

The Change That Was Wrought.

The little man was explaining to his audience the benefits of physical culture. "Three years ago," he said, "I was a miserable wreck. Now, what do you suppose brought about this great change in me?" "What change?" said a voice from the audience. There was a succession of loud smiles, and some persons thought to see him collapse. But the little man was not to be put out. "Will the gentleman who asked 'What change?' kindly step up here?" he asked suavely. "I shall then be better able to explain. 'That's right!' Then, grabbing the witty gentleman by the neck: 'When I first took up physical culture I could not even lift a little man. Now (smiling action to word) I can throw one about like a bundle of rags.' And finally he flung the interrupter half a dozen yards along the floor. 'I trust, gentlemen, that you will see the force of my argument and that I have not hurt this gentleman's feelings by my explanation.' There were no more interruptions.

Two Collars on a Dog.

Having bought a dog that he admired, a man undertook to buy a dog collar. The dog had a neck nearly as big as his head, and the dealer advised the man to buy two collars.

"What for?" said the man. "He's only got one neck, so I guess he can get along with only one collar, can't he?"

"Maybe so," said the man, so the man went away leading the dog by his new collar and chain. In less than a week he brought the dog back.

"I'm afraid I can't keep him," he said. "He is too fat. I can't keep him tied up. His neck is the biggest part of him, and he is as strong as an ox, therefore it is a cinch for him to slip his collar off."

"That was why I wanted you to take two collars," said the dealer. "Put both on and fasten the chain to the back collar, and he can tug away all night without getting loose. He may commit suicide, but he won't get loose."—New York Sun.

Disappointed in Her.

"And so your father refuses to consent to our union."

"He does, Rudolphus."

The sad youth swallowed a sob.

"Is there nothing left for us, then, but an elopement?" said he.

"Nothing."

The girl was fond, but firm.

"Do you think, Cleomantine, that you could abandon this luxurious home, forget all the enjoyments of great wealth, banish yourself forever from your devoted parents' hearts and go west with a poor young man to enter a home of lifelong poverty and self-denial?"

"I could, Rudolphus."

The sad youth rose wearily and reached for his hat.

"Then," said he, "you are far from being the practical girl I have all along taken you to be."

And with one last look around on the sumptuousness that some day he had hoped to share he sobbed and said farewell.—Browning's Magazine.

Had to Take His Own Medicine.

George Barr McCutcheon was waiting for a train in Chicago, and as he passed through the station he saw one of his latest best sellers displayed on the newsstand counter. He picked it up, wrote his name on the fly leaf and handed it to the boy behind the counter. He was moving away when the boy called excitedly:

"Hey, mister, come back here. You've got to buy this book 'cause you've spotted it by writing your name in it."

"Yes, but did you see the name?" the author asked.

"That don't make no difference," the lad insisted; "nobody'll want to buy it now."

And, hearing his train called, Mr. McCutcheon was forced to pay real money for one of his own books.—Success Magazine.

Outdone.

Teacher—Now, boys, I want to see if any of you can make a complete sentence out of two words, both having the same sound to the ear.

First Boy—I can, Miss Smith.

Teacher—Very good, Robert. Let us hear your sentence.

First Boy—Write right.

Teacher—Very good.

Second Boy—Say, Miss Smith, I can beat that. I can make three words of it—write, write right.

Third Boy (excitedly)—Gee! Hear this—write, write right.

Teacher (thrown off her guard)—Whoa!—Topeka Journal.

Wanted It to Show.

A rich old farmer once had his portrait painted. When the portrait was finished the old farmer looked at it, shook his head and said to the artist: "Very good. Very good, indeed. But there is one fault that you must remedy. Please make the right side of the chest bulge out. That is where I carry my wallet."

The Sad Part.

"Doesn't it make you sad," exclaimed the member of the Audubon society, "to see women wearing on their hats the feathers of the poor little birds?"

"Isn't the feathers that make me sad," replied the practical married man. "It's their bills."—Philadelphia Record.

Collected Some Alimony Also.

