CLOSING OUT.

Yesterday, a citizen stepped into into the St. Johns Pharmacy and asked the reason the said firm was going out of business, and was promptly told the PIONEER DRUG STORE had no intentions of going out of business, but was asked in turn where he gained the impression. He said he had noticed something being moved out and had also noticed a card in the window with a "closing out" heading. The facts are these:

We have vacated the north room, consolidated the two stocks and discontinued the summer refreshment business to be better able to handle the strictly drug trade in which we, as druggists, are the more interested. As to the "closing out" sign we have placed an overstock of toilet paper in the window which we wish to "close out" at the following prices: All ten cent packages at five cents, all five cent packages at two for five cents (less than cost).

We may from time to time close out a certain article or line of goods but the time is far distant when we will be ready to go out of business. St. Johns Pharmacy.

LIGHT

We will have a number of them lighted in our store on Saturday night.

BONHAM & CURRIER

Keep Bright and You WILL KEEP BUSY

Electric Light is the magnet that draws trade. The bright store is the "hypnotic eye" of business. People can no more resist the attraction of a brilliant, electrically lighted store than they can resist the clarion call of a brass band.

Is your competitor with the electrically illuminated show windows, bright interior and sparkling Electric Sign getting an advantage over you? The moth never flutters around the unlighted candle! Up-to-date stores nowadays consider shop-window lighting a necessity, whether they remain open after dark or not. Competition forces modern methods.

A show window brilliantly illuminated with Electric light will make many a sale "the night before." Electric light compels attention, makes easy the examination of your display, shows goods in detail and fabrics in their true colors.

And don't neglect the Electric Sign. It is soliciting "tomorrow's" business every moment it is lighted—burning your name in the public mind. It is a solicitor that never becomes weary—never stops work—costs little.
