

DO YOU REALIZE

THAT WHEN YOU BUY A SEWING machine of an agency you have to pay the agent's salary? An agent can sell about two machines a week. He must earn about $5.00 a day with his horse and buggy. That means an added price of $15 to the machine.

Why not buy of a house that buys their stock for cash at the lowest possible price from the factory, that will guarantee every machine sold for 10 yrs., that will give the easiest terms and a price from 1-third to one-half less.

The Commercial club is doing all it can to make its headquarters attractive and entertaining. The house committee has been authorized to purchase a piano, and it very graciously showed its appreciation and recognition of the Ladies' Auxiliary by naming one of its members on the committee to select the instrument.

A committee, composed of P. H. Edlensen, Peter Autzen, P. Hill, A. S. Benson and F. C. Knapp, was appointed by the Commercial club board of governors to wait upon the county court in an effort to get the commissioners to give more attention to county roads in this vicinity, met the officials last week, and were successful in securing a promise that Willamette boulevard will be macadamized its full width within a short time.

Who Was Right?

To the person furnishing me the first satisfactory written answer to the following problem or question will be given a prize of 25c worth of any goods in stock.—J. M. Shaw, Groceries and Provisions, 802 N. Ivanhoe street.

While standing in front of one of Portland's sky-scrapers under construction, Mr. Skeebink said to the contractor in charge: "Are your outside walls plumb?" "Perfectly plumb," was the reply. "Then," said Mr. S., "your building is wider at the top than at the bottom."

"Impossible," said the contractor. "Go back to your goose herd, and don't ask fool questions." Who was right, and why?
Answer to last week's problem, 175 geese. Winner, Jas. O. Haynes.

THEY PLAYED CHESS.

The Loser Afterward Learned Without Asking Why He Lost.

Baron Hengelmüller, the Austrian diplomat, a man famous for his chess ability, one day at a house in Washington met a young man whose name he did not catch when the introductions were made. Chess was the topic of the conversation by all those in the company, and presently the young man suggested diffidently that he would be highly honored if the baron would play a game with him.

The baron consented. They sat down. After a few moves the baron looked up from the table checkmated and found the young man reading a paper. The chessmen were placed again and, after not so many moves as before, the baron looked up to find the young man reading the paper and himself checkmated.

After his dinner the baron came back. He wanted another game, being somewhat elated at the ease with which he had been beaten. As he came in he found the young man who had played with him that afternoon blindfolded and playing against sixteen opponents at the same time. The young man was Pillsbury.—Saturday Evening Post.

Our Sleep.

As a race we sleep too little. An infant's life is nearly all sleep. Gradually as the child grows older the hours of sleep are shortened to half the day or about eight hours. Youth until the age of twenty is reached requires fully ten hours' sleep. Although nature demands fewer hours' sleep in summer than in winter, it has been proved that eight hours of sleep are required for the average adult in good health. By this, explains the Pittsburg Dispatch, is meant not simply eight hours in bed, but that amount of good, sound, restful sleep night after night. Our power to work is intimately related to our ability to sleep, and there is no more reliable indication of sound health than the capacity to sleep naturally, and the more active and energetic the waking life the deeper the sleep.

His Light Diet.

The actor's sense of humor is always apparent. He will jest about his hard luck, his ill luck or almost anything that offers an opportunity for a joke. Generally, too, he has courage—the courage to smile when his heart is heavy. A comedian, who was known to be in desperate straits, was invited to a social gathering one evening. When the poor actor arrived he was seen to be thin and pale. He looked also as if he had not had any too much nourishment for some time. The hostess greeted him cordially.

"I am so glad to see you," she said. "How well you are looking!" "Yes," replied the comedian; "the wind has been very nutritious of late."—Saturday Evening Post.

A Kicking Deferred.

Aunt Clara to her young nephew, who has just brought a bucket into the parlor where she is sitting—Good gracious, Tommy! What are you doing with that bucket? Take it down to the kitchen at once. Tommy—I want you to kick it, Aunt Clara, 'cause I heard papa saying when you kick the bucket we'd get at the very least $25,000.

His Objection.

Mrs. Richquick—John, I want you to buy a new parlor suit. Mr. Richquick—Maria, I've been agreeable enough so far to get different clothes for morning, noon, afternoon and night, but I'm concerned if I'll change 'em every time I go into a different room.—Brooklyn Life.

Her Gain.

Mrs. Jones—Does your husband remember your wedding anniversary? Mrs. Smith—No; so I remind him of it in January and June and get two presents.—Harper's Bazar.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

The following resolutions were adopted by the Women of Woodcraft:

Whereas: The hand of death has so suddenly entered the home of our faithful neighbors and taken their beloved mother; therefore be it

Resolved: That we extend to our Neighbors Miller and Hanson our heartfelt sympathy in this, their sad hour of bereavement.

Anna Canright, Alice Weimer, Efla Beam, Hanna Vincent, Committee.

Free Ferry by Wednesday

Provoked at the dilatory tactics adopted by the county court in regard to the free ferry, Mayor Couch made it a point to call on the officials Wednesday afternoon and unburden his mind. The mayor can talk right to the point, especially so when his ire is aroused, and that he did so in this instance is evidenced by the fruit it bore. Commissioner Hart was delegated to make a visit to the ferry landing, which he did yesterday in company with Mr. Couch. As a result of the visit and the spurring of the mayor, the officials have pledged to place the old boat in commission not later than Wednesday of next week.

Prizes for Children

The boys and girls are displaying a very commendable interest in the sweet pea exhibition, and the committee has decided to offer them the following prizes: First prize for the best ten feet of mixed colors, and a second prize for the next best ten feet. They will be in a class by themselves, and there will no doubt be a very spirited rivalry among them to see who will carry off the honors. Planting time is already here and no time should be lost.

Piles Defy the Knife

The cause of their formation still remains.

One place where surgery fails to bring permanent relief is in the treatment of piles, because even when the evil tumors are cut away, the cause of their formation still remains. That cause is poor circulation. Dr. Leonard's HEM-ROID is the tablet remedy that is taken inwardly, and gets right to the inside cause.

HEM-ROID is sold by St. Johns Pharmacy and all druggists for $1. Money back if it fails. Write Dr. Leonard Co., Station B, Buffalo N. Y., for booklet.

The character social given by the Rebekahs in the Odd Fellow building Wednesday evening for the benefit of Mrs. Lee Fortune was undoubtedly the most interesting event of the year. The attendance was overflowing, the program excellent, the refreshments refreshing, the fishing game a scene of activity and enthusiasm, and the characters sustained wonderful to behold. Mrs. Edgar Murray captured the prize offered for the smallest foot. The occasion was one of merriment, and enjoyed to the fullest extent. The Rebekahs received much praise for the splendid entertainment provided. About $100 was cleared for this most worthy cause.

Mrs. J. H. Heustis of Sunnyside is a guest of her daughter, Mrs. R. McKInney.
