He who by his biz would rise
Must either bust or advertise.

The memorial services of the M. W. A. will be held at the United Evangelical church Sunday morning, June 7, at 11 a. m. Mr. Gates will deliver the address.

What shall we do about the Fourth? Other towns not half as good and not having half the means that St. Johns commands are already advertising a big celebration. Let us not take a back seat.

The genial, wideawake young representative of the Kilham Stationery & Printing Co., H. Rudolph Hayek, was in the city election day calling on his friends and did not forget the Review force. Heine is a hustler, and a look at his smiling face is good for the blues. His house, too, puts out the best there is and Heine knows how to tell you all about it.

Mrs. Lawrence N. Blowers, wife of the mayor of Hood River, and three daughters were visitors in the city Monday and honored our office with a call. We would be delighted to have these good people locate here. Both Mr. and Mrs. Blowers like St. Johns and we do not believe it will take much urging to win them if there is an opening. Mr. Blowers is one of the pioneer business men of Hood River and we hope he may find it profitable to move with his most estimable family to St. Johns.

The game of base ball between the Firemen and the Eagles Saturday last was a hotly contested affair. Both teams were pretty evenly matched, and it was only through the aid of the umpire that the Eagles came out victorious. The decision that decided the contest was made at second base. The umpire called a man safe and then changed his decision and declared him out. Many startling plays were made throughout the game and the fans kept things lively. The score was 6 to 5 in favor of the F. O. E.

A bunch of young friends from Hood River were down Tuesday to attend the Rose Carnival and of course could not turn down the old Hood Riverite, but called for a little while. We regret sincerely that we were so very busy we could not show them the town, for we are proud of our little city. There were in the party, Misses Pearl and Lizzie Eby, Nina Noble and Messrs. Earl Eastman and Earl Noble. It was a bunch of girls and boys we used to play with in Hood River, ever since they were little children, and it was good to see them.

E. P. Monson, of Dee, Oregon, a good friend of both the Review bosses, was a very welcome visitor in the office Saturday. He was in Portland in attendance at the funeral of his uncle, Nels Johnson. Mr. Johnson has been a resident of Portland for many years and has been employed in the Good Samaritan hospital for 15 years. He died at 8 o'clock a. m. on the 27th and was buried in Riverside cemetery Sunday from Holman's undertaking parlors at 10 o'clock a. m. Mr. Johnson leaves a brother and sister in Minnesota and a sister in Idaho.

J. W. Taylor, one of our Hood River friends has bought into the firm of Olson-Roe Transfer company of Portland. Kindly note their ad in another column and give them a good share of your business. While we do not know the other members of the firm, we do know Mr. Taylor. He is all right. For a number of years he was "a pirate of the main" and with his boat served the people of the Upper Columbia. He was Johnnie on the spot when wanted and we feel sure he will bring this admirable characteristic with him into his new business.

Mrs. Walter Upson of Hood River with her three little daughters have been visiting the past week in Portland and Monday honored the family of the scribe with a call and stayed to tea. We were delighted to see them, as they were our next door neighbors in the Apple City and we remember many good times we had together there. We hope none of our good Hood River friends will turn us down when they come down to the city. Our latch string is always out. And when here take a look around. We have the nicest little city in the state and it will in the near future be one of the biggest and best. Better catch on to the wagon before it gets to going too fast.

The tour of the world to be made June 8 will be one of the greatest events of the season. The Jap and the Dutch girls will serve you in their respective countries and they are just as cute as they can be. You must not miss it. The entourage stops at Boston, Mrs. Brown's, 402 South Fillmore; Japan, Mr. Leggett's, 410 South Fillmore; Holland, Dr. Vincent's, 107 S. Hayes; Scotland, Dr. Mary McLachlan's, 215 North Hayes; Portland, Mr. Davis', 613 North Fillmore. The best people in the city are going and you will want to be one of them. There is no danger in going from Boston to Scotland and you will find that the Dutch have taken Holland. The Gieshe girls of Japan will be sweet enough to capture all the boys in the bunch.

Oh! those pretty Japs at Mr. Leggett's in the tour of the world June 8.

Found and left at this office, a child's fur collar. Owner can have same by proving property and paying for this notice.

Too many things on the string for us to hunt up the election returns, many counts not in; but will try and give our people the result of the election next week.

