Bolen Bros. have just completed the handsome residence of P. H. Edlefsen on the corner of Charles and Fillmore streets. The new home is one of the most attractive in the city, and commands a view that is second to none.

Ties are on the ground and work on the Oak Park and Northwestern will soon begin. This is the name given the new switch down Myers street from Cedar Park by Richard Shepard. Otherwise it is the electric road to the brick yard.

Over one hundred of the workmen employed in St. Johns board and room in Portland, carrying their dinners with them to work each day. Any one doubting this statement should watch the cars arrive each morning between 7 and 8 o'clock.

Bandmaster Wright is in receipt of a set of resolutions thanking the band for their services during a recent excursion of the employees of Neustadter Bros.' Overall Factory of Portland to the Jones hop fields. A piece of poetry accompanying the same was not bad.

The work of laying the rails on the St. Johns electric line from McKenna avenue to Maegley's junction will begin in a few days. The present right of way via Northern Hill to Smith's crossing will be abandoned and the track torn up. To many the new route appears to increase the distance from Portsmouth to St. Johns. It does not, as the mileage by the new route is exactly the same as it is at present.

Four hundred and sixty-three pupils were enrolled in the St. Johns public school last Monday—the first day of the term. Before a couple of weeks pass the attendance will likely be over 500. Numerous pupils are now absent in the hop fields and many have not returned from their summer vacations. At the close of the spring term the enrollment was 430. At this rate of increase of pupils it can easily be seen that the erection of another school house in St. Johns in the near future is imperative.

Ten dollars down and ten cents a day are the terms on which University Park lots are sold. University Park lots are selling right along while others stand still, because University Park has the largest payroll on the peninsula, because it has Bull Run water, a university which brings a cultured class, a liquor restriction which excludes saloons, Portland public schools, and first and foremost it believes that a steady growth and good morals pay best in the long run. Francis I. McKenna is the selling agent for University Park lots.

J. Perry Condon of the Christian denomination has erected a large tent for the purpose of holding religious services on the lots near the Chicago Rooming House. The congregation of this church in St. Johns numbers about fifty members. It is their intention to build a substantial church in this city in the near future. The society owns a building site on Chicago street near the Baptist church.

The Dead Game Sports club has reorganized for the season. The same old grounds adjoining the city have been leased. Oyster Bill as gamekeeper is busy fattening the ducks and ducklets with the finest wheat money can buy. On the first Monday in October the members of the club intend to distribute 250 nice fat ducks among their friends. No one will be allowed to receive over six ducks.

INTERESTING

Was the Meeting of the Commercial Club.

A fair attendance and an interesting meeting was the result of the session of the Commercial Club Wednesday evening.

After the minutes of the last meeting had been read and approved C. M. Bishop of the state fair excursion committee made a detailed report of the receipts and expenditures. To arrange for minor details the committee was given another week in which to make a complete report.

In order to close the record and discharge the committee the secretary was instructed to ask for a detailed report of the collections and disbursements from those having the Fourth of July celebration in charge.

As the committee appointed to investigate as to the non-landing of boats at the city dock reported the offending piles still protruding it was continued for another week.

A letter from the Columbia Engineering Works, a steel casting concern of Portland, was read a second time. This company claims to be the only one in its line on the coast. It is desirous of locating in St. Johns, and asks what inducements would be offered. At present about 110 men were employed in its shops.

The secretary was instructed to confer with the magazine advertising committee and ascertain what had been done.

The secretary made a detailed report on the advertising subscription list. His figures showed the amount collected, paid out, funds on hand, and bills payable.

The bill of $6 from Knight & Glover for hall rent was ordered paid.

An invitation of the Oaks management to come over some fine evening and go through all the attractions at half price was accepted, and W. H. King and W. E. Swengel were appointed as the committee of arrangements.

The knitting mill proposed for St. Johns came up for thorough discussion, and was heartily endorsed by all present. As a result of the talk Messrs. King, Swengel, Bishop and Wood were appointed a committee to inquire into the proposition.

John Poff—J. Henry Smith will finish his contract at Pleasanton, Texas, the first of next month, and may return to St. Johns to look after his property interests.

