Anyhow, the dust is pretty factually settled.

C. R. Organ, a former well known citizen of St. Johns, but now a rancher of Beaverton, was a business visitor to this city Monday.

See the new ad of the North Bank Pharmacy in this issue. The prices named therein have never been equalled before in this city. Economize and buy at this Saturday sale.

Chief of Police Bredeson has disposed of his home here to Hon. K. C. Couch. The consideration was $2,000. We understand the chief will soon erect another habitation in St. Johns.

The Sunday Journal says: Announcement is made that the Gunn Desk company, one of the largest manufacturers of desk and bookcases in the country, has secured a site near St. Johns and will erect a plant for the manufacture of desks and bookcases.

M. S. Cobb is expanding his business on the corner of Jersey and Burlington streets. He has secured the room recently vacated by the National tea store, has cut an entrance into same from his corner store and is now in a position to serve the people in better style than ever before.

A woman attired as a nun made a systematic solicitation of funds in St. Johns last week and secured quite a respectable sum of money. Father Kettenhofen states that the woman is a fraud, and is not authorized to collect funds by the Church. He advises people not to give to parties of this nature unless they can show that they possess full authority for so doing.

The petition for the improvement of Jersey street, Richmond to Fessenden street, which was presented to council Tuesday evening is certainly a step in the right direction. It remains for the property owners along Philadelphia street, Jersey to Hayes, and Burlington, Jersey to Hayes, to follow this excellent example.

Petitions are being circulated to bring the question of whether or not Council shall issue liquor licenses before the voters at the April election. It requires 20 per cent of the voters on petitions before the matter may be brought up for vote. We understand that nearly the required number have been secured, and it is almost a foregone conclusion that the issue will have to be voted on April 4th.

The St. Johns Protective Association held what was purported to be a debate in Bickner Hall Monday night. A gentleman from Portland made a few remarks on the temperance question, but it was of a general nature, and not a local one. He dealt more with statistics than with personal observation. The debating part of the program failed to materialize. The address was listened to with interest, although the audience was somewhat slim.

J. Scales is erecting a fine little cottage in East St. Johns.

C. C. Bardwell has begun the erection of a green house on Tioga street.

The ground hog still seems to have a secure grip on the weather situation.

Paschal Hill has just purchased one of the finest pacers that ever came to town. It is certainly a beauty and has a record in the racing world that is high up.

Contractor F. E. Zook has just completed a fine modern cottage for J. B. Holbrook in East St. Johns. The property was sold to L. Lamb before it was nearly completed.

Mrs. Fred Carley and children of Vancouver, B. C., have left for their home after spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davidson, 616 Salem street.

Geo. L. Perrine will continue his discussion on "How Would Christ Vote—Wet or Dry?" in the M. W. A. hall Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Women and children, as well as gentlemen, are cordially invited to attend.

N. A. Gee and brother-in-law, F. C. Oryall, made a very pleasant trip to Forest Grove and McMinnville last Sunday. Mr. Gee met several of his old friends at these places, and he says he enjoyed himself to the limit.

The Fire Department will give a St. Patrick's ball on the 17th of Ireland. As balls given by the local firemen are always joyous events, this one may be looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure by the lovers of dancing. The finest kind of music has been secured for the evening. Paste the date in your hat and make up your mind to be in attendance. Gents 50c; ladies free.

According to the action of council Tuesday night the license for gentlemen dogs will be $2 hereafter; female dogs, $5. It is believed that this increase in the price of licenses will have a tendency to do away with a lot of dogs that are not worth the price. St. Johns has the reputation of possessing more dogs to the square inch than any other city of its size in the civilized world.

As a startling evidence of how St. Johns is progressing these days, we refer to the building permits for the month of February. As compared with February of last year they show that the total amount represented by building permits last month to be over 100 times as much as February, 1909. Of course last year building operations were at a very low ebb during that month, the permits of which called for $300 worth of improvement. February of this year showed $30,100.

W. M. Gatton, the well known milk man, had an experience the other day that he would just as lief not have repeated. He was driving along with his horses when the tug broke on one side and the other one became unhooked. The horses kept on going and he kept hold of the lines. The wagon, however, refused to move. As a result, Mr. Gatton went over the front of the vehicle and traveled on his face for a few feet. His facial appearance after he disconnected himself with the lines proved that he traveled over some pretty rough country. So when you see him with his smiling countenance seamed and lined up in a fair resemblance to the map of England, don't accuse him of being in a prize fight, and coming out second best.

THE Pioneer Drug Store WHY?

Having remained at the same location and under the same management for the longest time, we have the largest and most varied stock. Since the day this store opened its doors, nothing but the trained hands and minds of registered druggists have served you.

Our re-adjusted price schedule conforms to the best Portland prices on the general drug line and we are still a little cheaper than the city on most household requisites.

We are agents for the A. D. S. line of remedies which we thoroughly endorse and recommend to you.

A word in regard to our prescription department. You should choose your druggist as you do your doctor, for you cannot expect the best results unless your prescriptions are prepared by men, who, by their skill and accuracy have been licensed to perform such work. Our old customers will appreciate the above facts and we ask the newcomer to give us a trial.

An Up-to-date Grocery

Having purchased the grocery stock, fixtures and good will of J. F. Hendricks on Burlington street, I solicit a continuance of the trade accorded the store in the past and invite the general public to visit my place of business and get acquainted with the prices and quality of goods I carry.

Being thoroughly familiar with the grocery business, I will at all times keep an up-to-date stock of staple and fancy groceries, and if courtesy, fair dealing and honest treatment have any merit it will in all cases be accorded to all. Norwegian patronage especially solicited.
