The expert accountants' bill of $527 for conning over the city books was the subject of some discussion. The charge of ten dollars per day for each seemed mighty steep to the dads and the bill was held over another week for further consideration.

A communication from Engineer Andrew stated that the contractor is doing good work on the sewer know if Mr. Andrew was working holding of its own to the former, city. He cited to several instances where the work was not being done according to specifications, where tunnels were made, no tamping done, no water used and defective pipe not destroyed or removed, contrary to the letter and spirit of the specifications.
