FRIDAY, JANUARY 28, 1901.

The long continued cold weather of the winter has not had a bad effect on crops, as might have been expected, but has been rather benefrom different parts of the state. Fruit prospects throughout the Northwest are now the brightest in years, it is said, the cold weather holding back the buds so long that there is little fear of damage by late frosts. This is shown particularly in the apple and pear orchards, where the crop during the past year was the smallest in several seasons. The snowfall of the winter is said to have been generally ample to protect fall sown grain except in some portions of the Willamette valley. The snow, too, has added moisture to the ground in the drier

The Artisans did it again last Wednesday evening. The exem-plifiers came over from Arleta and put on the work in the best manner ever seen in the city. It took 45 minutes to do the work and there was not a mistake made by them. Then followed a feed such as the local assembly is noted for giving, Friday, Jan. 21. A. W. Davis, who has been for number of years one of the most trusted and reliable assistants in the O. R. &. N. Railway department and who lately has been conducting the office for that company in St. Johns, has become associated THE REVIEW is entered at post office in Saint Johns, Oregon, as mail matter of the second class under the Act of Con- with that well known and hustling real estate man, J. S. McKinney. An office will be opened up in the fine room occupied by the Portland General Electric Co. on Jersey street. The new firm will make a strong team. Councilman Davis has ever been a booster and a pusher for St. Johns, and anything he could do to further its interests was cheerfully and enthusiastically done. Thoroughly reliable in every respect, no man need fear that he will get the "worst of it" in any realty deal he may make through Mr. Davis, and we know that he ficial to them, according to reports would rather lose a sale than make one through misrepresentation or distortion of facts. Mr. McKinney has long been a leading and most successful local realty man. Of an optimistic nature, the world and the situation always looks cheerful to "Jerry." Even in the dullest months he is there with "the goods," and if any one can make a sale McKinney can. Therefore, the combination of these two St. Johns pushers means that the realty business in St. Johns will take on an impetus and energy such as it has not known for some time. A fine list of property has been listed. and bargains galore may be found at their establishment when they are ready to do business together, which will be about February 1st. Here's hoping that the new firm will make a grand success of the

The Cheerful Liar That Made a Foo of the Grand Monarch.

Louis XIV, was taken in once in most humiliating way and by an impostor whose only art was lying. In 1667, just after he had returned from one of his most dazzling military successes against the Dutch, Louis le Grand received word that an embassy from Persia had flist landed at Marsellles en route to the French court to bring salutations and presents from Remember, when you want the shah. Pleased that his fame GOOD meat that Bitgood & Cole's should actually have run around the should fete the ambassador.

As a result the journey to Paris was way. Arrived at Paris, several regiments of the Swiss guard met the shah's representative and escorted him out to Versailles to a special reception in the hall of mirrors.

The ambassador presented himself as Riza Bey of the Persian court and after showing his credentials advanced to kiss the hand of Louis le perial sovereign were on their way and would arrive in Paris in a few days, said the ambassador.

Festivals followed at Versailles. The bey received magnificent presents from Louis and royal entertainment. He lounged gracefully on divans at the French court and smoked in Persian languor. He gave the grand monarque a few fragments of opal and turquoise, saying that they came from a Persian district bordering on the Caspian sea. The woods there were full of them, he explained, and he offered to divide with France-had planted the French fing there already, as it were!

At last the day came for the formal presentation of the shab's gifts, and on that morning early Riza Bey melted into space. He was never seen or heard of again. He had, as some one said, "gone glimmering through the dream of things that were." The gems that he had left were worth, if anything, about 15 cents apiece, being glass.-New York Tribune.

THE JURY DISAGREED.

A Fine Point In Equity That Never Was Decided.

An old time story of the fine point of law and equity which arose in carrying out an amicable contract is told in the Philadelphia Record. There were four brothers who had inherited storage warehouse from their father. He had divided the property equally Among the appurtenances was a cat —a fine animal, excellent for mousing. This, too, was divided, the eldest brother owning the right front quar-ter, the second brother the left front quarter and the younger brothers the two hind quarters.

Now, unfortunately, the cat in one of its nocturnal prowis injured the right front paw, and the eldest brother attended to that portion of his property by binding the injured mem-

The cat, thankful for this relief to edly before the fire, but in the midst of its slumbers a failing coal ignited the rag, and the animal, howling with agony dashed through the warehouse and, coming in contact with some combustibles, set the building on fire.

When the loss came to be figured out the three younger brothers wished to throw it all upon the eldest on the ground that had be not tied up his part of the cat with the inflammable rag the building would not have been destroyed. He, on the contrary, contended that had the cat only been possessed of the front right paw-his property-it would have stood still and burned to death. It was the three other paws that caused the damage.

The brothers argued the case until they died, but they never reached an agreement.

What Should She Say?

"I tell you, little wife, you can't imagine how lonesome I am when I am separated from you. You are the best little woman in the world, so different from Drigg's nagging and scolding wife. Why, dearest, this very night I ought to go down to the club. Brown of Brown, Kalibo & Co. is in town. They're among our best customers. Ought to know him socially, hadn't 1? But unless you insist, my little sweetheart wife, I won't go. It may mean a loss to the firm, but I'll stay with my precious."

Samuel Hill, formerly of Pennsylvania, but who has recently been located at Medforo, was a pleasant visitor to this office Wednesday. He says the climate in Medford is fine, but there are some things the boosters of that place do not mention. One is the fact that only about once in eight years do the apple trees there prove a paying crop, and there are some orchards that do not bear at all. Mr. Hill is now located in Portland.

S. C. Cook, a pioneer realty man who has for long conducted a real estate office near Cedar Park, has secured fine quarters in the concrete block building on Jersey street, where he now may be found with a fine list of bargains. Councilman Cook is so well known to every man, woman and child in St. Johns, that he needs no introduction since his advent to the heart of the business district. But if you have any property you want to sell and want to sell it quick, you could do no better than see Mr. Cook.

It doesn't take Charley long to get busy on a contract when he gets one, and that is one reason why his services are so much in demand. Then he is always careful to give perfect satisfaction.

The second annual banquet of the "Glory Class" with John Keeler as teacher, was held at the Baptist church Friday, Jan. 21st. The room and tables were tastefully decorated with the class colors, red and white. An elaborate menu had been prepared by the committee, Eva Clark and Roy Crouchley. Harry Rawson acted as toast master. Toasts were given by the following members: Rev. and Mrs. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Keeler, Mrs. Shaw, Bert Simmons, Eva Clark, Marybelle Whitmore, Roy Crouchley, Katherine Coffyn, Leslie Wood, Myrtle Dickie, Archie Mayer. After giving the Glory Class yell and singing the "Glory Song," the crowd dispersed voting it the most successful event in the history of the class.
