United Artisans have changed their meeting night from Tuesday to Monday nights.

Ernest Owens sold his interest in the pool room to his brother and left for Bonners Ferry, Idaho.

Register at the city hall for the city election. County registration will not count for the city election.

Mrs. Reynolds, mother of Mrs. G. W. Dunbar and Mrs. Harvey Smith is quite ill at the home of Mrs. Smith, with the grip.

Uncle Jack Curran of Portland was in the city last Friday rounding up some of his friends. Uncle Jack is a typical Irishman, witty, warmhearted and above all a natural born gentleman.

J. W. Morrow, a prominent citizen of Estacada, was in the city Monday for a few minutes looking over the business part of the city. One of the best things Mr. Morrow ever did was to marry one of our prettiest Iowa cousins.

B. F. Belieu, who has been in the southern part of the state for a few weeks, returned last week but little benefited by his trip and is not feeling the best in the world. He hopes, however, when the spring opens up to regain his usual health.

The county commissioners have raised the license of saloons outside of incorporated towns from $450 a year to $600. As this city does not propose to be behind in anything it is said the city council is considering raising the license fee here to $2,000 annually. The saloonmen are said to be very much in favor of the raise.—LaCamas Post.

J. C. Brooks, son of our townsman, who recently left for Alaska, arrived in Juneau in just seven days from date of leaving at 9 o'clock and went to work at 10 o'clock. J. C. never was much of a hand to fool time away, but he has made a record here. He says it is not very cold there and but little snow.

A Silverton man picked ripe raspberries last week.—Journal. That is not so very much. We have had ripe raspberries every day this winter and there are lots of them on the bushes now which we can show the Silverton man and the Journal if they will come and see.

James Lawler from Alaska is in the city visiting friends and looking after his property interests here. Mr. Lawler is in the employ of the Klukit Packing Co., of Alaska, and puts up the finest salmon in the world, salmon that never reaches fresh with its softening influences. Mr. Lawler likes this country and some day when he has amassed a large enough fortune may come here to spend the remainder of his days. We hope so at least.

Papers were signed Wednesday evening whereby all the output of the Oregon Flake Food company will be taken at a good cash price from their factory as fast as they can make it. This puts this fine institution on easy street at once. The buyer does his own advertising, distributing, etc. The only thing our boys have to do is to blow up their muscles and grind out the goods. We congratulate them on their early success.

Bids are being advertised for the construction of the O. R. & N. tunnel across the peninsula. This tunnel was to have been built last year but scarcity of labor and high prices demanded for the same made the company hold over to the present time. Now that men are plentiful and labor cheaper the work will be pushed as fast as possible. The prospect of the immediate operations on the tunnel is causing considerable activity in real estate transfers near Mangley junction.

Peninsula lodge I. O. O. F. did the handsome thing by S. L. Young, their pianist, last Christmas. They made him a present of $10 to be used as he saw fit. To even up with the lodge to some extent at least Brother Young turned the money over to E. B. Holcomb and had him order the finest musician's collar he could get. It is a "peach" and at lodge it fairly dazzles the eyes of the beholders. Naturally Brother Young gets chesny when he thinks of the fine collar.

One day last week City Engineer Edwards went into his room in the city hall and as he was in the habit of doing left his keys in the lock. Some one came along and thinking to save Mr. Edwards the possibility of having the keys stolen turned the key in the lock, took it out and left it with the recorder. Mr. Edwards tried to open his door when he was ready to come out of his room but found it locked. He hammered on the door, kicked it, cursed a little, and finally crawled out of his back window and came around to the recorder's where he found the recorder, Ed Stockton, and a number of others doubled up with laughter over some joke, and he will not believe the individual who took the key out was trying to save it for him. Some people are awfully suspicious.

The St. Johns creamery is now prepared to fill orders for milk, cream, butter, cheese, eggs at their location in the rear of the St. Johns clothing store and orders may be left either in the St. Johns clothing store or at the creamery. This will prove a boon to many who have had a hard time getting milk, cream and eggs.

The skating rink will close down for the season after next Sunday. Skating each evening until that time, however.

B. E. Prather, another Hood Riverite, has located on the peninsula, and is employed as street car motorman on the suburban.

Ernest Elliott of Myrtle Park, is reported seriously ill with pneumonia, and his friends here will be interested to know how he progresses.

Thomas Storr, brother of W. A. Storr, arrived this week from Marquette, Mich., and will make this his future home. He thinks the climate here is a big improvement over that of Michigan.

