We Are Known

All up and down the Pacific Coast as Expert Prescription Druggists. One day last week we received two separate orders, one from Lodi, California, and one from Baker City, Oregon, to refill Prescriptions for former customers, as both said they were unable to get their Prescriptions properly refilled in their respective locations.

It rather puzzles us to know why these people can't get their Prescriptions properly refilled, but complaints of this nature come to us so often that we've about concluded it is a lack of technical knowledge and practical experience on the part of some druggists. It requires this technical knowledge combined with long experience to scientifically compound Prescriptions and it's the possession of these requirements that has given us the reputation we now enjoy.
