred Brown.

Swift & Co., the Chicago meat-packers, have begun the preliminary work looking towards the improvement of their immense tract of 1,700 acres on the peninsula opposite St. Johns. Elliott & Scroppin are now making the surveys, locating the corners, etc. The company has three miles of water front on Columbia slough. The plans are expected in a very short time.

One need not be born with a veil or the gift of prophecy to foresee that lots between Fisk street in University Park and Macrum avenue in Northern hill on Dawson street which extends through the centre of that rapidly growing district between the rivers in Portland, and now selling for $15 per front foot, will, within twenty years from today, sell for one thousand dollars per front foot.

At a meeting of Laurel Lodge No. 186, I. O. O. F. at their hall Monday evening last T. J. Monahan was brought before the bar of the lodge just prior to the work in the initiatory degree and charges preferred against him by Noble Grand Foote. Before Mr. Monahan had time to plead Bro. Foote stepped forward and presented him with a handsome past grand collar on behalf of the lodge. The presentation was a complete surprise to the recipient, who accepted the gift with appropriate remarks.

New cars made their appearance on the St. Johns line Wednesday. The head car is a closed one with two compartments and the doors near the middle of the car. The trailer is the regulation open summer car. It is to be hoped this train will be continued during the summer.

On Tuesday C. Noren and three children arrived at the home of Mr. Noren's mother, Mrs. Frank Peterson. They came from California, and are San Francisco refugees, having lost all they possessed. Mr. Noren was very fortunate in securing a well-paying position in Portland the next day after his arrival.

O. L. Chapel, one of the first real estate men in St. Johns, has sold his business and will move to Hoover, Wash., where he is largely interested. Speaking of his early experiences here he said: "I came down here when what is now Oak Park did not have a street. The old steam motor made trips every two hours—and everybody thought it was good service. Did I do much business? Well, not very much at the start. The first six months I was here I did not make my board. After a while things began to pick up. One Sunday I sold twenty-four lots. After we secured the wooden mill things came easier for everybody—and, by the way, Henry Smith was the first man to pay the amount of his subscription to secure the mill. The warmest time St. Johns ever saw was the night Tom Monahan returned from Salem with the charter. J. C. Cronie made a speech, we had a big bonfire and burned dry goods boxes and coal oil to give vent to our enthusiasm. St. Johns is all right. You will have to look a long time to find as good a place."
