Local News.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Johnson, of Dallas, Ore., visited at the home of C. H. Thayer and family over Sunday.

N. P. Adams, of Aurora, was in the city the week visiting old friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Swengel.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of Oswego were down to visit their friends, the family of G. Ward, on the Fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Franklin, of South Bend, Ore., were in the city over Sunday, guests of C. H. Thayer and family.

J. K. Johnson, of the West Coast Laundry is laid up with rheumatism or lumbago, which is a hard graft for the washee man.

Among the passengers to Ilwaco on the steamer Potter last Saturday were R. W. McKeon and W. L. Thorndyke, wife and daughter.

Jesse Kronsop arrived Friday from Loveland, Colo., on a visit to Laurence Thorndyke. He expects to remain in this vicinity for some time.

Rev. M. J. Ballentyne, presiding elder of Portland district of the United Evangelical church, will preach morning and evening, Sunday, July 14. All are invited. C. P. Gale, pastor.

The St. Johns Clothing House people are ready and willing to get anything you want in Portland, thus saving you the trip, and is an up-to-date establishment worthy of the patronage of our home people.

The Charleston and the Paul Jones, of the Pacific Coast Naval Station, participated in the Fourth of July festivities, and will go to Astoria to be present during the visit of vice-president Fairbanks.

A friend of our chief of police, living in Portland, made him a most beautiful present of an emblematic gold ring bearing the emblems of the order of Odd Fellows, of which Mr. Bredeson is especially proud.

Mrs. Jennie V. Nelson, of Greeley, Colo., is visiting her sons, Ed Stockton and Carl Nelson, at St. Johns. She expects to remain here during the summer and then go to San Jose, Cal., to visit another son, Albert Stockton, of that place.

F. G. Couch, who has been visiting his father's family since last February, left St. Johns for his old home in Frankford, Mich., and returns to his first love, a "life on the ocean wave" on the great lakes, where he has been a sailor for a number of years.

The stillness of the summer air was greatly disturbed this week by a young man with a megaphone and a voice like a steam calliope on a foggy morning, spelling for the wonder of the age in the Holbrook block. If all men had a vocal piece like this fellow there would be no further use for wireless telegraphy.

E. H. Brunson, of Newberg, has been visiting his son, L. W. Brunson, the past few days. Mr. Brunson comes to St. Johns frequently and would be a good victim to get in the hands of our real estate operators. We believe if their wonderful persuasive powers were concentrated upon him he might be induced to locate here. He has a very exalted opinion of St. Johns.

Mrs. Harry E. Wagoner is visiting her parents at Dallas.

Mrs. Josie Dunn and family of Oswego visited with Mrs. G. Ward over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Leland returned Sunday from a Fourth of July visit at Oregon City.

The Woodmen of the World entertained the Circle at Bickner's hall last Tuesday evening and all enjoyed a good time.

The officers of Oregon Grape Circle were installed by the Portland lodge on July 3rd. Lunch was served and a good time was had.

Oregon Grape Circle, Women of Woodcraft, will give a lawn party at the home of Mrs. John Crook on Jersey street next Friday evening, July 12. Everybody come.

Charles Leland, the young man who was thrown from a delivery wagon and badly injured last week at Stewart station is recovering, but still carries his arm in a sling.

S. H. Wells, the Oregonian representative who covers this territory, came in Monday and sized up the new man on the Review. Glad to meet up with the boys. Come again.

M. L. Holbrook is treating his brick block on Burlington street to a coat of paint, which will give it a better appearance and incidentally give the walls greater resistance against moisture.

Richard Shepard brought in a fine specimen of pure asbestos from a carload of the material received by the asbestos factory here Tuesday. It is the purest piece of asbestos we have seen.

Professor Geo. W. Webb, singing evangelist, who gave a stereopticon lecture in Bickner's hall last night, is the guest of Victor Carlson, an old friend of the professor, at 624 North Ivanhoe.

Rev. W. A. Wood, of Hood River, a friend of ye editor, favored the office with a pleasant call Tuesday. He was in Portland on business connected with the building of the Christian church in Hood River.

The Christian church in convention at Turner decided to build a home for aged preachers and their wives, to be located probably at Eugene, and $20,000 was subscribed for the erection of a Chinese mission in Portland, which is to cost $40,000.

Monday morning Christopher Nelson, a sawyer for the Peninsula sawmill, was caught by a belt and before assistance could reach him his left arm was torn from his socket. He was taken to St. Vincent's hospital where he died of his injuries Wednesday evening.

