Local News.

He who by his his would rise Must either bust or advertise. The Multnomah County fair. Mr. Satterlee began the erection of his residence on North Ivanhoe Tuesday.

Mrs. Stennet of North Gilbert street is reported seriously ill with heart trouble.

Mrs. Ross of Fairview, Or., is in the city visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. W. Vincent.

Barney Noonan the popular clerk at Conch & Co.'s store has been seriously ill for some days, but is able to be out again.

Remember the Sunday services at the United Evangelical church. Preaching at 11 a. m. No services at night. C. P. Gates, pastor.

The Fraternal Brotherhood will give a dance in the M. W. A. hall next Thursday evening. A good time is assured. Everybody invited. Tickets 25 cents.

The Vogue Millinery Co. reports lively sales at their emporium of feminine adornment and Mrs. T. R. Anderson reports splendid business also at her millinery store.

N. A. Gee went down to the car barns with his outfit to raise the roof of a store building near that place so as to enable the owner to put another story on his store.

We noticed a sunflower just west of the new schoolhouse which should go to the Multnomah county fair at Gresham, stalk and all. It is the finest specimen we ever saw.

Mrs. Sarah A. Smith and Mrs. Martin of Oregon City visited over Sunday at the home of B. F. Hoover and family. The two ladies are mother and sister of Mrs. Hoover. Mrs. Smith is a former resident of St. Johns.

Roy Poff, who has been attending college at Corvallis, was not prepossessed with the city at first, but recently wrote that it was all right, that he had found some old friends of his father there and was enjoying his college days to the full.

W. Scott Kellogg, who recently went east on a vacation, returned last Tuesday. It is said he committed matrimony while away, and as he does not deny the soft impeachment, we must take it for true and extend hearty congratulations.

Wm. T. Burlington, formerly of Independence, Iowa, has come to St. Johns to make his home. He is working in the interests of the St. Johns Bank and will meet with our citizens daily. Mr. Burlington appears to be a very agreeable gentleman, and we wish him success in his work.

Mrs. Thordorson and two daughters from Esmond, North Dakota, visited with Mrs. Samuel Swengel several days last week. These estimable ladies are on a tour of the west and are perfectly delighted with Portland and the country around. They are thinking of locating here.

Mr. Prall, of the Prall Mercantile company, who gave his opening last week, is very favorably impressed with the reception he has received at the hands of our people. He regrets very much that some of his goods were delayed in arriving for the opening as he had anticipated they would be, but they are coming in every day and his stock will be built up as rapidly as they arrive.

Some people think times are a little slow in St. Johns, but a look at the record of building permits will show that there has been a pretty good business doing in the city's growth since last November. The record was commenced on the first day of that month with number 1. This week we have passed the century mark in that record, as will be seen by reference to our columns.

The people of St. Johns generally will be glad to know that Rev. F. L. Young was returned to this charge for another year by the annual conference. Next Sunday will be his first meeting of the new year. Mr. Young has made many warm friends in St. Johns since coming here who will congratulate themselves on having him for a fellow worker during the coming year of his pastorate.

F. P. Babbitt left this week for Pierre, S. D., where Mrs. Babbitt has been for some time holding down a claim. They will remain there until they prove up. Mr. Babbitt likes it here very much better than in Pierre and if they can make their arrangements will return here as they still retain their property in Point View. Of course they had the Review sent to them each week, where it goes with our best wishes for their success and a safe return to St. John.

The abominable crime committed in Baker City Monday night seems almost incomprehensible. There may be some excuse for such actions in Russia, where the people are made worse than slaves by the persecutions of the autocracy, but here where men are free there is none. Nothing short of a disposition as diabolical as that of the fiend incarnate could desire such a thing, much less to put it in execution, and there is no punishment on earth severe enough to expiate such a crime. Ex-Sheriff Brown had a number of friends in St. Johns who knew him well and speak of his life in the highest terms.

ST. JOHNS DAY AT FAIR

A Large Attendance Should Represent This City.

