Local News.

He who by his biz would rise Must either bust or advertise. Join the Commercial club. H. H. Parker made a business trip to Seattle this week.

It goes good to be able to get a firm foothold on the pavement once more.

Harry Miller of North Yamhill, spent several hours in St. Johns on Sunday.

If you know any news we would be glad to have it. Local news makes a local paper interesting.

Miller, the tobacco merchant, has made several improvements to the interior of his store on Philadelphia street.

The St. Johns Pharmacy has had a handsome new electric sign placed in front of its establishment on Jersey street.

Miss Alma Moe, who has undergone a severe siege of pneumonia for the past ten days, is now very much improved.

J. T. Mayes, who has been confined at the Portland Sanitarium for some time, expects to return to St. Johns next Sunday almost fully restored to health.

Charles W. Root and bride, formerly Miss Anna K. Foster, took their departure the latter part of last week for Manicopa, Cal., where they will make their future home.

Arthur Conley of Morton, Wash., and Miss Tracie Huntington of Castle Rock, Wash., were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Wright, on South Hayes, for a couple of days last week.

Arnold Unger has had a new glass front placed on his tobacco store on Jersey street. This will be quite a convenience to Mr. Unger, and will give him a better chance to look after the wants of his patrons.

The special services at the Baptist church have begun with considerable interest and a good attendance. Rev. C. L. Owen, the evangelist, is a strong and interesting speaker and has won the audiences from the first.

Mrs. George Foss and two children from Stevens Point, Wis., joined her husband in this city the latter part of last week. The thermometer registered 33 below zero when Mrs. Foss left Wisconsin, so the little cold snap we had here seemed easy to her.

Miss Nettie Toole won the five dollars at Bonham & Currier's store last Saturday afternoon. Her ticket was only nine seconds off what the clock indicated when it was undraped. The store was filled to the limit and interest seems to increase in this Saturday afternoon drawing.

Couch & Co. are making some material changes in their store building. A commodious addition is being completed, and the grocery department is being transferred to one door west of its present location. When all the changes and alterations are completed this store will be a model one in all departments.

It may not be generally known that a freighter boat makes daily trips from Portland to St. Johns, and carries most of the freight for many of the industries on the water front. The boat carries the euphonious name Sacajawea, and is owned by Capt. F. E. Smith, one of the finest rivermen that travel over the water.

Russell H. Cornwell, one of the most popular speakers of the American platform, will lecture on "Acres of Diamonds" at the White Temple, Portland, Wednesday, Jan. 27. This famous lecture has been given 2600 times during the past twenty-five years. Tickets 50 cents, at Woodard, Clark & Co. and at Y. M. C. A. building.

F. M. Phillips has resigned as a member of the school board. Too many other duties interfered with Mr. Phillips attending to this position in the manner he desired. It would be a very difficult matter to secure a better man than he on the board, and if one as good can be secured to fill the vacancy the public will be well satisfied.

Arthur C. Gee, nephew of that great optimist, N. A. Gee, is a recent arrival in St. Johns. Mr. Gee came from Anamoose, North Dakota, and St. Johns seems like heaven to him compared to that cold, blustery country from which he has just escaped. He will reside here permanently, and his family will follow suit about the first of March.

T.T. Parker has discontinued his logging job in Yamhill county for present, and is now mingling with his friends in St. Johns. Mr. Parker says if one wants to really enjoy life he should spend a few months communing with nature in the woodland. Insomnia never bothers one, and as an appetizer there is nothing in the world to beat it.

Be a BOOSTER for St. Johns.

Jack Hagerty was reported on the sick list this week.

Sam Cochran is still improving from his late illness.

Miss Edith Moe has been laid up the past week with tonsillitis.

The face of the earth looks somewhat different than it did last week.

Dr. Mary MacLachlan was laid up for a day or so with her old enemy, Luesillitis, this week.

Miss Aida Overstreet left this week for Kalama, Wash., where she will remain for some time.

Arthur Shepardon of Eufala, Wash., is a guest of his sister, Mrs. E. S. Wright, on South Hayes.

Cahill-Bradley entertainment will be given in the Artisan Hall, Portsmouth January 22 at 8 o'clock p. m., for the benefit of the Boys' Club of that place.

The Ladies Aid Society of United Evangelical church will give a box social Friday evening, Jan. 23 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Poff. All friends are invited.

Note Hagensen & Smith's new ad in this issue. Glance into their window as you go to the postoffice and realize the great values they are giving for little money.

