Gangs of workmen are busily engaged in widening the North Bank cut and depositing the earth around the trestle work on the west side of the river. Whether or not Brother Hill has something up his sleeve other than indications as they appear has not been disclosed.

Charles Asper, the smiling whisker amputator, and wife have been taking in the sights and scenes of Hood River, the apple city, during the past week. Geo. M. Hall, the veteran razor wielder and pioneer barber of St. Johns, presided over Charles' chair with his usual skill and good natured smile during his absence.

D. J. Horsman, who attended the G. A. R. National Encampment at Los Angeles, reports the best time almost in his life. He stopped off at Salem on his way back to see Mrs. Horsman, who has been in a sanatorium there. He found her in good spirits and much improved health. She expects to soon return to St. Johns, which is pleasing news to her many friends here.

The Portland Floral Society will stand sponsor for a number of flower shows each year. A chrysanthemum display will be the first of the series and will occur in November. Another show of flowers is planned for next spring and in the late summer a dahlias show will probably be held.

With 20 per cent. increase over the grain crop of last year, the Pacific Northwest states have their granaries full to the bursting point and the railroads are hustling to furnish cars enough to haul the grain to market. Receipts in the Portland yards already aggregate 800 carloads more than for a like period last year and the movement continues heavy.

E. C. Hurlbert and family left Tuesday evening for San Diego, Cal., where they will make their future home. They have many warm friends in St. Johns who wish them all the happiness and prosperity the South affords. Ed. is a man whose optimistic and cheerful disposition gains him friends readily and easily, and his removal is a matter of regret.

C. N. McLean, said to be the only living man in the world with a broken neck able to be about, has been spending the past week in St. Johns. He fell from a scaffold while working as a painter several years ago, breaking his neck, but seems to get around now almost as well as the ordinary individual. He is on a tour of the world and in visiting the principal cities of interest in Uncle Sam's domain could not consistently pass up St. Johns.

That Crater Lake is the greatest scenic wonder in America was the decision of the party of 70 noted scientists who have just visited Oregon. They were amazed at the spectacle and as a result of their visit this great attraction will be widely advertised throughout the whole world. Hundreds of photographs were made of the lake, and as many foreign geographers of note were in the party, pictures of Oregon's great scenic feature will appear in many scientific magazines of the world.

There seems to be a scarcity of workmen in and around St. Johns at present. It is with great difficulty that street contractors can secure enough laborers to complete their contracts on time. One contractor states that he is paying $3 per day, and yet has difficulty in keeping enough men. The hop and harvest fields have made quite a drain on local labor.

Eastern capital is seeking investment in Oregon timber. It is stated on good authority that over $12,000,000 has been invested in Oregon timber bonds since January 1. These bonds are now said to be in favor with Eastern investors and the ability to realize on standing timber by the bonding method has proved of benefit to the Pacific Northwest.

The body of Frank Kelsey, who was drowned in the Willamette on the 19th of this month, was recovered last Tuesday about the same place where he drowned and held at the undertaking parlors of Blackburn, Chambers & Lowrey, awaiting instructions from his brothers in California. The interment was at Rose City Cemetery, Wednesday Sept. 25. Rev. Patton officiating.

The Bachelor club gave another of its splendid and hugely enjoyable dances in the rink last evening. The attendance was large and everything passed off in the usual high class and enjoyable manner.

Albert J. Kubus has returned from an extended trip to Lewistown, Montana. He is so pleased with that part of the globe that he has purchased a goodly lot of land and will move to his new possession at once.

Rev. O. C. Wright, general secretary of the Baptist Convention, paid a visit to St. Johns last Tuesday and attended conference meeting with the officers and workers of the Baptist church. Rev. Wright was until recently the chaplain of Washington State Reformatory.

C. B. McCracken brought into this office yesterday the largest stalk of corn we have ever seen in Oregon. It measured twelve feet from top to bottom and was grown on his lot at 723 Gilbert street. It contained five ears, being almost seven feet to the ears, and it would almost require an air ship to garner a crop from such stalks. Mr. McCracken states that he has resided for sixty years in Oregon, and never before had he seen such corn.
