VOLCANOES.

They Are Not Burning Mountains as We Understand That Term. "What are volcanoes?"

Nine out of every ten persons would immediately have an answer of some sort to the question above, for have they not a lively remembrance of hav ing learned in their schoolbooks that "a volcano is a burning mountain, from the summit of which are sent out smoke and flames?" This popular fancy has been exploded by scientists, whose work is to explode popular fancies.

In the first place, volcanoes are not necessarily mountains. In reality they are just the reverse-that is, holes in the earth's crust. Out of these are thrown the materials which, accumulating, form the heaps which we popu larly call mountains.

These are, then, the result and not the cause of the action. Neither are they "burning," as we understand the term. There is no combustion por any action we might reasonably call "burning."

The action need not necessarily take place at the summit, for eruptions are just as frequent at the sides or even at the base. The so called "smoke" is nothing more or less than the clouds of condensing steam which are formed occurs.

Lastly, the "flames," so called, are merely the reflection of the mass of molten rock and material inside the crater on the clouds of steam above. thus appearing as a glowing light. The friction, too, set up by the motion of the materials causes electricity, and hence the lightning discharges which add to the illuminating effect.-Pearson's Magazine.

VOTED WITHOUT BALLOTS.

An Election Day at Charlottesville, Va., In 1804.

At Charlottesville, Va., the seat of Albemarie county, according to Miss Mary Johnston's chronicle of "Lewis Rand," they were voting for a member of the house of delegates. It was the fourth Wednesday in April. The year was 1804.

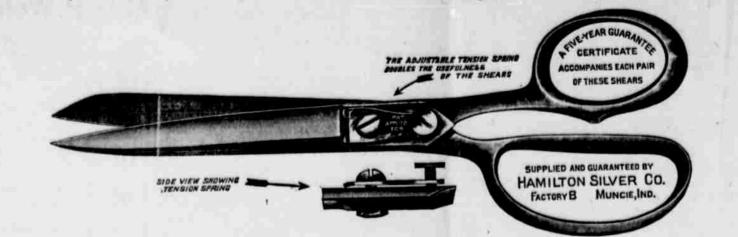

"Under the locust trees to the right of the open gate were placed long tables and on them three mighty punch bowls, flanked by drinking cups and guarded by house servants of venerable appearance and stately manners. Here good Federalists refreshed themselves. To the left of the gate, upon the trampled grass beneath a mulber ry, appeared other punch bowls and in addition a barrel of whisky ready broached for all good Democrat-Republicans. The sunny street was filled with horses, vehicles and servants; the broad path between the trees, the turf on either hand and the courthouse steps were crowded with riotous voters. All ranks of society, all ages, occupations and opinions, met in the genfal weather beneath the trees, where sang every bird of spring."

Within the courthouse the sheriff presided. Conspicuous sat the two candidates. There were no ballots, but each voter made known his choice by living voice:

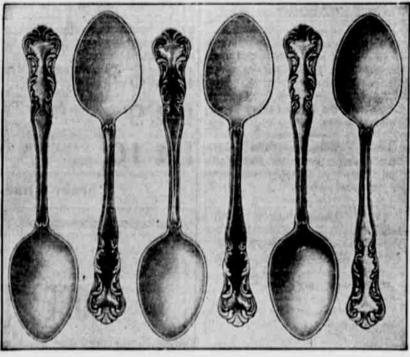

"I vote, sir," cried the colonel, "for Mr. Ludwell Cary, for a gentleman and a patriot, sir, and may the old county never be represented but by such!

The Money Germ.

The Baltimore Sun comes out with a warning that probably few will heed. It says, "Don't let the money germs bite you," and adds that a man who has taken the trouble to count em says that 124,000 bacteria roost comfortably on each one dollar bill after the currency has been circulat ing freely for a year or so. So if you have $50 in your pocket you are probably carrying around about 6,200,000 germs, "Yet," says the Sun, "there are men brave enough to face this terrible risk just for the sake of having a roll of greenbacks. It simply shows what dangers man will undergo for money. Most of us, however are not in serious danger."

Garibaldi's Simplicity of Character. An instance of Garibaldi's modesty and simplicity of character is afforded by the following letter, written to his wife at Caprera the day after the battle of Digion:

tle of Digion: Dear Francesca-Yesterday the Italian volunteers fought the whole day against the Prussians, the best soldiers in the worid, and won. The weather here is very cold, and it is snowing. I dare say it will be the same in the Mediterranean. Take care of the cows and see that the caives do not suffer from the cold. Tell Pietro to sow the beans at the Tole and tell the children. Clelia and Manilo, that when I passed Marselles I saw some beautiful toys, which on my return I shall get for them.

Ingenious Ponies.

A rather curious habit has been de veloped by Mexican ponies in connec tion with the cactus thoras. When these creatures are thirsty it is said that before attempting to put their mouths to the prickly plant they will first of all stand and kick at the cactus with their heels. By this means the thorus are broken and the leathery skin bruised, and so the ponies can drink their fill of the cool juice without injury .- Strand Magazine.

They Were Not Encouraged.

"I don't see why that young man doesn't propose."

"I think, pa, that the chances of his doing it would be fully as good if you wouldn't leave your boxing gloves around where he can see them."-Bobemian Magazine.

Of course everybody likes and respects self made men. It is a great deal better to be made in that way than not to be made at all .- O. W. Holmes.
