gress of March 3, 1879.
Official Newspaper of the City of St. Johns.

It's a wise woman who makes her husband believe she believes all he tells her.

Early to bed and reluctant to rise has kept many a man from winning the prize.

The old-fashioned cradle went out about the time race suicide and the poodle came in.

There are plenty of ways to make your mark in the world without using a hammer.

"Pa, what is a Democrat?" "A Democrat my son, is a Republican gone mad."—Ex.

Don't approach canned chicken with a cluck. It may at one time have been a steer in the stockyard.

There's no fool like an old fool, unless it is a young fool who thinks everyone who is old is a fool.

When you feel like fighting count ten. Not necessarily to give your wrath a chance to cool off, but to locate your adversary's vulnerable spot.

Now comes a scientist who says that "the world will be destroyed by dissipation into invisible corpuscles." That is about what happened Teddy on Nov. 8th.

The flowers are dead, the year is dying; with plaintiveness the wind is sighing. But worry not, just cease your crying—there's bacon in the pan frying, and it cost 40 cents a pound, too. More truth than poetry in that, eh?

Advertising is like planting.
Results depend in a measure on the quality of soil and how well it is worked. The Review represents the highest type of commercial nourishment. Plant your advertisements in the Review and reap a good crop of business.

Lid on in St. Johns(?)

The lid has fallen over St. Johns and the fight fans of the city of the apostles are sitting in sackcloth and ashes today, wondering how in the world they are going to pass the time away December 16, when the St. Johns Athletic club had planned to give them some more fistic gaiety in the ring.

From some source, as yet not made public, but believed to have been the Sheriff's office, the tip went out to the promoters of the scraps that the next time anybody pulled a glove on and crawled through the ropes in St. Johns he would become an inmate of "Bob" Stevens' strong box. It is said that the officials even had a hard time preventing themselves from arresting the promoters after the last bout, but it seems as if the crusaders finally said they would be satisfied to let the past go if "nothing doing" would be the motto of the club hereafter.

It will not only be the motto. It will be the battle cry. When that tip reached St. Johns there was such a scurrying among the backers of the game to get out from under that there was hardly anybody left in sight with courage to announce that the bouts were off.—Telegram.

The above can be taken as a can-nard. The athletic club professes to know nothing about it. No event had been scheduled for Dec.
16. The state law, we believe, permits 15 round glove contests. Until this law is violated the sheriff can do nothing. And this law has not been broken in St. Johns. Ten rounds with no decision has been the limit set by the club, and has been strictly adhered to. No, the boxing game is not dead nor has the lid been placed upon it in St.
Johns, so the club affirms.

Elect Officers.

Doric Lodge 132, A. F. & A. M.

Parties who have been in the habit of throwing refuse along Willamette boulevard had best discontinue this practice. A reward of $25 is offered for the arrest and conviction of any party found engaged in this act.

Mothers' Meeting

Some may have missed the notice in the Review last week of the W.
C. T. U., but I believe all the members of the union and possibly some of their friends knew about it —and why the silence. It was so good that now we want all to know —it was this:

In the absence from the city of our beloved president, Mrs. J. C.
Scott, a surprise was planned for her and it was decided to meet at her home and present her with a certificate of life membership in the state W. C. T. U., together with a card upon which was printed a list of the names of the donors. In honor of the occasion Mrs. Mallet, president of Multnomah county W.
C. T. U., who is an able speaker, was invited to be present. Mrs.
Mallet first gave us a very interesting talk on the work that we could do, after which she made a very eloquent presentation speech, and Mrs. Scott, although much affected responded in her usual able manner, and let me add, Mrs. Scott was not the only one affected, as tears were shed in nearly all parts of the room.

Miss Lillian Perkins, St. Johns' able elocutionist, favored us with a very appropriate reading. The attendance was large and each lady brought either fruit, nuts or most delicious homemade candy. The large variety of fruit with the lemonade which we found awaiting us, formed a most desirable luncheon which was served after the program during the social hour.—P. C.
