LINNTON LOCALS

By JOHN M. TEES.

W. F. Harris started a new 20x50 store building, the lower part to be used as a store and the upper part to be used for a hall.

W. F. Joyce was presented with a bouncing baby boy, weighing eight pounds.

A party of eastern capitalists have purchased the old mill site adjoining the Association Oil Co., for the purpose of erecting a large saw mill. The new owners are anxious to start work, and operations will begin after the first of September.

Mrs. Bacon had a very narrow escape from being killed by a seemingly gentle horse, which becoming frightened at some object gave a quick turn, upsetting the buggy and throwing Mrs. Bacon and her two children violently to the ground. Luckily they escaped with slight bruises.

Miss Huddleston of Butte, Mont., is spending her vacation visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. Shelk.

Miss Dunkle and Miss Haley are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Burley on Knob Hill, Linnton.

The Willamette B. & I. Co. are going to enlarge their plant so as to double their present capacity.

The firm of Miller & Coffee will open their haberdashery establishment about September 10.

Mr. — is going to open a restaurant in town. Where are the baker and blacksmith?

Who said we ought to have a street railway running to Linnton? Why we are not ready for it as yet. When we are ready we will get it.

Mr. Hill sold his pretty little cottage to Mr. Lettinen.

The addition on the school house is growing like a mushroom.

A young lady who was about to step into a boat containing a party of Linnton young folks going for a ride on the river, slipped on a smooth board and fell in about two and a half feet of water. Before she could recover enough to get up a young man rushed down the steps, stepped on the same slippery board and well—Fred says he is going to leave the rescuing of fair ladies to our gallant Vice President Fairbanks. He is now picking the slivers out one at a time saying: "She loves me she loves me not."

The large steamship, Queen Alexandra, will take about 3,000,000 feet of lumber to Shanghai, China, from the Clark & Wilson mill.
