A marriage license was issued Tuesday last to Bowen C. Ward and Maud Maedon of St. Johns.
The ladies of the First Baptist church of St. Johns will serve refreshments on the Fourth of July.
Now that the election is over let every resident of St. Johns plan for a rousing celebration on the Fourth of July.
The dance of the firemen at M. W. A. hall last Saturday evening was a well-attended and very enjoyable affair.
The ladies of the Evangelical church furnished lunches in the tent on the St. Johns Hotel lot on election day. The booth was well patronized.
Electric light poles are being placed on several streets in South St. Johns. Many handsome residences are being erected in this part of the city.
Over sixty years ago George Gay erected, near Wheatland, the first brick house in Oregon, and in 1853 C. R. Shaw erected a grist and lumber mill at Eola.
Do not forget that you can furnish your house cheaper at H. F. Clark's new and second-hand store, 203 Jersey street, St. Johns, than at any other place.
The Review office has just printed a lot of "For Sale" and "For Rent" cards that are large enough and plain enough to sell or rent any piece of property anywhere.

John Poff left last evening for a visit with his mother at his old home at Stanberry, Mo. This is Mr. Poff's first trip east in twenty years. He expected to be absent six weeks.
Last Saturday the St. Johns Ship-building Co. shipped a light draft stern wheel steamer to Alaska, where it will navigate the waters of the Yukon river. The boat was shipped north in sections, which will be put together on its arrival.
R. M. Ferguson has been taking many photographs of the mills along the water front. The work is of a high class and just the thing to send to that eastern friend who wishes to note how things look in St. Johns. Several photographs are shown in the window of D. C. Rogers' real estate office.
Dr. Chas. E. McChesney, formerly Indian agent at the Rosebud agency in South Dakota, but now Indian inspector of all the agencies, was a guest of Chief of Police Bredeson last Tuesday. The local policeman was in the government employ eight years under Major McChesney, and they enjoyed a pleasant visit discussing the events of years ago.
The receipts of the St. Johns ferry from March 6 to May 1, 1906, were $314.35, which goes to show that Manager Brink is enjoying a fine patronage. Two and a half per cent of the above amount was paid into the city treasury Tuesday last. The outlook for an increased business at the ferry is very flattering. The payment of the above percentage was guaranteed by the company at the time the franchise was granted.
Willis Moxon was one of the clerks of election, and it was up to him to inject a little humor into the tired crowd Tuesday night. It was along about midnight when the tally on the prohibition had been see-sawing back and forth and finally came to a tie. Everything had been as still as death for an hour. All were wondering what the next ballot would show. Suddenly Moxon raised his hand and shouted "Stop!" Then turning to a friend asked: "Will you please go down to my house and ask my wife to pack my clothes?"
If, by some hook or crook there could be an improvement in the mail service of St. Johns, 2,000 people would shout for joy. We do not speak in reference to Postmistress Clark, but the absence of Sunday mail. As it is now, no mail arrives in St. Johns from Saturday noon until Monday morning. A letter written Saturday evening is not sent on its way until Monday noon—unless it is taken to Portland and mailed there. St. Johns is probably the only city in the country of 3,000 population that does not have a Sunday mail. The long wait from Saturday noon till Monday morning is an inconvenience. But how to remedy it is a question.

