OUT OF THE ORDINARY

We have a way of running a drug store that's a little out of the ordinary, but which affords the greatest protection to the public. When a registered druggist is not on duty at our store, no one is on duty--the store is locked up. When you see three or more men waiting upon people in a drug store, you will know it is not our store, there are only two that wait upon the trade at our store. But when you are waited upon at our store, a registered druggist waits upon you; so it shouldn't make much difference to you which one waits upon you, as you know absolutely, that however technical your work may be, it is being done by a registered druggist, one who is capable and legalized by license to do the same.

A car load of anthracite coal from Wales has just been received by the Edlisen Fuel Co. It is said to be the finest ever seen in St. Johns. Samples on display in the office.

The reception given by Calef Bros. Monday was an unqualified success, largely attended, and the beautiful and extensive stock of home furnishings greatly admired. For prize winners see large ad.

One of the prettiest Christmas trees in St. Johns on Christmas eve was given to Andrew Basey, the 2 year old son of our genial neighbor, W. S. Basey, and decorated by his young friends. Santa Claus visited Andrew's home early in the evening leaving presents and plenty of candy and nuts. Those present were Maggie Golden, Truman Taylor, Florence Raymond and Perry Breeden, and Hershel and Thelma Tallman.

The St. Johns Water Co. is now nicely situated in their new location on Burlington street, vacated by the St. Johns Land Co. The removal to this location was made necessary on account of more room being needed and in order to keep open longer than the regular banking hours. The office will be kept open until 8 p. m. on the 9th and 10th of each month in order that patrons busily engaged in the day time may transact their business with the company after working hours. The Edlisen Fuel Co. will also occupy a portion of the new quarters.

R. W. McKeon and Paschal Hill will leave tomorrow night for Chicago, Indiana and Michigan to investigate hard surface pavements. They have been selected by the Jersey street property owners to make this trip at the expense of the Westrumite Paving Co., and their time will be mostly given over to conferring with and securing affidavits from officials and other parties familiar with the merits or demerits of Westrumite. We have offered to act as chaperon for the twain in order that they might not go astray among the snares and pitfalls in wicked Chicago, but the offer was turned down cold.

An Appreciation

It is a busy world, and in the stress of life and work, we sometimes forget to express the word of appreciation and gratitude that is in our hearts.

But here it is now, to you, just this little word of appreciation for all the co-operation you have lent us in building up our business. We could not have done this alone. A business is built by its patrons quite as much as by its managers.

We may have at times taxed your patience, for if there are perfect people in the world, we have so far been unable to employ them. But in spite of occasional errors and lapses, you have stood by and shown your confidence in the only way that really counts. For such consideration, we thank you, and here is a hand grasp and a thank you with best wishes for a Happy and Prosperous New Year.
