Editor Review: I have heard considerable complaint about the size of the salaries paid the city officials. Some of the complainants claim that St. Johns pays more money to run Its government than any other city of its size in the United States, If this is true, it seems to me it is something the citizens of this town should feel proud of. It is a fine ad ertisement for a locality to have a reputation for paying the highest salaries in Uncle Sam's dominion, of the officials are overpaid. The been published in the St. Johns Results small sum paid monthly to the councillation and mayor is surely inade-in said city and of general circulations. The been published in said city and of general circulations are overpaid. The been published in the St. Johns Results a quate to recompense them for the time spent in attending the sessions of the council and the committee work that devolves upon them. Ask affidavit is on file; and the legal of Columbia Slough; thence Easter-posting of the "kickers" if he would be willing to serve for a less amount davit of the city engineer, on file and the invariable reply is that he would "not take the job at any price," as shown by the affi-channel of Columbia Slough to a point Eighty (80) feet from the West would "not take the job at any price," no remonstrance having been filed. and yet he will kick because some one else is willing for the small pittance to take the abuse and com- of said improvement, but which at the heads of the councilmen in determined by said make a charge necessary.

The city attorney surely is not an overpaid individual. For the same accordingly and the said recorder to the most Easterly corner therework done for the city an individual shall give notice by publication for of; thence Southeasterly along said would have to pay at least four time: at least three insertions in the St. as much as the city pays. Is this Johns Review, a weekly newspaper as much as the city pays. Is this of general circulation and published then, extortion? One hundred do, are in the city of St. Johns, inviting proposition on Hundred and Fifty sum for the city of St. Johns to pay its autorney, especially when there is hereby assessed to the lots and parts Westerly along the present Portland to be transacted as now confronts several portions in the local improvethis official.

The city recorder, with his $1000 per annum and $200 additional for office help, is not overburdened with sional men of today who are willing scientious man could be secured for any less. If so he certainly must be playing in very hard luck.

The city treasurer is certainly side of said street. worthy of his hire. His salary of his board. To properly attend to his provement District No. 16. duties our city treasurer at this stage of the game cannot very well ed to enter at the proper time the said assessments hereby made eant him, and on a salary of $25 per month he would necessarily have to c Itivate a Chinaman's habits in order to live from that alone,

The price paid the police is said to be high. If this is so, how are you going to get good men for less? The kicker would not have it as a gift. It is surely an unpleasant job at best and good men for the work are hard to secure.

Taken altogether, I cannot for the hie of me see where our city offictels are getting exorbitant salaries for the amount of work that they do. The public schools have long since found that it does not pay to have poorly paid instructors, and cities throughout the United States are beginning to find that this rule holds good in regard to city affairs. If there are any individuals who are let them please step forward, and if they are capable their chances for el ction are fine. But capable men want full value for their labors, and It is only right that they should. The laborer should at all times be worthy lice: March 5th, 1909. of his hire. The dollar of today will only buy as much as fifty cents would Douglas V. Olds, deceased. fitty years ago, and men who were willing to do good work for nothing are getting as scarce as hen teeth Fair - ay.