N. A. Gee introduced a new style of moving houses when he transferred the Woolly buildings from Ivanhoe street to the lots near Pascal Hill's residence mounted on wheels.
Some of the most beautiful roses in St. Johns are to be seen in the yards of M. L. Rowland and C. N. Braasch. These families have been very generous with their choice flowers.
According to the city engineer no grade in the city can be inclined more than 11 per cent. The grade on the Burlington street hill is 9 per cent—steep enough to test the locomotion of an ordinary person in good health.
The funeral services of the late James Tufts were held from the Methodist church Saturday afternoon. Rev. F. L. Young officiating. Some very touching songs were sung—and the casket was literally covered with magnificent roses.
The St. Johns Title, Abstract and Trust Co. is a new concern with offices in the Holbrook block. The officers are T. T. Parker, president; L. B. Chipman, vice-president; S. M. Chipman, secretary and treasurer; and S. C. Sherrill, manager real estate department.
The parade of the school children on Memorial Day practically demonstrated the urgent need of an additional room in the public school for their accommodation. If Teddy had been present he would have been convinced there was no race suicide in this man's town.
Last Monday's Journal contained a half-page illustrated write up of the industries of St. Johns. Half-tone cuts of the Jones mill, Burlington place, the St. Johns Lumber Co.'s mill and the woolen mill gave the reader an idea of the progress in an industrial way along the water front.
On Sunday morning at the Methodist church Rev. F. L. Young took for his subject "A Message from Mars"—a play recently given in Portland which has for its moral the beauty of unselfishness. Mr. Young gave a graphic account of the play and concluded his sermon by a comparison of the "Man from Mars" with the "Man from Heaven," who also came to give lessons of true unselfishness.
The fountain proposed for the square in front of the Holbrook and Cochran blocks by Ald. Norton, is not, as many believe, a large one to be used by man and beast, but a small affair where the passerby may quench their thirst. In reference to it Mr. Norton said: "What I would like to see is a small iron drinking fountain erected. One costing $40 or $50 would be large enough for the purpose. It could have two faucets or pipes through which the water would run continuously, and with suitable drinking cups attached it would be a convenience every day in the year."

F. W. Coffyn, an experienced masseur, has opened a Turkish bath parlor at Hall's barber shop, and is now ready for customers. The place is well equipped, and all who wish may enjoy the luxury of a Turkish bath at any hour of the day or night.
Holmes Lodge No. 101, K. of P., will hold its annual memorial service Sunday, June 10, at 3 p. m. in the Congregational church. Rev. F. J. Warren will deliver the memorial address. Special music has been arranged for. All friends of the order are cordially invited to attend. Members of the lodge and all knights who can attend will meet at the I. O. O. F. hall at 2:30 p. m. sharp.
One need not be born with a veil or the gift of prophecy to foresee that lots between Fisk street in University Park and Macrum avenue in Northern hill on Dawson street which extends through the center of that rapidly growing district between the rivers in Portland, and now selling for $15 per front foot, will within twenty years from today, sell for one thousand dollars per front foot.
Those who built homes last year have something to be thankful for from the fact that lumber was cheaper by far than it is now. Lumber that sold for $9 a thousand feet a year ago now brings $18. There has been an advance in price of all building material from cement to shingles. With the prices of a year ago there would be twice the amount of building going on in St. Johns. As it is, every day sees the beginning of a couple or more new homes.
According to the latest price list issued by the lumber dealers the price of sidewalk material is as follows: Curbing and stringers $13 per M., street lumber $14 per M., sidewalk lumber for covering and corner blocks $15 per M. The above prices hold good until July 1, when they will be advanced. Figuring on the above prices sidewalks will cost, including labor and material, about 55 cents per lineal foot. Those contemplating improvements in this line will be able to figure accurately.
The long, tedious count of the ballots last Monday night and all day Tuesday served to keep the prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists on the anxious seat. Everybody seemed to be interested as to the result and frequent trips were made to the schoolhouse. The vote was close throughout the count. It was a see-saw race. First the "drys" would be in the lead, then the "wets" would come in for their inning. From the middle of Tuesday forenoon until late in the day the "wets" maintained a lead varying from 8 to 12 votes. No one was willing to acknowledge defeat until the last vote was counted. Each party had, like the darky holding the bear—a tail hold. But each imagined the consequences if the tail should break.

S. C. Sherrill, manager of the real estate department of the St. Johns Title, Abstract and Trust Co., made a business trip to Cornelius Monday. Mr. Sherrill believes St. Johns has a great future before it and that no city in the Northwest will grow as rapidly.
The Bon Ton barber shop presents a handsome interior by the addition of a new cabinet case. It is 16 feet long, has three mirrors and shelves and drawers conveniently arranged. It was designed and built by Harry Mansfield, the versatile tonsorial artist. It is a fine piece of work and proves its builder a skilled carpenter as well as a barber.
It was up at the school house during the count of the ballots when Deputy Sheriff Downey heard that Sheriff Tom Word was running behind. Stepping up to Jeff Nye, who was tiptoeing over the crowd watching the close count on the prohibition vote, he whispered: "Say, Jeff, I just heard that Word was 300 behind." Nye glared at him for a second, and then growled: "Tell with you and Word: I have troubles of my own."