H. E. Huggins of Hood River was in the city today and reports the Apple City flourishing. He did not have time to take in the town but just stopped off a car to say hello.

Again we are reminded that we have the finest climate in the world by the reports of heavy rains and floods, blocking the railroads with land slides and washouts causing great damage and some loss of life in Montana and other states in the west and middle west.

Rev. F. L. Young met with a very painful accident Wednesday, while removing the seats from the skating rink, where the temperance meeting was held. He fell and severely wrenched his ankle. He declares he had not been indulging in joy water over the fact that St. Johns had gone dry, but says the victory is worth a broken leg any way.

Attorney George J. Perkins returned last Sunday from a visit of two weeks at Lakeview and Klamath Falls, where he was interested in a big land case. Mr. Perkins was glad to get back home, and says that the weather was quite severe while he was there. A part of the time snow and ice was in evidence and the weather was sharper there than it was here at any time during the winter. There are worse places than St. Johns, even in Oregon.

We were made happy yesterday by a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Bert Entrican of Hood River. Mrs. Entrican used to put our copy into type when we played quill-pusher for the News Letter. She is one of the nicest little ladies that ever stuck type for us, and used to put up the longest string of the cleanest proof of any on the job. She has gone back on the "profess," though, as she has contracted with Bert to clear an apple ranch on the West Side. She is a "man of her word," too, and will prove a helpmate for Bert. May their days be many and every one of them happy.

Messrs. Harry A. Van and W. C. Moore will entertain the people in Bickner's hall Tuesday June 9th with the very latest and best in the moving picture line. Mr. Van is known the whole country over from Maine to Oregon and Manitoba to the Gulf, as the prince of entertainers. He has not confined his work entirely to the States, for he recently returned from a successful tour of Alaska. The films are clean, comical, entertaining and instructive, such as you will be glad to take your sister, mother, sweetheart, wife or daughter to see. See bills and dodgers and do not miss a number. Change of program twice a week.

Dumped the Druggist.

W. M. Scarbrough, the popular little druggist in the North Bank Pharmacy, met with a very painful accident yesterday. He was over town with Mr. Butterworth's little driving nag and after luncheon went for a drive with his sister-in-law. While driving along, suddenly, the buggy became uncoupled, and dumped the genial manipulator of pills and paregoric out in the street, and the lady in the bottom of the buggy. The little pony was badly scared and skidded. Mr. Scarbrough along on the pavement for nearly a block before that gritty lad could stop her. When he had stopped the pony and taken an inventory, he found that he had sustained a bad sprain of his right ankle and numerous contusions and abrasions all over his anatomy. Today he walks as if he had been starched and run through the mangles at the West Coast Laundry. It was very fortunate that it was he and his sister-in-law instead of his wife and his sister-in-law, as it was first planned, who were driving. Mrs. Scarbrough did not feel like taking the drive when the time came and thus escaped what might in that case have been a most serious accident. As it was our little druggist does not feel like crowing very much.

A Happy Surprise.

A very pleasant surprise was given Professor W. M. Wilder, choir master and leader of the Grace Methodist chorus, by the members of the male chorus of that church. About 25 of us gathered at 12th and Montgomery and marched to his home Monday evening, May 25, and stopping in front of his residence we sang "Far Away in the South." Then we were welcomed by the host and spent the evening with games, songs and stories. The last speaker of the evening presented Mr. Wilder with a silver cup engraved as follows: "Presented to Wm. Mansell Wilder by the boys of Grace church male chorus, 5-25-08." The evening was enjoyed very much by all present. E. L. PERKINS.

Keep Bright and You WILL KEEP BUSY

Electric Light is the magnet that draws trade. The bright store is the "hypnotic eye" of business. People can no more resist the attraction of a brilliant, electrically lighted store than they can resist the clarion call of a brass band.

Is your competitor with the Electrically illuminated show windows, bright interior and sparkling Electric Sign getting an advantage over you? The moth never flutters around the unlighted candle! Up-to-date stores nowadays consider shop-window lighting a necessity, whether they remain open after dark or not. Competition forces modern methods.

A show window brilliantly illuminated with Electric light will make many a sale "the night before." Electric light compels attention, makes easy the examination of your display, shows goods in detail and fabrics in their true colors.

And don't neglect the Electric Sign. It is soliciting "tomorrow's" business every moment it is lighted—burning your name in the public mind. It is a solicitor that never becomes weary—never stops work—costs little.
