The Scattle spirit will not have a look in with the rose fiesta. Poor Seattle! She might get up a hot air show.

Filling in marshes with slab wood and raising the price of the same, as the Portland lumber mills are doing, is not going to encourage homeseekers to the Rose City. One of the things Portland needs to do is to eliminate the hog.

Last Friday the Telegram print ed a story to the effect that build ing lumber was $6 per thousand cheaper in San Francisco than it is at the mills along the Willamette is actually the case, and the story

While it is really none of The Review's business it would like to see Clerk Tauch of the school board draw more pay for the work he does for the district. It has only recently come to light that his salary is only $12.50 per month. The school board voted him an additional $12.50, but his extreme D. N. Byerlee, a well known modesty would not permit him to accept the extra wages. The work lone by the clerk is easily worth double what he draws and it is hoped that he will see fit to accept the extra money.

It might be well for the council and the companies seeking a gas franchise in this city to give a little publicity to their plans The benefits are supposed to be mutual between the company and the consumer, but as the latter will pay the bills it is no more than right and proper that he be acquainted with all the facts. To the general public a gas franchise means more than one of two members of the council interesting themselves in obtaining what a corporation demands. Let the quality and price of the gas be thoroughly under stood. Also, grant to the company privileges that are fair, and at the same time give the public the pro tection it descrives.
