It is now well known that not more than one case of rheumatism in ten requires any internal treatment whatever. All that is needed is a free application of Chamberlain's Liniment and massaging the parts at each application. Try it and see how quickly it will relieve the pain and soreness. Sold by all dealers.

A school election will be held June 17th for the purpose of electing one school director. The term A. M. Stearns, who has made a most efficient director, terminates, and stress of other business forbids him longer to serve in this capacity. S. W. Rogers has been appointed to fill the vacancy on the board caused by the resignation of Gilbert Goodhue, and John N. Edleson to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Frank L. Test. Both selections are eminently satisfactory to the people of St. Johns. Dr. A. W. Vincent is being advanced for election by a number of his friends. A better choice would be difficult to make.

Worthy Appointments

At the recent session of the Oregon Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. held at Pendleton, Pascal Hill was re-appointed as lodge deputy for the present lodge year, which is a compliment to his efficient work the year previous. In the Rebekah Assembly, of the state, St. Johns was honored in being given one of the selections for the State Assembly officers, Mrs. Hattie McKinney having been chosen Marshal, which is a deserved compliment to an active member of the order and an estimable lady not alone at home but throughout the entire state jurisdiction. She will fill the position with credit and ability and her friends claim this places her in line for advancement for still further honors which it is hoped and believed will be the case.

Smith-Graden

Ida May Smith and Charles L. Graden were united in marriage Tuesday evening of this week, J. R. Johnson, pastor of the Christian church of this city, officiating. The ceremony was performed at their future home on Olympia street near Oswego street, which the groom had recently finished and comfortably furnished. The bride is one St. Johns' most attractive young ladies, having resided in the city the past three years. The groom is very highly respected among his numerous friends. He is now employed as credit man for one of Portland's largest department stores. Only the very nearest friends and relatives of the couple were in attendance at the wedding.

High School Notes

The Senior dinner given Saturday night at Dan's in honor of the faculty was a particularly enjoyable occasion. The table decorations of pink carnations and crepe tissue paper made a pretty setting for the full-rigged sailing vessel, which suggested the class motto: "Tonight we launch; where shall we anchor?" The dinner itself was one to tempt and please an epicure, from the introductory salad to the happy climax of lemon ice. But the part of the evening's program that will be longest remembered by those entertained, was that which came between the courses of the dinner. Responding to the Toastmaster's gracefully worded calls, different members of the class gave appropriate toasts. Especially clever numbers were: Miss Stucker's "Ancient MS." poem, reciting the his-nor can we see these celebrities without a telescope.

We are lost in pity for the unhappy seniors, for leaving James John must seem like departing from home; and, as we look forward to our own graduation, we regard it, not with longing, but with a sense of dread—for think of the orations!

A Surprise Party

A genuine surprise party was accorded Forrest Hill by a number of his young friends Wednesday evening (that date being the 17th anniversary of his birth) at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Hill on North Jersey street. The evening was pleasantly spent with music and games. Gordon Goodhue and Beulah Beam won prizes in an ingenious game of moulding animals out of gum.

tory of the class of '12, and Miss Canright's prophetic vision of the future in store for those of the party.

Just before departing for their homes, the company joined in a toast to the Seniors, wishing for them a safe voyage over seas rough and smooth.

Our athletes have broken training, and so, since it becomes no High school student to be idle, they sit on the steps and play "Jacks," meanwhile the girls play ball on the front sidewalk. The latter claim that this is proof of the superiority of woman, but the boys explain that they are merely resting.

It is possible that after last week's experience, the science teacher's "if you haven't your lesson you needn't come to class," won't be taken so literally.

Practically nothing has happened the past week besides the senior meetings, but we are persuaded that their importance more than makes up the lack of other events. We would be pleased to report them but are prevented from doing so because we cannot approach within hearing distance without a balloon.

Mrs. R. H. Richards assisted the hostess in serving punch, and Dr. Schnautfer, sister of Mr. Hill, in serving ice cream, strawberries and cake. Those present were:

Misses Lucile Whelan, Riffie McDonald, Ethel Coupe, Gladys Palmer, Violet Dimch, Marcella Richards, Beulah Beam, Hazel H. Hubbard, Helen Hill, Mrs. R. H. Richards, Dr. Ella Hill Schnautfer; Messrs. Ralph Carlson, Wilbur M. Bellinger, Thomas L. Cochran, M. M. Dickie, Arlington Nolan, Gordon Goodhue, Arkie Anderson, Forrest Hill, Dorsey Hill.

Eleanor Smith passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. H. Evans in St. Johns, Saturday, June 15th, 1912, at 5 a. m. Obituary notice next week.

The Laurelwood Rebekah Lodge and the Oregon Grape Circle 551 perpetrated a surprise on Mrs. Anna Hathaway on the evening of May 22. Mrs. Hathaway has been a valuable member of both lodges, and all are sorry to have her leave. They will make their home at Ritter, Oregon.