Do not fail to register on the city register books at the city hall. Registering in the county register will not suffice for city voting. You must register in the city register or swear in your vote.

Mrs. McHenry of Eugene, arrived in St. Johns Wednesday, where she will make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Brooks, for a time and if the city and climate here are agreeable will remain permanently.

A joint stock company is being formed to install a tannery somewhere near the Swift Packing company. The tanning process to be used is the new anti-oak recently discovered. It is claimed for it that it will make a stronger leather, a water proof product, and we predict for the company a most prosperous life.

Arrangements looking to the securing of a ground floor room for the library and reading room is progressing favorably and it is hoped that within the next few days this can be accomplished, and the reading room will be placed on the ground floor. This will make it much more convenient for everybody. We hope it may be done.

The public will be interested in knowing that Dr. Sheldon's great book, "In His Steps," will be revised and illustrated with over fifty slides at the Congregational church, Sunday, February 2, at 7:30 p. m. Illustrated songs will be used. At the morning service a large number of new members will be welcomed into the fellowship of the church. Everybody welcome. G. W. Nelson, pastor.

Look at the label on your paper. If it says you are more than a year behind, please call and settle. After the first of April we will be obliged to pay about one cent per week on every paper over a year back on subscription instead of 1 cent per pound postage. We cannot afford to do this as it would take more than half the present subscription price. We will therefore discontinue every paper more than one year in arrears after the first of April.

A Happy Party

A most delightful party was given at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gillmore on North Hayes Wednesday evening. There were a number of young people, neighbors, who gathered and enjoyed a very happy evening with games and conversation interspersed with music, which was followed by delicious refreshments. There is not a nicer place in the city to spend the evening than with Mr. and Mrs. Gillmore.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gillmore, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Mathew, R. C. Tallman, Norman Scales, Emory Gillmore, Gail Perrine, Belle Penny, D. Gillmore, Sena Madison, Effie Hanna, Luella Wilkinson, Guy Pratt, Laura Gaton, Lola Ellis, Chas. Davis, Emma McNeill, Major J. Madison, Ada McNeill, Lula Gillmore, Emma Mapiethorpe of Portland.

Maud Muller in her cosy home, raked her head with a fine-tooth comb. The judge rode by on his runabout and advised the maiden to smoke 'em out. Maud tossed her head and said, "Oh fudge!" and told her beau and he licked the judge.

Maud Muller on a summer's day, raked the meadows sweet with hay; Maud's feet were bare, and bare each shin; Maud's gown was calico and thin; and fitted Maud—twas such a fit that Maud seemed molded into it. She had some rucking at her throat, and wore short sleeves; please make note of these things—tight dress, bare shin and thinish gown o'er tender skin—here Maud steps in a hornet's nest and I can't just describe the rest.

The lecture and stereopticon illustrations of "Quo Vadis" at the Congregational church were most interesting last Sunday evening and "In His Steps" next Sunday evening will, without doubt, be equally as good.

Ephraim Taylor, who recently came here from Kalama, Wash., died on the 17th of January. Services were conducted at his home on Oswego street, Sunday morning, January 19, by Rev. G. W. Nelson. The remains were laid to rest in Riverview cemetery, Portland.

Two of our old Hood River friends, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Staten, came over yesterday and took lunch with us. We would be glad to keep them here, but they are married to Hood River and it would take a great deal of sparking on the part of St. Johns to alienate their affections and instigate a divorce suit. Besides, Albert is manager of the big Farmers' irrigation ditch on the west side, and has not time to move. We hope they will come next summer, when the weather is nice and go fishing with us. We will then give them the time of their lives.

HUNTERS & TRAPPERS GUIDE

When to Go Home.

From the Bluffton, Ind., Banner: "When tired out, go home. When you want consolation, go home. When you want fun, go home. When you want to show others that you have reformed, go home and let your family get acquainted with the fact. When you want to show your self at your best go home and do the act there. When you feel like being extra liberal go home and practice on your wife and children first. When you want to shine with extra brilliancy go home and light up the whole household. To which we would add, when you have a bad cold go home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and a quick cure is certain. For sale by St. Johns Drug store.

How Diphtheria is Contracted.

One often hears the expression, "My child caught a severe cold which developed into diphtheria," when the truth was that the cold had simply left the little one particularly susceptible to the wandering diphtheria germ. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given it quickly cures the cold and lessens the danger of diphtheria or any other germ disease being contracted. For sale by St. Johns Drug Store.
