

SHE WAS ENGAGED.
The Tale of a Business Man Who Met His Match.

He was engaging a new stenographer, and he bit off his words and buried them at her in a way to frighten an ordinary girl out of her wits. "Cheer up," he asked.

"No, sir."

"Talk slang?"

"No, sir."

"Make goooog eyes at the fellows when you're not busy?"

"No, sir."

"Know how to spell 'cat' and 'dog' correctly?"

"Yes, sir."

"Chin through the telephone half a dozen times a day?"

"No, sir."

"Usually tell the office force how much the firm owes and all the rest of its private business you learn?"

"No, sir."

He was thinking of something else to ask her when she took a hand in the matter and put a few queries.

"Smoke cheap cigars when you're dictating?" she asked.

"Why—er—no," he gasped in astonishment.

"Take it out of the stenographer's hide when you've had a scrap at home and get the worst of it?"

"Oh—certainly not!"

"Slam things around and swear when business is bad?"

"N—never."

"Lay for your employees with a club when they get caught in a block some morning?"

"No, indeed."

"Think you know enough about grammar and punctuation to appreciate a good stenographer when you get one?"

"I—I think so."

"Want me to go to work, or is your time worth so little that—"

"You bet!" he broke in enthusiastically. "Kindly hang up your things and let's get at these letters."—A. B. Lewis in Judge.

The Cautious Reporter.
"Young man," said the editor to the new reporter, "you lack caution. You must learn never to state a thing as a fact until it has been proved a fact. You are apt to get us into libel suits. Do not say, 'The cashier stole the funds.' Say, 'The cashier who is alleged to have stolen the funds.' That's all. Oh, get something about that First ward social tonight."

The next day halfway down the social column the editor saw the following cautious paragraph:

"It is rumored that a card party was given last evening to a number of reputed ladies of the First ward. Mrs. Smith, gossip says, was the hostess, and the festivities are reported to have continued until 11:30 in the evening. The alleged hostess is believed to be the wife of John Smith, the so-called 'high priced grocer.'—Success Magazine.

SUMMONS.

In the circuit court of the State of Oregon for the county of Multnomah.

An action wherein Anna Cummins is plaintiff and Elvoro Cummins is defendant.

To Elvoro Cummins, defendant above named: In the name of the State of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear in the above entitled suit on or before the 27th day of May, 1910, which date is subsequent to the expiration of six weeks after the date of the first publication of this summons; if being prescribed in the order for publication of said summons that the same be published once a week for six consecutive weeks in the St. Johns Review. If you fail to so appear and answer, for want thereof, plaintiff may apply to the above entitled court for relief prayed for in her complaint to-wit:

A decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between plaintiff and defendant; that defendant be adjudged and decreed to have and own no title or interest in any of the property owned by plaintiff or to which she is entitled or may be entitled; for judgment against the defendant for costs incurred by plaintiff in this suit and for such other, further and different relief as the court may deem just and proper in equity.

This summons is published pursuant to an order of Honorable Robert G. Morrow, presiding judge of the above entitled court, made and entered May 26, 1910.

GEORGE J. PERKINS,
Attorney for plaintiff.
Date of first publication, May 27, 1910, at the last publication July 8, 1910.
