Mrs. Weeks entertained the Debonair club at a beautifully appointed Valentine luncheon at two o'clock Thursday afternoon. The rooms were beautifully decorated in hearts and cupid and the tables were lovely with Oregon grape and red and white carnations. The place cards carried out the Valentine idea. Those present did full justice to the good things provided by Mrs. Weeks and hope to be invited again soon.

According to the report of the Oregon Conservative Commission, this state has 545,000,000 feet of standing timber, or one-fifth that of the United States. Unused water power in Oregon streams is capable of producing 2,300,000 electric horsepower. 2,000,000 acres of this state can be irrigated at a cost of $30 to $60 per acre, making the land worth, when irrigated, from $100 to $500 per acre. The report outlines in a comprehensive way Oregon's many dormant resources.

On last Tuesday eve the 11th one of the most promising classes of the First Christian church, St. Johns Sunday School, the loyal friends (young married ladies) met at the home of one of their members, Mrs. James Kelley on Oswego street, with their husbands and friends to the number of about 45. The class colors, green and white, pervaded in everything. Bible and other games were played, among them the measuring of those present with a minimum charge of one cent a foot and one cent per inch over the last foot in height, causing the shorter in stature and even footers to have some of the advantages over the taller, causing considerable amusement. Last but not least, the refreshments showed the art and skill of the young married ladies that would cause our bachelor friends to sit up and take notice. xx
