George Munson has started the erection of a new residence near the high school building.

R. L. Lash is a guest at the home of his daughter in Astoria where he expects to remain for some time.

Mrs. Vanclieve and Mrs. War-muth of Salem were the guests of Mrs. J. B. Campbell Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Sarah A. Kemp and daughter are visiting Mrs. Kemp's sons at Cascades and Stevenson, Wash-ington for a couple of weeks.

Phi Schneider is having the old Norton real estate office on Jersey street fitted up suitable for conducting a small store therein.

V. W. Mason has a force of men at work preparatory to laying the concrete sidewalk on South Hayes street, from Jersey to Mohawk.

Born—Saturday, April 24, 1909, to Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Haworth, 1872 Wayland street, University Park station, Portland, a 12-pound son.

A very interesting letter from our late townsman, C. R. Organ, may be found in another column. He is evidently quite pleased with his new location.

The Electric Cleanery on Philadelphia street for the past several months, has abandoned operations here and departed in quest of fields more verdant.

Be your own landlord. Ten lots in the Hill addition has been placed on the market on the installment plan. No better home site in St. Johns. See P. Hill about it at once.

H. F. Clark states that the deal whereby Jacob Goldstein was to purchase his furniture store has fallen through, and Mr. Clark will continue to do business at the old stand.

The St. Johns ball team will lock horns with the Forest Grove club at that place next Sunday, and the locals will likely have another scalp attached to their belts when they return.

R. W. McKeon spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Ogden at their new home at Dayton, Oregon, and says these erstwhile St. Johns people are getting along splendidly.

A letter from Paul Bannan, who spent a year or so in St. Johns, but now located at Newark, Ohio, states that times are exceedingly dull in that state at present, and that he expects to return to this city about the middle of June.

The Muck & Derris store has been closed out in the French block and now this large structure is almost unoccupied on the first floor. Its location has been against it ever since it was constructed, and it will be some time yet until it becomes very attractive as a business site.

The big yellow sign placed in front of Unger's ice cream parlors attracts a good deal of attention.

We have a buyer for a house and lot to cost no more than $1000. Be quick if you have such. St. Johns Realty Co., Review office.

The Realty Association Banquet last night occurred too late for befitting notice this week, but will be touched up in our next issue.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a call for bids on the construction of the school building in East St. Johns. Local contractors should make a note of this, as it is quite desirable that home talent be employed throughout. Get in your bids early.

C. J. Anderson, the Richmond street merchant, and daughter, Miss Recco, will leave next Thursday for a several months' sojourn at Kelmar, Sweden, his old home. It has been thirty years since Mr. Anderson visited the scenes of his childhood, and he anticipates a very pleasant vacation mingling among his old friends and relatives in the Fatherland.

Incensed because his stepmother had left him at home near New Orleans in charge of his young stepbrothers and sisters, Tom Godfrey, a 12-year-old negro boy, fed the youngest of his charge to the hogs an' later with an axe inflicted what probably will prove fatal wounds on the other children. The baby's hands and feet had been eaten off by the hogs when found by the neighbors. The young step-sister is dying from a blow of the axe, and the other two have little chance for recovery. Tom has been placed in jail.

The closing of business places at a certain hour each evening was discussed at the Commercial club last week, and it brought out that nearly all the merchants were willing to close at seven o'clock each evening with the exception of Saturdays and pay days. W. Jower, the Chinaman on Jersey street, however, would agree to nothing along this line. He would just as soon do business on Sunday or keep open until midnight, and no plan has yet been evolved to force him to come to time, but some method may later be adopted that will be effectual, as it works a hardship on the other merchants.

A bran new daughter arrived at the home of "snappy" Harry Hunter Wednesday morning and the new father is as tickled as a boy with his first pair of copper toed boots. The event was made the occasion for quite a joke on the part of one of his friends. Passersby of his real estate office on Jersey street could not help but notice the attraction within the window early Wednesday morning. A large stuffed bird to represent a stork with a small doll baby attached to its back and a rubber nipple suspended from the bird's neck furnished lots of amusement for all who passed that way. A placard underneath announced the fact that "Happy" would not be in his office "today."

LIGHT

Would you have your home lighted equally as brilliant as gas or electricity would light it at a cost that is merely nothing? We have the St. Johns agency for the Incandescent Kerosene burner, a new invention, the benefits of which any one may have. The light is given by carbon and mantle through the new patent burner.

We will have a number of them lighted in our store on Saturday night.

BONHAM & CURRIER

Keep Bright and You WILL KEEP BUSY

Electric Light is the magnet that draws trade. The bright store is the "hypnotic eye" of business. People can no more resist the attraction of a brilliant, electrically lighted store than they can resist the clarion call of a brass band.

Is your competitor with the Electrically illuminated show windows, bright interior and sparkling Electric Sign getting an advantage over you? The moth never flutters around the unlighted candle! Up-to-date stores nowadays consider shop-window lighting a necessity, whether they remain open after dark or not. Competition forces modern methods.

A show window brilliantly illuminated with Electric light will make many a sale "the night before." Electric light compels attention, makes easy the examination of your display, shows goods in detail and fabrics in their true colors.

And don't neglect the Electric Sign. It is soliciting "tomorrow's" business every moment it is lighted—burning your name in the public mind. It is a solicitor that never becomes weary—never stops work—costs little.
