Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

There is probably no medicine made that is relied upon with more implicit confidence than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. During the third of a century in which it has been in use, people have learned that it is the one remedy that never fails. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. For sale by St. Johns Drug Store.

THE STORY EASILY TOLD

The reason of our splendid success for the first month's business in St. Johns is because our prices are lower in many instances than Portland prices, and our goods are always the best.

H. S. Hewitt and T. J. Monahan returned last Saturday from La Grande, where they attended the grand lodge of I. O. F. They speak in the highest terms of the hospitality of the citizens of the Eastern Oregon city and the entertainment provided for the hundreds of visitors.
The indifference of the street car company to provide transportation for intending visitors to St. Johns last Sunday was the subject of much unfavorable comment. Many waited an hour and a half at Russell street before they could be accommodated with a ride. It is estimated that the attendance at the ball game was cut down 500 admissions because of the indifference of the street car company in providing a sufficient number of cars.

LA GRANDE

An Interesting Chapter on That City and Its Inhabitants

BY A DELEGATE.

Editor Review:
"We have been to La Grande and La Grande was ours." I say ours; of course I mean the I. O. O. F.'s, as you know the grand lodge of this Order met there on the 22 inst., and surely they were welcomed and entertained royally by the local lodge and citizens of La Grande. And let me say right here that all the representatives of the grand lodge feel under deep obligations to these same citizens for their untiring efforts to make our stay pleasant, and it was with much reluctance that a great many of the delegates left the city. In fact it was feared Laurel Lodge was going to lose their heavy weight. Of course no one means H. S. H.—t. The Grand Ronde valley is rightly named. Magnificent! Glorious! Beautiful! were the expressions heard on every side as the valley came to our view, approaching it from the eastern slope of the Blue mountains. The city could be seen from the cars for some distance ahead, and as the train slowed down at the station the band burst forth in beautiful notes of welcome. In response to the invitation of the chairman of the local committee to follow the band we were led to the commodious rooms of the Commercial club and told to deposit our luggage as everything belonging to the Odd Fellows was perfectly safe in La Grande. We were then told to cross the street to the M. E. church where a sumptuous breakfast awaited us. On our return to the club rooms each and every delegate was assigned rooms in the very best homes of the city. Every one was supplied without any effort on their part. The committee did not overlook the fact that there were a great many of the delegates who had never visited the valley before. Arrangements had been made with the livery stables and garages to furnish any and all who wished free rides over the valley. Also a splendid excursion to Summerville was arranged for, of which a great many availed themselves. One society that helped greatly to make our stay pleasant, a people who have been maligned and much abused through ignorance of their teaching, but who are perfect ladies and gentlemen just the same, were the Mormon people who so generously opened the doors of the grand lodge, and whether we believe the teachings of Joseph Smith or not I hope when the doors of the Great Tabernacle above is thrown open they will all be there.
