Local News.

He who by his biz would rise
Must either bust or advertise.

Watch the label on your paper.

C. A. Wood has recovered entirely from that unpleasant visitor that put his peeper out of commission and can now enjoy to the full the beauties of nature. We are glad to be able to congratulate him on his good fortune.

Mr. Guy Tozer of La Jose, Penn., is visiting the family of A. W. Markl this week. Mr. Tozer is making a tour of the coast and could not pass St. Johns and his relatives up without a good visit. He likes the city very much.

Rev. E. A. Leonard has closed his pastorate at the Baptist church to take charge of a church in Portland. Rev. John Bentzien is the new pastor. Mr. Bentzien is not unknown in St. Johns, for he organized the Baptist church here three years ago.

Our good friend, N. A. Gee, is again on the warpath with a full coat of paint on moving houses like a checker player moves his men. Brother Gee has been having a serious time with stomach trouble for some time and we are glad to see him out. It is good for sore eyes to see his smiling phiz among us again.

Miss Eva Bretta, who received the sad intelligence of the accidental death of her father which occurred last week has gone for a visit to friends at Tacoma, leaving Wednesday evening. Miss Bretta is a most estimable young lady and she has the sincerest sympathy of her many friends here in her bereavement. She is now alone in the world, her father being the last of her family besides herself.

A. E. Smith, brother of Harvey S., the tonsorial artist, is making his home in the Jower block for the present, while he keeps an eye out for something good. He came here from Wyoming, where the blizzards frisk around too lively in the winter to suit him. This week he is out on a hunt and writes that the rain has hindered him so far, but that he is going to have some meat before he comes home.

Mr. R. B. Rose, representing the Coal Creek Coal company was in the city yesterday looking after his interests. This Coal Creek coal is said to be a splendid article, making more heat, less smoke and less soot than any other coal in existence. It is said to make a little more ash, but ashes are more easily handled than the dirty soot which usually accompanies coal. There was more of this coal sold last year to the general public than was sold by any two dealers in other kinds of coal in Portland and St. Johns is selected as one of their new points. R. Wilcox is the local agent here. See his ad in another column and try his coal.

E. Grodon and J. M. Kucher, are two new arrivals in St. Johns and are erecting a residence on Dawson street and will bring their families here. We take a delight in recording the arrival of new comers to St. Johns and trust that when our readers see the notice of such arrivals, they will make it a point to meet and welcome the new arrivals. There is nothing that gives a city a better reputation abroad than the fact that her people are genial, neighborly and kind to the stranger coming into their midst. St. Johns has this reputation on an outside to a larger degree than any place we have ever lived and it will mean much to us if this characteristic is emphasized and extended.

And if you want becoming hats be coming to the Vogue.

Mrs. J. H. Crook returned last Friday from a seven weeks' trip up in the north country. She visited friends in Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver, B. C., Moscow and Couer D'elene, Ida Raymond and Gray's Harbor. She reports, too, a most delightful and wonderfully interesting visit particularly in British Columbia, where the old English peculiarities of architecture and landscape gardening and home adornment prevails to a very great extent. She enjoyed a real Tally-ho trip in Victoria seeing many things which would interest all who go there from our part of the country but there was nothing there to tempt her to leave St. Johns. Mrs. O. J. Lovering of Raymond, Washington, came home with her and will make an extended visit in St. Johns. Mrs. Crook says she was glad to get back to her old friends and to St. Johns even if she did have a royal time while away, and then, there was John, he needed looking after, we are sure of that. We are very glad our good friend reached home in such good health and so happy a frame of mind. A visit away from home serves the best of all to show us the beauties of our own locality, and to make us realize that there is no place quite like it.

CLOSING PROGRAM.

The great Christian revival conducted by the Trio Evangelists at the skating rink is drawing to a close. Only four more sermons. During the past 24 days the Trio Evangelists have been conducting a very successful meeting in St. Johns, about 50 souls have been added to the church of Christ, the membership is about doubled. All are happy over the results and the church is taking on new life and planning greater things.

