People make mistakes or change their minds and sacrifice their goods. It's unfortunate for them but it makes good bargains for some one at Shaw's Furniture store, French Block. Rockers, dining chairs, parlor and extension tables, stoves, ranges, dishes, sewing machines. These are good clean goods. Just like new, at prices way below the original.

James Massey, who mysteriously disappeared last May while under $20 bonds on a charge of disorderly conduct, returned to the city last Sunday night and was arrested by Chief of Police Brederson. On Monday he was sentenced to five days in the county jail. As he was being locked up he was relieved of a revolver. On his release from the county jail he will be rearrested on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

It may be news to many of our readers to learn that the hills opposite the river are dotted with surveyors' stakes bearing the peculiar marks of the men who survey rights of way. Just what these stakes are for or what the marks on them mean no one knows. One person who has extensive interests over there says he believes they are for a fast electric line that will be built half way up the hill, and which will use a third rail. Another who claims to have inside information says a new steam railroad has something to do with the survey. As it was only a short time ago that many of us were figuring out the marks on the stakes that were driven in the northern part of the city, it is now in order to climb the hills across the river and put on our thinking caps.

On account of the dislocation of the wires the arc lights have been out of business for the past week. The incandescents failed to respond only two evenings on account of the damage by the storm.

The telephones in St. Johns have been out of commission for the past ten days, or ever since the first "silver thaw." One of the line-men informs The Review that it may be a week or more before everything is in working order.

In riding to or from the city on the electric line it is easy to tell whether the crew is an old and experienced one or whether it is made up of raw material. The jolts distributed and the time made by the latter are enough to drive a decent man to drink.

Bennett Bros. of the St. Johns meat market are placing on the market breakfast bacon, sugar cured hams and pure lard of their own make, and are hardly able to supply the demand. These are the good old fashioned goods that the meat trust cannot afford to make.

A series of special meetings will be held in the Evangelical church commencing Sunday, February 10, and continuing until Sunday, February 24. Services will begin at 7:45 each evening. Rev. C. P. Gates of Brooks, will assist the pastor, Rev. E. E. McVicker. Rev. Gates is a young man, and as such would especially desire to have the young men and women attend each evening.

During the past week any one who cared could have seen the transfer of a large locomotive and a steam shovel engine from the O. R. & N. tracks on the water front to the tracks on the right of way of the Portland & Seattle railroad in the southern part of the city. Although the conditions were unfavorable good progress was made and the outfit is now at its destination. The two engines were brought over the O. R. & N. tracks to Salem street, thence up the Edison and Richmond street hills to the electric line and then to the tracks on the right of way. The temporary track was laid by a large force of men. The steam shovel engine acted as a pusher for the locomotive. It was a bit of freighting seldom seen. The lighter machinery for work on the cut was conveyed to points along the line by the Portland & Suburban Express Co.

GRADUATING

Exercises Held at the St. Johns High School Last Evening.

Interesting graduating exercises were held in the school building last evening. The class was composed of eighteen students of the eighth grade who graduated into the high school. An excellent program was rendered, the selections being taken from the works of Charles Dickens. A large audience was in attendance and greatly enjoyed the numbers as rendered. The occasion brought out the fact that St. Johns has some particularly bright young people, and reflects great credit upon the instructors who so ably prepared them for the graduation. The class colors were cream and Alice blue, and the motto—"Still up, up, up; and round and round; and up, up, up; higher, higher up!" Following were the members of the class:

COMMERCIAL CLUB

Increased Attendance and an Interesting Meeting.

A well attended meeting of the Commercial club was held at the office of D. C. Rogers Wednesday evening to take action on incorporating the club, renting permanent quarters and furnishing the same. After being thoroughly discussed it was decided to incorporate the club for $1000, all stock to be subscribed to carry interest at 6 per cent.

The committee on furnishing the rooms presented a list of furnishings including two billiard tables, calling for an expenditure of $800. The president stated that this list could be increased or decreased at the option of the club. It was finally decided to omit the billiard tables for the present.

Concerning quarters for the club A. D. McDonald stated that it would be at least sixty days before he could submit a definite proposition to the club.

The secretary submitted a report from the treasurer showing that the total receipts had been $193. Out of this sum bills had been paid amounting to $43. Bills aggregating $75.75 were still unpaid.

A resolution was adopted petitioning the legislature to pass a law compelling the land grant company to sell their lands in Southern Oregon at $2.50 per acre.

Subscription Notice.

The subscription price of THE REVIEW outside of Multnomah county is $1.50 per year in advance. All papers will be discontinued at the expiration of the time paid for.

The Wagoner Co.,
Formerly St. Johns Grocery Co.

NEW FIRM NAME

The Old Firm Name Outgrown by the Addition of Many New Lines.

From the first of February the old name the St. Johns Grocery Co., ceased to apply to the big store on the corner. The name for several years has represented the grocery firm, but since hundreds of new lines have been added it no longer applies appropriately to the business. Our new furniture stove and hardware line filled the long link that put us in the line of a full-fledged department store. We are now able to furnish a house "from cellar to garret." Every new customer now puts us in a position to sell goods cheaper and to give our customers better service. As the store grows, each department grows, and in this way a man or woman is put in charge of this certain department and is held responsible for that certain department, and is capable of giving the very best of service to one and all. From one clerk and a driver eighteen months ago the big store now has four regular clerks and one extra a part of the time, and with the arrival of the spring months we expect to have to add another. Nothing speaks better for our prices and service than our immense growth. During the past week several hundred dollars worth of groceries have been added, and we will continue to add to this department right along until it meets our own approval as the most up-to-date grocery department in Portland. We want you to come in and see.
