

Pupils, Attention

To the first student bringing in the correct arithmetical solution of the following problem will be given one worth of school supplies—your own selection. Answer to problem and name of winner published next week. These problems will continue for some time.—J. M. Shaw, groceries, school supplies, bakery goods, fruits, nuts, etc., 802 North Ivanhoe.

Mr. Skeebink thinks there is big money in hens. He has figured and figured, but is all mixed up and wants help. This is the way he tried to figure it out: If a hen and a half lay an egg and a half worth a cent and a half in a day and a half, and a hen and a half in a day and a half eat a pint and a half worth a cent and a half a pint, what is the profit on one hen for the present month.

Answer to last problem, 41 yards. Winner, James Bucher.
