FRIDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1908.

The pay-as-you-go-go-rza street car has reached Portland and an exhibition car has been put on near the general offices so that the people may become acquainted with animal before it is turned loose on the line. It is expected to be a great timesaver and will enable the conductors to handle the people more expeditiously. Be sure to have a nickel handy when you get on and help to make the project a success. By so doing you are adding to your own convenience and comfort.

We are glad to note that our business men are very generally taking hold of the booster edition, still we have not yet received enough support to meet the expense of getting out the publication. We trust our friends will strain a point and help us make this a splendid success. The beauty of it is that the returns from this effort will keep coming in for years. If we get the support we need the work will be such a one that every one who receives a copy will preserve it for years, and it will thus continue to bear fruit for St. Johns and the peninsula in directing people to come here for a home and investment. Last year Eugene spent about $8000 or $10,000 for advertising and this year they will utilize $15,000 for that purpose. The result is that Eugene is advancing faster than almost any other section of the state. We have greater attractions for the home builder and the manufacturer here in St. Johns than Eugene has. Let us tell the world about it.

Something to Think About

Put the lid on that peck of trouble
Whiskey straight makes a man crooked.
As the mind is bent so the tongue is inclined.
Some people never run into debt, they jump into it.
Many a man's dog can give him cards and spades and beat him out on integrity and fidelity.
Some women never put checks on their purchases. They leave that for their husbands.

RESOLUTION OF RESPECT.

Whereas, our late brother and friend Harry T. Butterworth, has been called to enter the Supreme Lodge above, and
Whereas, The untimely passing of our brother has profoundly impressed and stricken the members of the Order generally, and this Lodge in particular, be it therefore Resolved:—That by the incomprehensible and apparently untimely departure of our beloved brother, Doric Lodge has sustained an irreparable loss, and one which its members sincerely and deeply deplore.
To the bereaved relatives of him whom we mourn, who now stand heart-stricken by the heavy hand which has thus been laid upon them, we have but little of this world's consolation to present.
We deeply, sincerely, and most affectionately sympathize with them in this affecting dispensation, and we offer up our most fervent prayer: that He who both liveth and taketh life will back down with compassion upon the widows and fatherless in this, their hour of demolation, and find the benevolent arms of His love and protection around those who are thus bereft of their earthly stay. Be it therefore further
Resolved:—That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of this Lodge, and that other copies be prepared for publication and for presentation to the family of our departed brother.
Adopted by Doric Lodge No. 132, A. F. & A. M.

REBEKAHS DO THINGS.

Last Wednesday evening was a red letter day for the Rebekahs of Laurelwood lodge. There were about 75 visitors from Columbia, Omega, Rose City and University lodges present, who came up to see Laurelwood degree team put on the work. The visitors were delighted and surprised at the character of the work done by the Laurelwood team. The University team holds the championship of the state, and a member of that team who was present declared that our team put the work on the best of any she had seen and that she was sure that our team would take the pennant at the next contest.
We always did think our Rebekahs were "some punkins" and now we can prove it. We are glad to hear this good report from Laurelwood lodge and hope our enterprising workers may come out victorious when the contest is made.

COUNCIL MEETING.

foot, posts, not to exceed $100 cost on the lot of Mr. M. F. Loy, provided it was Mr. Loy's understanding that the city would be permitted to remove the building at any time that it might be considered desirable. All yes.

Our genial friend J. S. Downey, the democratic war horse and Bryan booster, presented to the council at this juncture what may prove the best thing for the city that has been on the tapis for a long time. It is a systematic, sanitary garbage system, in which the utmost cleanliness is proposed in the handling of all kinds of garbage.
According to the brief and the ordinances presented by Mr. Downey it is proposed to put into effect within six months a crematory and a system of wagons and cars for gathering garbage and transporting it to the crematory which will be situated outside the city. The plan is a most commendable one. If put into practice will relieve the city of this only drawback to the making a model city. The only question that is now pending is the matter of cost. The papers do not make this matter specific and the matter is being held for a further report from Mr. Downey which will enable the council to determine just what it will cost each property holder. The time asked for is 25 years franchise and the price should be made so that it would not be prohibitory. Nothing would add so much to the city as cleanliness and it is hoped that here is the proposition we have been looking for during the past three or four years.

ROLLER SKATING SUNDAY

One of Lincoln's Tales.

The following story was one told by Abraham Lincoln, and is further proof of his ability as a story teller:

"The only schooling I ever had was in a log schoolhouse when reading books and grammars were unknown. All our reading was done from the Scriptures and we stood up in a long line and read in turn from the Bible. Our lesson one day was the story of the faithful Israelites who were thrown into the fiery furnace and delivered by the hand of the Lord without so much as the smell of fire upon their garments. It fell to one little fellow to read the verse in which occurred, for the first time in the chapter, the names of Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-nego. Little Bud stumbled on Shadrach, floundered on Meshach and went all to pieces on Abed-nego. Instantly the hand of the master dealt him a cuff on the side of the head and left him wailing and blubbering as the next boy in the line took up the reading. But, before the girl at the end of the line had done reading he had subsided into snuffles and finally became quiet. His blunder and disgrace were forgotten by the others of the class until his turn was approaching to read again. Then, like a thunder-clap out of a clear sky, he set up a wail that even alarmed the master, who, with rather unusual gentleness inquired: "What's the matter now?" "Pointing with a shaking finger at the verse which a few moments later would fall to him to read, Bud managed to quaver out the answer: "'Look there, marster—there comes them same damn three fellers again.'"
