Clark the furniture man bought the stock of Colvin Brothers the first of the week, and moved it all to his big store on the corner of Jersey and Tacoma streets.

Miss Grace Stucker has been having a short seizure with the measles; but says no measly complaint like that can keep her in bed, and is out again having a good time as usual.

There will be memorial services of the I. O. F. at the United Evangelical church at 2:30 p. m. Sunday. All Odd Fellows and their families and friends are invited to be in attendance.

Dr. Rambo will leave next Sunday for a trip over the new North Bank road and expects to spend a week in eastern Washington among friends and relatives. Mrs. Rambo will accompany him on his return.

Professor G. W. Brown of Hood River was in the city last Friday during our absence in Portland. We would have been glad to meet the professor, as he is one of Hood River's most progressive instructors.

Be sure to hear the memorial address at the United Evangelical church Sunday. It will be delivered by Rev. A. E. Leonard of the Baptist church at 2:30 o'clock and will be particularly interesting to all fraternities.

Rev. and Mrs. E. E. McVicker will attend the commencement exercises at the Dallas college the first of next week. Their daughter, Miss Lillian, is one of the graduates from the classical course.—Corvallis Gazette.

Miss Lillian McVicker will return with her parents from the Evangelical college at Dallas this week where she graduates. She expects to remain at home the coming twelve months, having been elected to a position in the public school of Corvallis for the coming school year.—Corvallis Gazette.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McCormack of Pendleton came down overland with their buzz wagon to attend the Rose Carnival and to visit their friends Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Collier. After the Rose Show they went up the valley, visiting Salem, Eugene, Albany and other points before returning home.

Comrade P. T. Hanson brought us in the handsomest bouquet of roses yesterday we have ever laid eyes upon. It is just so pretty we can taste it. The man who does not grow roses and lots of them don't know what he misses. They are the most beautiful flower that blooms. Mr. Hanson has our most hearty thanks.

O. P. Wolcott, who went to Seattle to attend the gathering of the big fleet of war ships at that port, half promised us a write-up of the event, but we suppose business has hindered him so far. He tells an interesting story of the trip and the fleet and we are sure the readers of the Review would have been interested in an account of his trip.

Mrs. Kemp and family of Bonner's Ferry, Idaho, are visiting Mrs. Kemp's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilson this week. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have not seen their daughter for six years and consequently there is a very happy bunch at their home these days. It would just be a nice thing if the visitors could make this their home. We offer this as a suggestion.

The field meet on Multnomah field this week by the children of the Portland schools was something to delight the heart of the child lover. They were wonderfully well trained, and enjoyed the evolutions fully as well as did the visitors. Then the trolley ride was a feature the pupils will never forget. It would be a fine thing if these field meets could be pulled off more than once a year.

W. H. Warner, who was working on a house on Alberta, met with a very painful accident Monday morning. He was drawing a nail with his shingling hatchet, when it slipped off the nail, the blade catching his left hand between the thumb and fore finger severing the veins of the hand and making a deep gash. He came all the way home and waited an hour before he secured the services of a surgeon. He finally reached Dr. Vincent's office where he was properly cared for and the doctor says if no complications intervene he will soon be able to resume his occupation. Mr. Warner's hand bled very profusely and he was obliged to put a ligature about his wrist to stop the blood somewhat, but this did not keep it from bleeding considerably all the time.

It seems that precincts 89, 90 and 91 were the only ones in Multnomah county to go dry. It is the entering wedge. Two years hence it will be driven to the heart of Portland.

Chester Paul Gates was in attendance at the commencement exercises at Dallas and received the M. A. degree this week. We congratulate Brother Gates on his acquisition of the sheepskin.

Henry B. Conn and Miss Genevieve L. Hutchinson were married at the home of the bride's mother at 212 Polk street, Wednesday evening, June 10, by Rev. E. A. Leonard. The newly married couple will make their home in St. Johns.

Around the World.

Those who made the tour of the world Monday evening will not soon forget it. We went to the home of Miss Brown, where tickets were bought and Boston baked beans, brown bread and pickles were eaten at the lunch counter. Leaving Boston we sailed around the Horn and touched at the island of Nippon, where in the home of Mr. B. T. Leggett we were served Japanese refreshments by the pretty Gieshe girls. The porch was lighted with Japanese lanterns and presented a most inviting appearance.

From there we sailed for Amsterdam where we visited the home of Frau Vincent and were regaled with hot wienies and sauer kraut mit sandwiches. Frau Vincent was the prettiest little Dutch girl in the bunch, and the quaint blue Dutch ware in which the refreshments were served added to their taste.

From the land of rosy-cheeked and golden-haired vendors of limburger, lager and pretzels we sailed to Scotias fair isle, where we stopped at the hospitable home of the charming Miss MacLachlan and there our Highland Mary entertained us with the pretty Scotch air, played by a phonograph, furnished by Mr. Taylor the tea man. Inside the home we were delighted with the decorations of Scotch broom and thistles, and a fine British flag furnished by Captain Dunbar attested the loyalty of the Scotch lassie to the crown and MacLachlan plaid that adorned the wall indicated her fidelity to the clan. After refreshments had been served Mr. and Miss Perkins sang Jamie and Janie, the former wearing the MacLachlan plaid. We then sailed for Portland and came to the home of Mr. Davis on Fillmore street where we were greeted with numerous copies of Old Glory which decorated the walls, testifying to the fact that it was a genuine patriotic American home and the protrusion of roses which completed the adornment indicated the section of the country represented, the modern valley of Sharon. Ice cream and cake were served here after which patriotic songs were sung by request Miss Perkins gave a reading of "Hagar." As the clock struck 12 the bunch of tourists hiked for home, having enjoyed a happy and instructive evening.

The High Water Mark.

The following clipped from a Roseburg paper may be applicable in St. Johns.

Mr. Editor: A lady friend wants to say a few words to the grocery merchants, and really it is a delicate subject to handle. You know it is near the time when our grocerymen set their vegetables outside on the pavement and do not know there are many tall dogs in the town, and it operates as though they had drunk from some of our medical springs.

Now, Mr. Editor, you know what I mean to say, and if you help me out, you will do the public a great favor. What we want is the vegetables in boxes and "above high water mark." For the good of women and mankind the grocers will please attend to it. Those wire screens, too, they sometimes use on their baskets and boxes are not "water tight."

This, I repeat, is a delicate matter, but you know when a lady goes shopping for cabbage, lettuce and such, she doesn't like to be obliged to get peas also. Please put it in shape so as to offend nobody, and greatly oblige,
A Housekeeper.

Everybody knows these boys and they will be sure to receive a good share of the laundry business of the city. The name of the laundry will be changed to the St. Johns Laundry and the firm name will be the St. Johns Laundry Company. We wish them success in their new enterprise.

Keep Bright and You WILL KEEP BUSY

Electric Light is the magnet that draws trade. The bright store is the "hypnotic eye" of business. People can no more resist the attraction of a brilliant, electrically lighted store than they can resist the clarion call of a brass band.

Is your competitor with the Electrically Illuminated show windows, bright interior and sparkling Electric Sign getting an advantage over you? The moth never flutters around the unlighted candle! Up-to-date stores nowadays consider shop-window lighting a necessity, whether they remain open after dark or not. Competition forces modern methods.

A show window brilliantly illuminated with Electric light will make many a sale "the night before." Electric light compels attention, makes easy the examination of your display, shows goods in detail and fabrics in their true colors.

And don't neglect the Electric Sign. It is soliciting "tomorrow's" business every moment it is lighted—burning your name in the public mind. It is a solicitor that never becomes weary—never stops work—costs little.