For the benefit of our readers who may not be able to come to the office to leave orders, pay subscriptions or transact other business during working hours, we will keep our office open between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock p. m. Drop in; this will be our visiting hour. It is our busy day at all other hours, but come in anyway.

Gus Wilhelm is building a fine residence at Point View.

Mrs. Frank of Point View has sold the residence in which she is living.

T. J. Lindley has finished remodeling his house. It now presents an attractive appearance.

Take notice of Colvin & Henderson's new ad "a Bargain in a Small Farm." This is a snap for someone.

We wish to secure a good, live correspondent in Linnton, Portsmouth and University Park. If you are in a position to do us good work write us at once.

Mrs. Thorndyke, who went with the bunch to Ilwaco a few days ago, declares there is no place like St. Johns, and she felt like getting out of jail when she returned home. Good! That is the way they all feel who return to St. Johns from the outside.

Mrs. Jones and daughter and Mrs. Palmer, of Point View, have returned from berry picking near Mount Hood. They report being financially rewarded for their trip, besides receiving gratis all the berries they needed for canning.

The St. Johns Lumber company is installing one of the finest and largest, if not the finest and largest of all the drykilns on the Pacific coast. It is 50x150 feet, some 20 or more feet in height, carries three tracks its entire length and has a capacity of about 75,000 feet of dry lumber per day.

Members of the Modern Woodmen living in the city, but who still have their membership in their old home camps, are especially invited to place their membership in St. Johns camp 7546. They will find it much more convenient and beneficial to both this camp and themselves.

Ed Monahan, the genial whisker expert in Hall's shop, is laid up for repairs. He was doctoring a house last Monday in an attempt to make it more habitable, when a chisel he was using slipped and cut a deep gash between the thumb and finger of Ed's left hand. While not dangerous, it will keep him from swinging his "razzer" for a couple of weeks.

The Epworth League of the First M. E. church of St. Johns held its regular monthly business meeting and social Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Kemp, on Stewart street. After the business meeting games were played until a late hour, when refreshments, consisting of lemonade and wafers, were served to the many people who were present.

Now, Hood River, prick up your ears! You are good stuff on apples but we can skin you a mile on cherries. Pascal Hill is marketing his fine Lamberts this week, and one ten pound box which he brought to Bonham & Currier's was snapped up by Adam Kaemlein at $2.50 to ship back to his old home in Michigan. They packed tightly nine in a row each way—fine, big, plump, black fellows that the people in Michigan will think are peach plums when they get there.

THE NATIONAL TEA STORE

St. Johns has never witnessed bargains which stand out in the limelight of selling events more prominently for unusual values than those to be had at the bargain counter department of the National Tea Store.

THE 5, 10 and 15 cent Counter
Department of the NATIONAL TEA STORE contains bargains in China-ware, Glassware, Granite and Tinware, Notions, etc.

Marvelous savings appear to those who visit the china and crockery department. On account of low rent our prices are from 25 to 50 per cent lower than Portland prices; our stock as large and the selections much later. Visit our store whenever you are up town. Whether you buy or not, make our store your headquarters.

Howard Helms is in Mount Taber visiting his uncle, John Dennis, and family during vacation.

Miss Francis Severance, formerly a resident of St. Johns, was married Thursday evening to Mr. Helman of Portland.

Miss May Shepard returned from Hood River Wednesday, and with her friend, Miss Hazel Carlson, will go for a season to Seaside.

The main and business section of our town should be kept well sprinkled with water during the dry season, especially on Sunday.

Anna Brice, Maurine Thurmond, Vina Swan and James Schrimsher, of St. Johns, entered sweet peas in the Portland contest Wednesday.

Quite a number of St. Johns people witnessed the fireworks on the night of the Fourth from the top of the water tower. They report a grand view.

The main supports for the bridge on the boulevard over the north bank road cut are about all in position. In a short time the bridge will be ready for travel.

Miss Minnie McClave of the St. Johns hotel is attending a convention at Seattle this week. Mrs. Hillier has charge of her rooms. On her return Miss McClave will go to Denver.

J. S. Buseick has purchased a large sheep ranch at Hamilton, Ore., and will leave for that point at once. We are sorry to lose Mr. Buseick from our city, but wish him unbounded success in his new location.

Miss Clara Beller, our champion compositor, is enjoying her summer vacation in Seattle and other sound cities. Miss Beller has been holding the case down very faithfully for several months and we trust she may have the time of her life on her trip.

Ex-State Printer J. R. Whitney was a pleasant caller in The Review office Wednesday. Mr. Whitney has invested largely in real property in Portland and his training with realty handlers here seems to create the impression that he may have a weakness for some of St. Johns' fine investments.