If one pound of hops will make 3 1/4 glasses of beer, how many drunks does a prohibitionist furnish by picking 11 1/2 pounds of hops an hour and working 9 1/4 hours a day?

So far about 2,000 hunter's licenses have been issued by County Clerk Fields. Averaging ten birds and 100 cartridges to the license one has a faint idea as to the powder exploded and the game killed.

Maud Creffield and Esther Mitchell are having their inning at Seattie this week, and the ghost of the departed Holy Roller leader is hovering over that city, according to the belief of the murderers.

A frisky Fresno ball player burned his sky piece on the Portland grounds Wednesday because his club was defeated the day previous. It would have been more appropriate to burn Mitchell's bat which was responsible for Fresno's defeat.

New buildings are being erected and various improvements are being made throughout the city limits with undiminished vigor. If the price of building material had not soared to such a height, it is quite likely the number of new buildings would have almost doubled. As it is St. Johns has good reason to feel proud of her progress during the past year.

Rev. John M. Ferguson, Sunday School Missionary for the Presbytery of Portland, was in the city on Thursday. His mission here was for the purpose of looking the city over with the end in view of securing a suitable location for the establishment of a Presbyterian church. Rev. Ferguson stated that the time for mission schools in St. Johns had passed and that a church here was an absolute necessity. He also stated that the edifice would be modern in all its appointments and a credit to the city.

The spectacle of a man nicely settled in a rocking chair on the front porch singing "The Lord Will Provide," while his wife was in the back yard cutting kindling and digging potatoes was one of the sights that greeted the passerby in St. Johns recently.

B. T. Legget had several ripe strawberries among the vines in his yard the first of the week. They are the Magoon variety of berry. Mr. L. believes by irrigating the patch he could raise a second crop of strawberries. Still St. Johns is not an agricultural district.

Simmons & Co. finished the contract of grading the roadway and laying the sidewalk on South Jersey street yesterday. The work of grading on this contract was difficult and slow on account of the numerous stumps. As it stands today the street presents a neat appearance.

Yesterday morning there were 501 pupils in the public school. This is an increase of 150 over the same time last year. All the rooms in the main building are full and the two rooms of the portable are in use. The school board have elected Miss Delah of Evansville, Wis., and Miss Leah Chase to take care of the overflow. It is estimated by the first of November 550 pupils will be enrolled.

Many have asked The Review to call attention to the charred debris of the Hallberg building on Jersey street and ascertain whether it cannot be moved. All will admit that it is unsanitary and unsightly and something that does not impress the visitor favorably. If this pile of refuse was in somebody's back yard it would be a cause for action by the board of health. Why not let the sanitary department of the city recognize it in its present location?

Mr. Billings Douglass and Miss Bess Estella Butt, two of our popular young people, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony on Saturday evening, September 15, 1906, at the home of the groom's brother, R. Douglass at 321 Decatur street. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Fred J. Warren in his usual neat style, the party proceeded to the home of the groom's father, A. S. Douglass, where an elegant wedding dinner was served. The newly married couple departed amid a shower of congratulations for Southern Oregon, where they will spend their honeymoon. Upon their return they will take up their residence in St. Johns.

A game of base ball was played at the Hill grounds Sunday afternoon between the Montavilla team and the locals, resulting in a victory for the former by a score of 13 to 7. Owing to the fact that only four of the regular local club made their appearance on the grounds, a badly patched up nine was lined up to represent St. Johns. This, together with the miserable exhibition of a Montavilla man who essayed to do the umpiring, was the cause of the locals' undoing. As their opponents refused to play unless the Montavilla man presided, the home team submitted. Had the full team been on hand the locals would have had a padding.

Just what two young misses can do when they start out to do something has been given a practical demonstration by Miss Mildred L. Clemons of University Park and Miss Lillian McVicker of St. Johns in the Journal contest just ended. The vim and persistency of these slips of girls is worthy of imitation by people of mature years. Day in and out for three months they strove for the prize. The task was not an easy one. The pace was a terrific one and it was a hard, bruising race from the start. There was not a moment of idleness and neither relaxed their vigilance until the end. Considering their field the scores of these young ladies were the best of them all. The happy ending of the contest is that both secured the prize they were after.