On Monday those individuals who failed to clean the beautiful off their pavements had the laugh on those who industriously shoveled snow until their backs ached Saturday.

There will be no meeting at the Baptist church on Wednesday evening, the twenty-seventh on account of the lecture of Russell H. Cornwell at the White Temple on that date.

Some valuable recipes will be published each week in the Review. It would be a good plan for the housewife to clip them out and paste them in a scrap book for future reference.

J. M. Robinson, a recent arrival from Kansas, has purchased a house and lot at Oak Park through the agency of King & Gilmore, and will become a permanent resident of this city.

J. H. Flecher attended several sessions of the legislature at Salem this week. An article from him telling all about it was received too late for this issue, but will appear next week.

L. S. Logan and H. Cecil, two representative citizens of Harney county in Eastern Oregon, were business callers in this city Wednesday. They are both heavily interested in St. Johns realty.

Archie Maher has gone to Tillamook where he has secured a painting contract that will keep him busy for several months. He had quite a time getting there, as he was held up at Astoria for five or six hours on account of the snow and ice.

C. V. Luycendall of North Yamhill spent several days this week at the homes of Samuel and George Simmons, his kinsmen. He states that there is prospects of a fine crop in old Yamhill this year and also says St. Johns looks very good to him.

Sunday Jan. 24—United Evangelical church—morning sermon, 11 a. m.—"The Witness of The Spirit—Do I know I am saved?" Evening sermon, 7:30 p. m. "Hell—Why?—or 'Is Purgatory Scriptural?'" All invited. Chester Paul Gates, pastor.

The selection of Chas. Bredeson as the new fire chief was an excellent one and the boys are to be congratulated upon securing him. Barney Noonan, his predecessor was a faithful and efficient officer, and acquitted himself with dignity and honor.

J. J. Felton, of Fox, Mont., was a St. Johns visitor the latter part of last week. He was much impressed with the natural advantages and surroundings of St. Johns, and before leaving purchased a residence lot at Oak Park. King & Gilmore consummated the sale.

A man in a house boat had a lively time of it on the river at Portland Monday. While he was asleep his boat broke loose from its moorings and was carried by the raging waters down the Willamette. He awoke before the Madison street bridge was reached and yelled lustily for help. For a time no one heard or paid any attention to his frantic appeals, and it was only by a miracle that he escaped being dashed against a pier on the bridge. A lookout on the fire boat George H. Williams finally spied him and went to the rescue. He was taken off his perilous position before the steel bridge was reached, and his days lengthened as a consequence.

W. C. T. U. MEETING.

The business meeting of the W. C. T. U. met Monday afternoon, being the first meeting since the President's return from the National Convention. We feel very grateful to Mrs. Scott for the song books she presented to our union as souvenirs from the convention. Christmas greetings from the county officers were read, and we appreciate the remembrances very much. Many topics were discussed and plans laid for greater work in the twelve departments we have chosen. With our efficient superintendents at the head of these we expect to go to the state convention with better reports than last year. We are glad we belong to the white ribbon host to do our little for God and home and native land. The first Monday afternoon in February will be devoted to the mothers' meeting.

Bonham & Currier's. If you think the St. Johns stores never are crowded, drop in at Bonham & Currier's. On Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Every person there will have a bunch of red tickets. Each ticket represents a previous purchase. On it is stamped the time of day. The person holding the ticket having on it the nearest the time our clock stops gets $5.00. You will see that some persons have 50 or 60 tickets; some more. Each of these means a dollar sale. Count the people, find out the number of tickets each has and you will find out about what our sales run. 1908 was something of a panic year, but our sales were $15,000 more than 1907; and the second week of this month our sales were $377 more than the second week of 1908. BONHAM & CURRIER

Keep Bright and You WILL KEEP BUSY. Electric Light is the magnet that draws trade. The bright store is the "hypnotic eye" of business. People can no more resist the attraction of a brilliant, Electrically lighted store than they can resist the clarion call of a brass band. Is your competitor with the Electrically illuminated show windows, bright interior and sparkling Electric Sign getting an advantage over you? The moth never flutters around the unlighted candle! Up-to-date stores nowadays consider shop-window lighting a necessity, whether they remain open after dark or not. Competition forces modern methods. A show window brilliantly illuminated with Electric light will make many a sale "the night before." Electric light compels attention, makes easy the examination of your display, shows goods in detail and fabrics in their true colors. And don't neglect the Electric Sign. It is soliciting "tomorrow's" business every moment it is lighted—burning your name in the public mind. It is a solicitor that never becomes weary—never stops work—costs little.