Acting upon a suggestion from the Multnomah County Fair committee the St. Johns Commercial club at its meeting Wednesday evening decided to take the matter up and have a large delegation as possible represent this city at Gresham. A committee was appointed to ascertain how many desired to attend and to make arrangements for transportation. The Fair committee has expressed a willingness to give a day to be designated as St. Johns Day at the fair, and the club is desirous that the people prove that St. Johns is on the map by sending a booster crowd to the county fair. There should be enough to fill two or three cars at least from St. Johns. It is only in this way that we may aid this part of the efforts of our enterprising citizens to develop our great state and place her where she belongs, at the head of the list in wealth, as she is in beauty of scenery and healthfulness of climate.

All those desiring to go are requested to leave their name with Mr. Moxon at the postoffice, Frank Goodell's cigar store or at this office. This should be done as early as possible so that the proper number of cars may be arranged for.

The committee has not had time to make arrangements in regard to transportation, but it is expected to be so arranged that the cars will make no stops between this city and Portland. At that point the trolley will be taken to Gresham. The fare for the round trip will not be much, probably 30 cents. Next week these matters will be definitely announced.

As many of our business houses as can should give one or more of their employes a day off, give them a badge representing their business. The manufacturers would receive a great deal of advertising if they should send a representative on St. Johns Day with some of their products made up in miniature and either place them on display or have their representative carry them throughout the day.

Let everybody go. Gresham deserves it for the trouble she has gone to to make the affair a success. It will be a good advertisement for St. Johns. The day selected and hour of departure will be announced next week.

Building Permits Issued.

95—To F. B. Granger, to erect a residence on lot 13, block 10, St. Johns Heights addition; fronting on Monteith, between Polk and Buchanan streets. $300.

96—To W. E. Hillis, to erect addition to residence on north half of subdivisions tract "A" addition; fronting on Charleston between Swanson street and Smith's road. $150.

100—To J. E. Hiller to erect a residence on lot 3, block 3, Grimes addition; fronting on Portland boulevard between Chicago and Silas streets. $1400.

101—To S. H. Satterlee to erect a residence on lot 2, block 4, in Chipman addition; fronting on Ivanhoe between Trumbull and Fessenden streets. $1200.

Don't Play Hookey.

Parents and pupils will take notice that Chas. Bredeson, chief of police, has been made truant officer. The provisions of the truant law will be rigidly enforced. All know what they are. We trust every child in the city whom the law requires to be in school will be there, that there may be no need for any enforcement of the provisions of this law. This is an age of education, and the child who does not take advantage of the days of his youth to acquire it, will most certainly be badly handicapped in the after years of his life. Parents should consider this and assist the truant officer to the utmost in discharge of his duty.

Belieu-Rood.

Perry Belieu of this city was married last Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rood, near Mount Hood at high noon to Miss Ila Rood, one of Hood River's nicest and best young ladies. We have known both these young people ever since they were little children. They are of the best of the earth, and we wish them all the happiness and prosperity that such people deserve. They will make their home in St. Johns and we bespeak for them a host of good friends as soon as they become known to our people.

Computing Machine.

The adding machine is a boon to the weary bookkeeper. There are adding machines and adding machines, and not every one is as ingenious and capable of doing the work of one recently left in the office of the city recorder for him to play with.

We were over there yesterday for information and asked him to play a little tune on it for our delectation. Mr. Esson is nothing if not accommodating. That is part of his profession. He had September's receipts ready to be footed and in about five minutes he had them all recorded on the machine simply by playing on a lot of keys looking much like the keys of our Smith-Premier. Then he asked us how long it would take us to foot up the column which ran up into seven figures. We replied it would take some time as the column was about a foot long. He simply touched a little lever and pulled another, when, presto, the footing showed on the paper.

He also showed us how the different operations of correcting errors testing for accuracy, etc., were made and we noticed there was one lever he did not touch. Like any chump that was just the lever we wished to know all about and told him so. Mr. Esson replied: "Oh, I don't just know what that is, I have never used it," and pulled it to him. He pulled the throttle wide open, and this started the machine going. It is a fine piece of mechanism.
