Dr. A. W. Vincent, who confesses to being a socialist of 20 years standing, has emphatically declared in these columns that socialism does not advocate confiscation, and also under socialism one can own his own house and lot. He advised us to seek information at the fountain head—Appeal to Reason—rather than street talk. For the first time in years we picked up on Tuesday a copy bearing date of Sept. 2, 1911, and find this: "How will a socialist government acquire the railroads? + + + There never was but one way to do a thing—just do it. The only way to take a thing is to take it. When the people want the railroads they will just take them, and that'll be all there will be to it." Is that confiscation or not? Again we find in the same issue: "There can be no absolute title to land." How can a man own his own lot without a title? Has the doctor's twenty years of study gone for naught?

City Engineer Andrew has been granted a ten-day vacation by the council. He refuses, however, to divulge where he will set up housekeeping upon his return.

Have you been attending the 500 social given by the Rebekahs? If you have not you have been missing some good times. Our next 500 social will be held at I. O. O. F. hall Sept. 13. Be sure and come and bring your friends.

On account of the rain on Monday night Rev. S. F. Entorf did not lecture at the United Evangelical church as advertised last week, but will give his lecture on "John the Baptist," Thursday, Sept. 14th, at 8 p. m. Remember the date and that admission is free.

McKinney & Davis have sold about 50 Manhattan Beach lots the past few days. This beach is the closest that can ever be to Portland, is on the Tillamook (P. R. N.) railroad. Lots 50x100 are selling from $50 to $80 per lot. There will be a St. Johns crowd located there.

The bid of the Peninsula Bank for the ferry bonds was accepted at the adjourned meeting of council last night. The transfer of bonds for the ferry approaches and slips will be made at once and county commissioners notified to get busy on the new boat. The free ferry is now practically assured by the first of the year.

Sunday afternoon at about three o'clock at the Evangelical parsonage in the presence of a few friends, Miss Julia Moe was united in marriage to Mr. H. Gibson, both of St. Johns. After the words were spoken by Rev. Stover that made them one, they were congratulated and wished many happy days, and left for a wedding trip. They will make their home in St. Johns.

With a generous portion of our people in the hop yards and yet others in the mountains or on the seashore, news is a very scarce proposition these days—so much so that the Oregonian and the Journal have dispensed with their representatives in this place for the time being. Therefore if you fail to find much news matter in the Review, don't kick, because there is none to get. No news is good news, anyway, but not so good for a newspaper.

Capt. Snow treated the G. A. R. boys and W. R. C. to a fine watermelon feast Saturday afternoon. A large number of the old boys and girls partook of Capt's hospitality. The melons were specially selected ones and were enough to feed a small army. Owing to a stress of business eye editor was unable to attend, but that we should not be overlooked the Cap brought us down a generous haul of one of the largest and juiciest fellows, all for which we are duly thankful. May Cap live to give many more parties of the same nature, at which may the editor not be forgotten.

Stories of Success

Sen. A. J. Beveridge

The talent for success is nothing more than doing whatever you can do well, and doing well whatever you do without a thought of fame. Senator Beveridge is essentially a self-made man whose success is because of hard, unflinching work. Once asked what he considered the prime requisites for a young man's success, he answered, "First, energy, then determination." To these every thoughtful student of this life, so full of brilliant successes, would add thrift and industry. Without thrift Senator Beveridge could never have secured a college education, fitting him to fill with honor to himself and his native state the high office of United States Senator from Indiana. Without some saving principle, no young man can confidently meet life's emergencies or its opportunities. Begin to save now. Open a savings account with this bank today, and prepare yourself to fill credibly the positions of trust and honor that may come to you in the future.

Around The World with Uncle Sam

Beginning next Monday, September 11th, P. A. Merriam will take St. Johns theatre goers on a trip around the world with the Atlantic Fleet. From Hampton Roads to Europe, then through the Mediterranean Sea and the Suez Canal to India, Japan and the Philippines; around Cape Horn to the Gulf of Mexico.

This is an added attraction at the Multnomah Theatre and should be well patronized. Mr. Merriam made the trip with the fleet and will tell about life on a Man-O-War and the strange people of the Far East. The views used during the lecture include the target practice of the fleet while en route.

Mr. Merriam is the only naval lecturer on the coast under Uncle Sam's orders. Don't fail to hear him.

Regular admission—10c for adults and 5c for children under 12 years.

A Welcome Visitor

Prof. W. Theophilus Macleod of New York while on his way from San Diego to the East stopped over Sunday last to visit with his friend, Gov. J. H. Fletcher, now of this city. Prof. Macleod is a great preacher, a profound scholar and educator, and one of the sweetest singers in the country. Knowing all this, Mr. Fletcher induced him to occupy the pulpit of the Evangelical church morning and evening, and, after preaching to treat his hearers to several pieces of music. His morning's discourse was a beautiful dissertation on the power of the gospel—logical, thoughtful and brilliant. Not a word was lost, the audience remaining spell-bound from beginning to the end. Perhaps never before did they listen to such a clear cut, eloquent and powerful address. Then followed the "Holy City," accompanied by the organ, and it was hard to say which charmed most—the masterly handling of the organ or the sweet, powerful notes of the singer.

In the evening he preached again to a large congregation. This being over, he seated himself at the organ, and sang again, soft and beautiful. "He shall wipe the tear from every eye." Then at the request of some one in the audience, repeated the "Holy City," thus lifting every soul nearer the skies. Prof. Macleod left for the East on Monday morning, where he will take final courses in science, theology and other subjects. He promises to visit St. Johns again next summer when on his way to San Diego to attend to business interests. He can depend on a royal welcome when he comes again.

Do You Cook With Gas?

If not, why not? Nothing is nicer this warm weather than a gas range or plate for cooking. No heated kitchen to contend with, no wood to chop. After using one for a few days you would wonder how you ever got along without it. Ask those 106 who are now cooking with gas in St. Johns. Why not order one now? The price is low and the terms easy. Cheaper than wood and infinitely better. Place your order now and make the life of the housewife more bearable these mid-summer days.

The "Helping Hand" of Electric Service

Is the Toaster. The Radiant Toaster was designed to make PERFECT TOAST for discriminating people—and it does. When you eat Toast made on a Radiant Toaster you will quickly appreciate the big difference between PERFECT TOAST and the other kind. And you should recollect that Toast is very "versatile" food; it is the foundation for scores of the most deliciously toothsome viands.

Perfect Toast is therefore vitally essential. Aside from the quality of this Electric Toast, each slice costs only the merest fraction of a cent. And there is a positive joy in making it, for there is something cozy and cheerful about the soft glow of the coils reflecting on the shining white porcelain base. The Radiant Toaster adds grace and charm to any table.