The association of these workers among our people has been elevating, inspiring, and creative of much enthusiasm among Christians all over the city and this is not confined to the little congregation with and for which they were laboring. We have found them faithful, honest, earnest workers, conscientious, effective and hopeful at all times and under all circumstances. We hope our readers will give them a careful hearing during the remainder of their stay with us. The following is the program of the remainder of their work here:

Four Great Closing Sermons

Friday night, 7:45: "What Cleanses Naaman the Leper." Be sure to come and hear this ably handled.

Saturday, 7:45 p.m.: "A Prayer meeting in Hades." Do not fail to hear this interesting sermon, which will be preached in the Evangelical church.

Sunday, 10 a. m. bible school; 11 o'clock, "Greater works than Miracles. Whatever you do, do not miss this. Three p. m. a great service for all: the men on one side of the house and the women on the other. The Evangelist will then deliver his great sermon on, "How to be Happy Though Married." Sunday night 7:45, "The Greatest Question Ever Asked by Man stated and answered."

Monday night, Oct. 19th, there will be a reception for all the new members.

Tuesday night the great lecture and eloquent program will be rendered. The Evangelist will lecture on: "Mental telepathy, suggestive therapeutics, the power of the subjective mind how to live a hundred years without medicine and sickness. A hundred exercises which you can take in your home. Reading and special music by the singers. Be sure to come and hear these closing sermons and the lecture and eloquent program. You cannot afford to miss. Come and it will do you good."

The lecture slated for Tuesday night is one of especial interest. At Puyallup, the lecture was given to a crowded house and within 24 hours a request signed by 200 citizens and business men of that city was presented requesting that it be repeated a week later, when an audience almost or quite as large as the first heard it. It will pay anyone to hear it on Tuesday evening.

And if you want becoming hats be coming to the Vogue.

We are arranging to issue a special illustrated Peninsula edition, put up in magazine form, comprising about 100 pages of matter describing the different sections of the Peninsula, advertisements showing the lines of trade and manufactures represented here, illustrated with half-tone cuts of old pioneer, finer residences, business houses, manufactures, in fact, anything that will give a clear conception to the homeseeker and the inventor of what we have here to offer him.

This will cost us a large sum of money and unless we can get a liberal amount of advertising we could not afford to do the work. Mr. Merritt will call on you and explain more fully the plan we wish to do this work under, and to take your orders for what you desire in the matter.

Every business in this issue that St. Johns can make a good showing as possible. There is not the slightest doubt but if we wish to benefit by the great rush to the coast the coming year we must get in line to let the people know what we have to offer to them here. It is safe to say that 75 per cent of the people attending the Seattle fair will visit Portland and St. Johns. If we wish to make a good impression upon these visitors and capture our share of them it is time we were beginning now to get ready. It will be too late six months from now. Please give our man a careful hearing therefore and strain a point to help in this enterprise and we will remember to reciprocate in every way that we possibly can.

And if you want becoming hats be coming to the Vogue.

See Wolcott's great reduction sale ad in another column. Those prices look good to us.

Keep Bright and You WILL KEEP BUSY

Electric Light is the magnet that draws trade. The bright store is the "hypnotic eye" of business. People can no more resist the attraction of a brilliant, electrically lighted store than they can resist the clarion call of a brass band. Is your competitor with the Electrically illuminated show windows, bright interior and sparkling Electric Sign getting an advantage over you? The moth never flutters around the unlighted candle! Up-to-date stores nowadays consider shop-window lighting a necessity, whether they remain open after dark or not. Competition forces modern methods. A show window brilliantly illuminated with Electric light will make many a sale "the night before." Electric light compels attention, makes easy the examination of your display, shows goods in detail and fabrics in their true colors. And don't neglect the Electric Sign. It is soliciting "tomorrow's" business every moment it is lighted—burning your name in the public mind. It is a solicitor that never becomes weary—never stops work—costs little.
