The ordinance recently passed by the council ordering the removal of all rubbish from and a general cleaning up of the alleys in the business district is a move in the right direction, and The Review hopes to see it carried out to the letter. A recent arrival from San Francisco states that he is not very much pleased with the way the relief funds are being administered there. He says many men who are drawing the highest wages are living in quarters provided for refugees and their families draw supplies from the general fund. That is not the most shameful part of it. Men connected with the disbursing of the relief are drawing $500 to $750 per month for their services from the bounty contributed by the country, and their underlings, seeing the graft all about them, are helping themselves from the things sent in and are appropriating the best of the food and clothing to their own use.

Last week Mr. Hill prepared several boxes of the last two varieties for shipment, and they presented an appearance that would make the average fruit grower envious. It is too bad, Pascal, that you did not go up to the cherry show and secure the blue ribbon.

A FEW WORDS

About the Location of Manufacturing Plants at St. Johns.

Pointing to the smoke issuing from the smoke stack of the St. Johns Lumber Co.'s mill, a well known citizen said: "I would like to see the smoke coming from a dozen more stacks along the river." So would everybody in St. Johns. But how is it going to be done?

With the best mill sites to be found on the Pacific coast it ought to be easy. But how? With the finest of water and rail transportation to be found anywhere, the water front of St. Johns ought to be crowded with factories. But who will offer the information as to how we will get them here?

The right kind of interest in the Commercial Club and its object will do a great deal towards inducing capitalists to cast their lot with us. The indifference of the people is quickly noticed by the manufacturer, and nothing will make him shy as suddenly as this indifference.

A well organized club of boosters—call it a commercial club or give it any other name you wish—is the best advertisement any town can have.

Are you a member of the local club? Do you take an interest in its work? Or, have you merely paid your initiation fee and sat back expecting the "other fellows" to land a dozen or less factories on the strength of your liberality? Smoke up, gentlemen! Holding back will not help you or the best town on the coast.

THE BONDS.

The City Hall Bonds Bring a Higher Premium.

When the hour arrived for opening the bids for $10,000 worth of city hall bonds last Tuesday there were only two in the hands of the recorder. Morris Bros. of Portland secured the bonds for $11,137.50. They had to bid up in order to get them, as the Peninsula Bank of this city had the stiff bid of $11,113.10. From the above figures it will be seen that the outside concern had to raise its former bid $36.50 in order to keep the bonds out of the hands of the local institution.

At a former sale, which was set aside on account of a legal technicality, the bonds sold for $11,001.00. In addition to paying an increased price, Morris Bros. also agree to furnish the printed bonds, which will cost about $50, making the bonds cost them $86.50 more than they did when they secured them at a former sale.

The result of the sale is very gratifying to all, and the long talked of and much needed city hall will now undoubtedly be pushed to completion without unnecessary delay.

SMOKER.

The Commercial Club Will Entertain Members and Friends

At a meeting of the Commercial Club held at the city hall Wednesday evening, at which several new members were added, it was decided to hold a smoker at Bickners' hall next Wednesday evening, July 25. Everybody is invited. There will be cigars for those who smoke and lemonade for those who are thirsty. The idea is to get everybody out that they may get acquainted.

If you are a member of the club be sure and be on hand. If you contemplate joining the club, come and mingle with the rest. Try and get there about 8 o'clock. Every member of the club and all their friends will be there, and it will be a good time to get acquainted.
