John Byers and family of East St. Johns have gone to Spokane, where Mr. Byers will manage the office of the Pacific Coast Extinguisher Co.
Quick automobile delivery service. Passengers taken to all points by the day or hour at reasonable prices. Trunks and baggage delivered. For prices call at the St. Johns Garage, 114 E. Burlington; phone Columbia 587.
Many property owners, who have been allowing their vacant land to remain undisturbed, are this year plowing up same and planting to 'spuds.' This is infinitely better than a huge crop of weeds.

The appointment of Henry Muck as day policeman gives general satisfaction. Mr. Muck is a genial, whole souled gentleman with a splendid physique, and possesses plenty of pluck and determination. That the laws of St. Johns will be strictly enforced while Henry is on the beat is conceded by all who know the man.

The Langley-Donaldson Co. have leased the properties and utilities of the Portland Collapsible Box Co. on Bradford street, and will push the business to a greater extent than ever before. Messrs. Langley and Donaldson are both energetic young men. New lines of work will be added from time to time, and no effort will be spared to make this concern the success it deserves to be.

Mrs. Alex. Seales is on a two weeks' visit with her parents at Toledo, Wash. She will also visit friends at Centralia and Tacoma before returning. In the meantime Alex. is enjoying all the conveniences and comforts of bachelor's distress.

An exchange states that it is passing strange how the owner of tenant property will improve and shine up a room or building for a new tenant, but will do nothing along that line for the tenant who is steady and pays his rent promptly. The embellishing is generally done after he has gone for lack of improvement and inconvenience. There is some truth in this.
Work on the immense gas plant on the west side has begun, and the foundations for structures are under way. It is said that 125 hands will constantly be employed when the plant is completed. Many more will find work during course of construction. A paint factory, it is reported, will also locate adjacent to the gas plant, as well as the oil wharves and tanks.

The Socialist columns were crowded out this week.
Shaving powder, insuring sanitation, in use at Gilmore's barber shop.
Barred Rock Roosters for sale cheap. 516 Willis boulevard. 251f

Lyceum Course Closes

John B. Ratto, impersonator, wound up the Lyceum course of the James Johns High Tuesday evening. Mr. Ratto is an artist. There was not an instant of idle time from start to finish. He is a bright, strong, well groomed young fellow, but in his change to represent the old men in his program, he seemed to shrink several size and was the ideal of the character he represented. This was particularly true of the Episcopal rector, with his holy horror of the brutal foot ball game. He was back at his Alma Mater on a visit to his son, who was a crack player in the hotly contested game. There were but three minutes more to play, the game stood a tie, his son secured the ball and was making the run of his life, the strain was too great for the dignity of the cloth. How he rooted for his boy as he flew toward the goal, bowling over his opponents as they attempted to tackle him, how his heart seemed to stop as his son went down, and how he was electrified when he freed himself and went over the line, making a touchdown winning the game, can be appreciated only by those who have played the great game and realized the thrilling experience of those critical periods. The man of 60 became a boy again, dignity was thrown to the winds, off came his dinky little black hat and as he cheered for his boy who had won the great game for his Alma Mater by his brilliant play. Mr. Ratto's impersonation of the Irish Justice, the school boy and girl making their first recitations, in fact, all his program was particularly well presented. All the paraphernalia was on a table before the audience and without removing a garment, as he described the character he made up the subject, and so successfully that we believe his own mother would have failed to recognize him in most instances.

The entire course has proved an unqualified success, and much appreciated by the people of St. Johns. Another course is being arranged for the fall and winter season, which is claimed to be even better than the one just closed.

Stephen Randolph was made custodian of the city dock at a salary of $10 a month.

Edward McLean was made general utility man with street inspecting a specialty at a salary of $75 per month. Ed is a good one.

Ed. L. Stockton stated in view of the fact that the Review had reduced the rate of city advertising he would not press the bid of the Telegram; in fact believed the Review was entitled to the printing since the rate was not exorbitant, and in view of the fact that it had done good work for St. Johns. He believed in home institutions receiving home patronage, he said, and recommended that the Review continue to be the city official paper, which it has been since November 7, 1904, when Councilman Monahan offered a resolution that it be made the official paper, and was unanimously adopted. Several of the councilmen stated that the Review was entitled to it, and none made any objection, and it was the sense of the dads that if the Review had never been legally made the official paper it would be done at the next meeting.

We desire to express our sincere thanks to our friends for their manifestations of their love and sympathy during the illness and death of our dear mother, and particularly to those who rendered us such valuable assistance during this time of sorrow.
