ANNOUNCEMENT.

I shall be an INDEPENDENT Candidate for the office of City Attorney for St. Johns, Oregon, for the ensuing term. My platform shall be "Strict adherence to my oath of office, if elected." Absolutely no other pledge to any person or party. If any man says differently, demand his proof. Geo. J. Perkins, Att'y.

Two local parties have placed tickets in the field and it is now up to the voters to make their choice. Good men have been nominated on both tickets and it will not be difficult to select a business set of officials that will conduct municipal affairs in a careful and successful manner. It is not the policy of the Review to pick out candidates and advocate their election in a local campaign. We believe all the men nominated are good friends of the Review and we do not care to favor one through its columns against another. Our private opinions shall not be forced upon the public. Were poorly qualified and incompetent or immoral men placed upon either ticket we would feel inclined to take a hand but this has not occurred. All are able and competent, and may the fittest survive.

The Telegram is being almost swamped with replies to an inquiry alleged to have been made by a young miss as to the advisability of marrying a young man with a $14 per week salary. Before the excitement abates the probabilities are very strong that a matrimonial bureau will result, judging from the boquets some of the gentlemen are throwing at the lady correspondents. As more than half of the married women of today are getting along on less than this amount weekly, the fair one, if she has any grit or energy whatever, should not be worried or hesitate by reason of a little matter like that. Marriage must surely be swiftly merging toward commercialism when a lass fears to wed a $14 per week man, and the god of love is lost in the shuffle.

The Vogue Millinery spring opening takes place on March 16th, as per announcement in the large sized ad, that appears in this issue. The Vogue has added the agency of Eiler's Piano house, besides enlarging the other lines. The ladies of St. Johns have no excuse whatever for doing their purchasing in the way of fine millinery or up-to-date suits at Portland, since this local establishment carries one of the finest assortments, latest patterns and designs that can be found anywhere, and the prices are as low as possible. Our people should appreciate such an establishment here by patronizing it as much as possible. Mrs. Stucker certainly deserves all the support of the people of this community, and she should get it. Go to the opening, and you will be surprised at its elegance.

Ed. Review: Replying briefly to Mr. Hill's criticism of my statement that it would cost $6.00 per front foot to hard surface Fessenden street with cement pavement, will say that the price mentioned included cement sidewalk, grading and all complete, and was so understood by everybody but him, and if an asphalt or bitulithic pavement is used it will cost about $8.00 per front foot all complete. Respectfully,
S. C. Cook.

Frank Ely and Harry Nichols will give a boxing bout in the skating rink on the 23d inst. Much interest centers about this event, and it promises to be a very lively setto. Good preliminaries are being arranged for. A more detailed account of the affair will appear later.

The ladies' aid society of the Evangelical church will give a social on the evening of March 16th, in Holbrook Block, corner of Jersey and Leavitt streets. All invited. Good Program. Admission five cents.

In the window of the St. Johns Pharmacy there is displayed the first bunch of aerograms or wireless telegrams to be received in St. Johns.

Prof Ely has secured a large room for a gymnasium at the Central Hotel where he will give private lessons in boxing, wrestling and fencing.