St Johns

St. Johns is not on the boom, but just growing like a thrifty tree, spreading out and reaching up as never before. 1911 will place 1000 per cent to her outward appearance over 1910, and very much to her intrinsic values. Some think St. Johns property has reached high water mark, and it can advance no further. So they said five and ten years ago, but was it true? The next five years will see greater things for St. Johns than the last five saw. She now has barely the foundation laid for a superstructure that will astonish St. Johnites more than many who are just looking on. Stop knocking and go to boosting, and you'll feel different about it, and St. Johns will grow the faster for your help. The Pacific coast will make its most gigantic strides in progress in the next five years just ahead, and St. Johns has the key to the situation and will share immensely in the general development. Let her grow.

Chiropractic

(Ki-ro-prak-tik)

Comparatively a new science by which the cause of disease is determined and the art of removing the same by the hands without medicine or surgery. The spinal column is the main shaft or support of the human body, and is composed of 26 articular joints or movable bones (Vertebrae) through which the spinal cord passes, sending out from between each of these Vertebrae nerve filaments to the different organs, muscle and tissue of the body. How vital these nerves to our being: Destroying those of the finger, arm or leg, or any other member of our body, and that member is also destroyed; or impinging or otherwise injure a nerve of any portion of the body, and trouble begins. Think how often accidents happen, even from the moment of birth to that of old age, such as falls, sprains, poisons, bad colds, etc., that so often move Vertebrae out of place, thus impinging or otherwise interfering with the nerves passing from between them, which may cause the Asthma, Infant Paralysis, Heart, Kidney, Stomach and Liver and all other troubles, owing to what organ, tissue or member that nerve supplies. There is no disease but that will yield more readily to this method of cure than the so-called best medicine in this great world of ours. Come in and let us demonstrate, if you are in any way afflicted, and especially if you have failed to procure relief elsewhere. Consultation will cost you nothing. Chiropractic never injures any one, never fails to benefit, and seldom fails to cure even the most stubborn cases.

The following testimonials are from just a few patients I have treated and cured. They are here amongst us and can be reached by telephone or letter. Kindly communicate with them.

Sciatica Cured

Wife and I had been afflicted with sciatica for over two years, and after failing to procure relief by all other remedies, even to going to the famous Hot Springs of Hot Lake, Kansas Oregon, I was persuaded to try Dr. Douglass (The Chiropractor), 338 Union Avenue N., Portland, Oregon, which I did, and an completely cured, and I most earnestly recommend him to all afflicted as I was, for only those suffering as I did have an idea of the pain endured.

Respectfully,
W. H. COLGAN,
(Millwright Peninsula Lumber Co.,
1711 Portsmouth Ave., Portland, Ore.

I was helped onto the boat at Cathlamet, Wash., and went to Dr. Douglass (The Chiropractor, Portland, Oregon) to treat for Sciatica. In four weeks he completely freed me from my sciatica. Since that time I have made and housed my winter's wood, built a 1 1/2 story house and feel as well as a man of my age can, which is 73 years. I believe he can cure anything that is curable. I know of him curing cases of stomach, heart and kidney trouble, asthma, headache and neuralgia, all of the severest degree, while I was treated by him.

Most truly,
J. M. EDWARDS,
Cathlamet, Wash.

Asthma Cured

For three years I had been afflicted with Asthma so that I could not venture out into the woods to do my work (crushing timber) for fear of one of those awful attacks which come but a sufferer of asthma knows. Was directed to Dr. Douglass (The Chiropractor) who completely cured me four months ago.

Respectfully,
FRANK KICE,
6604 Whitman Avenue, Portland, Ore.

For one year I had some severe ailment that my physicians did not understand nor render relief. I became so that I could not retain anything, not even water, on my stomach. November 15th I called Dr. Douglass (The Chiropractor) who soon located the trouble and removed the cause so that I am well now and can eat fresh vegetables my food I wish.

Most respectfully,
MRS. T. J. GIVAN,
Whitwood Court.

About one year ago Locomotor Ataxia came upon me—so pronounced by several leading physicians of Portland, who told me my disease was incurable. I lost control of my limbs; my feet and legs became insensible to the prick of a pin though pushed to the bone; neither could I feel it when they were being burned. I began treating with Dr. Douglass (The Chiropractor), 338 Union Ave. N., Nov. 21, 1910. Commenced to improve at once, and have continued to do so ever since, and am now able to resume my work. A corn on one of my feet began pain me at once as life began to return to my limbs, and for a time the pain was almost unbearable.

Very respectfully,
G. J. ANDERSON,
338 Union Ave. N., Portland, Ore.
